AXIS MASSES TANK ARMY FOR DRIVE ON EGYPT

Clashes with British Units Near Border.

CAIRO, Egypt, June 22 (AP).—The axis tanks and motorized infantry which hammered Tobruk into submission in two days of storm were massed tonight for assault on Egypt, barely 12 miles northwest of the border fort of Capuzzo.

British and German mobile columns already had clashed in the region of Sidi Azeiz, where, a royal air force communique disclosed, "large numbers" of enemy transport vehicles, presumably carrying troops, were under attack by fighter-bombers and American-made Boston bombers of the South African air force.

The armored fight about Sidi Azeiz was joined when British units, which had been outside the Tobruk perimeter when it fell, got away to the south, then cut eastward to the new British line on the Egyptian frontier.

May Not Pause for Rest.

The danger to Egypt was increasing as succeeding communiques showed that German Marshal Erwin Rommel intends to strike now at the frontier without pausing for rest and equipment.

There were indications that only a few of the British, South African, and Indian troops making up the Tobruk garrison had escaped the enemy.

Four vessels with supplies escaped from the harbor while it was under shell fire and air attack, and some troops reached the British border lines after making their way thru enemy formations, but their numbers are not large.

[A British broadcast said there was no question of embarking troops and that destruction of most of the British motor transport made any large break-thru by land impossible.]

British Hold Escarpment.

The British still hold the top of the escarpment which rises 700 feet above Sollum and Capuzzo near the frontier.

Axis forces seized a recently built extension of the desert railway to a point south of Tobruk. Some of this, however, was destroyed by the British troops.

The RAF announced that British torpedo bombers scored hits on two large freighters and one escort vessel in an attack on an axis Mediterranean convoy yesterday. The convoy was attacked south of Cape Bon, Tunisia, on the route between Libya and Sicily.

Malta Downs 10 Planes.

VALETTA, Malta, June 22 (AP).—Ten enemy planes were destroyed over Malta today and last night, two British communiques disclosed today. Others were damaged.

Promises More South Africans.

New York, June 22 (AP).—Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts, premier of the Union of South Africa, announced today that, altho "substantial numbers" of South African troops were captured at Tobruk, most of the force from South Africa remained intact and ready to help hold Egypt, a British broadcast heard here said today. Smuts also promised South Africa will provide reënforcements.

Germans Attack Vessels.

BERLIN, June 22 [From German Broadcasts] (AP).—A German motor torpedo boat flotilla attacked a formation of small British coastal craft and freighters fleeing from Tobruk yesterday morning and completely destroyed it, the German high command declared today.

One patrol boat, six coastal craft, and one freighter of 4,500 tons were sunk, three other coastal craft captured, and 175 men taken prisoner, the communique reported. Already a German mine sweeping flotilla has entered Tobruk harbor, it was said.

The German command said the number of prisoners taken at Tobruk, previously reported to be 25,000, had been increased to 28,000.

Italians Tell of Booty.

ROME, June 22 [From Italian Broadcasts] (AP).—Booty captured by axis forces at Tobruk included 100 tanks, several hundred guns, and hundreds of motor vehicles, the Italian high command reported today. The figures were said to be only initial estimates. The commander of Tobruk fortress and five other generals also were captured. The axis air forces bombed the Egyptian coast between Sidi Barrani and Fuka.

HERE'S SUMMARY OF THE FIGHTING ON MAIN FRONTS

War's latest developments:

The Russians acknowledged that the defenders of Sevastopol, Black sea naval base, had been forced to fall back in two sectors. The Moscow communique also admitted that the Nazis had renewed their offensive on the Kharkov front, 400 miles north of Sevastopol. The Germans reported hand-to-hand street fighting in the shipbuilding sector of Sevastopol.

Chinese Assault Japs.

The Chinese announced their troops were assaulting two railway towns along the Japanese supply line thru Chekiang province. A communique said the Japanese were stopped for six days in their attempt to seize the last 50 miles of the railway line remaining in Chinese hands.

The British admiralty said a German supply ship was torpedoed and a patrol vessel was left burning in clashes between torpedo boats in the English channel and in the North sea. The Nazis said three British "motor torpedo boats" were sunk by German mine sweepers.

Mass for Drive on Egypt.

From Cairo, Egypt, came a British statement that axis tanks and motorized infantry were mobilized for an assault on Egypt following the fall of Tobruk, vital Libyan port. Axis troops were reported to be 12 miles northwest of the border fort of Capuzzo. British and German mobile columns already had clashed in the region of Sidi Azeiz.

How a U.S. Sub Saved Aussie Flyers in Timor

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—An officer of a United States submarine in the southwest Pacific recently swam ashore on a Japanese occupied island, located a group of stranded Australian flyers, and arranged their transfer to the submarine which removed them to safety, the navy disclosed today.

The story was told in an announcement of the award of the navy cross for heroism to Ensign George Carlton Cook, 24 years old, a reserve officer of Hy-Gate, Marblehead Rock, Mass. The submarine commander, who took his vessel thru Japanese patrols successfully, was also decorated with the navy cross. He is Lieut. Hiram Cassedy, 33, of Brookhaven, Miss.

Airmen Stranded on Timor.

The fever ridden airmen, the navy said, were stranded on Timor in the Netherlands East Indies when the Japanese occupied that island. Aware that the Japanese were searching for the men, Vice Admiral H. F. Leary of the United States navy, commander of the allied naval forces in the southwest Pacific area, directed that they be evacuated and Lieut. Cassedy's vessel was assigned to the task.

"Despite enemy patrol craft ranging the shore, his ship slipped thru the cordon undetected and arrived at the island on a night in April," the navy related.

Saves Two from Drowning.

"Ensign Cook swam ashore and after difficulty and at great personal risk made contact with the Australians.

"He returned to his ship for a rescue party, then led it ashore in a boat and superintended the transfer of the sick to his vessel, saving two from drowning en route.

"Lieut. Cassedy then took his ship past Japanese patrols and carried the aviators to a point of safety."

SHIP ESCORTED BY NAVY IS SUNK NEAR VIRGINIA

26 Lost in Atlantic Waters in Week.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 22.—Announcement of the 26th sinking of a merchant ship in American waters within the last week was coupled with an official navy department statement tonight that the navy has been convoying merchant vessels along the Atlantic coast for about a month.

The navy added the week's 26th victim to the toll of enemy action when it announced tonight that a medium sized American merchant ship, proceeding with a convoy under the protection of naval vessels, was sunk off the Virginia coast on June 17 by "an underwater explosion, presumably caused by an enemy mine."

The navy had previously attributed the sinking of one merchant ship and damaging of another off the Virginia shore on June 16 to mines laid by axis submaries.

Total Toll Raised to 291.

Today's announcement brought the total of announced merchant ship sinkings in American waters from Canada to South America, inclusive, since the beginning of axis submarine warfare in the western Atlantic early in January to 291.

Official information regarding the convoying operations was limited to the following announcement:

"The navy has been convoying merchant ships thru the lanes of the eastern sea frontier for approximately the past 30 days." The eastern sea frontier extends from Maine to Florida.

While sinkings in American waters have actually increased during the last month, most of the losses in recent weeks have occurred in the Caribbean area and the Gulf of Mexico, where convoying has not been started, according to unofficial reports.

Losses in the western Atlantic have continued during the last month, but they have decreased sharply in the shipping lanes immediately off the coast, it is understood. It could not be learned whether any ships in convoy have been sunk by submarine action.

19 from Maine to Florida.

Of the 151 merchant vessels sunk in the western Atlantic between Maine and Florida since the beginning of the war, however, at least 19 have been lost since the beginning of convoying. That is the number sunk so far in June. Losses for previous months in the Atlantic coastal area were 31 in May, 39 in April, and 62 for the months of January, February, and March. A total of 22 ships have been lost in the Gulf of Mexico and 82 have been sunk in the Caribbean area. Including 36 sunk in Canadian waters, the toll of axis raiders is 291.

TOWN SHUT DOWN OVER ONE PICKET

Chester, Ill., Merchants Close in Protest.

Chester, Ill., June 22 [Special].—Nearly all stores in this city of 5,000 closed today in protest of the picketing of a grocery by an organizer of the American Federation of Labor clerks' union after failure to reach a contract agreement.

Arrow locates scene of store closing.

Virtually the only business places remaining open were taverns, drug stores, and restaurants. About 65 stores, including all groceries, hardware stores and most clothing stores, were closed. The merchants themselves picketed two stores in an outlying district whose owners did not close.

The business holiday forced Chester housewives to delve into food reserves on pantry shelves and aroused the ire of farmers who had driven to town to shop. An indignation meeting of consumers was said to be planned for tomorrow.

Woe for Relief Families.

About 75 families on relief in Chester today received food stamps from the Randolph county relief organization but found no place to use them. The last previous stamps were issued June 5, and the families' larders were badly in need of replenishing. An average family of three members receives about $27 in stamps at each issue.

As shoppers began driving to other towns to do their buying, the merchants of two nearby towns—Steelville, 10 miles east of here, and Ellis Grove, six miles north, offered to close their stores but were advised to postpone such action.

The mass closing here was directed by Ralph Hirsch, chairman of the Chester Merchants' Union association, after one grocery—the Tom Boy market—apparently selected at random, had been picketed Friday, Saturday and today by Paul Jones, East St. Louis, Ill., organizer of the Clerks' International union.

The picketing and closing climaxed a three week period of negotiations over a contract between clerks and merchants in this city, which is almost free of unions. Hirsch said that only 16 of the city's 50 clerks belong to the union.

Quote Disputed Clause.

On May 25 the merchants' association and union representatives, including an international organizer who was Jones' predecessor, verbally agreed upon a contract under the supervision of a department of labor conciliator. However, the proposed contract was rejected by the international union and the organizer fired, it was said, because the agreement included an "anti-coercion" clause.

"The company and the union," this clause read, "recognize and will not interfere with the right of employés to become or to refrain from becoming members of the union, nor will either one commit any act of coercion, intimidation or discrimination against employés who are or are not members of local 328."

The merchants declared emphatically that they would not coerce their employés into joining the union, and the union representatives declared they would picket stores if the clause were not eliminated. The picketing and closing followed, with both sides remaining adamant.

5,000 War Plant Workers Add Up to Political Puzzle

BY PERCY WOOD.

Dixon, Ill., June 22. [Special].—Either Republicans in this longtime G. O. P. stronghold are seeing Democratic ghosts under their beds, or the Democrats—much in the minority out this way—really did put one over when the $25,000,000 Green river ordnance plant was approved by the war department and construction begun on an 8,300 acre tract near Amboy.

Whatever the case, Dixon is full of rumors and speculation over the potential political leanings of some 5,000 persons—most of them new to this community—who are building the shell loading depot. When their work is done, the Stewart-Warner corporation of Chicago will operate the plant with perhaps as many as 9,000 employés. Dixon had about 10,700 residents in the 1940 census, so the prospect is that the town and environs will about double their population.

The First Manifestations.

No matter what the Democrats say, Republicans, in open or private conversation, are suspicious that their opponents are up to a scheme to turn Lee county from the Republican standard and swing it into the Democratic column, and they wouldn't be surprised to see the first manifestations in the November election.

Plant records haven't been available yet, so it is not possible to determine where the newcomers hail from, but there are hundreds of Michigan license plates on cars in the streets of Dixon and near the plant, and three of the subcontractors on the project are Michigan firms. And there are also hundreds of strange cars with Illinois license plates. Reports are they come from the southern part of the state.

The men from Michigan can't vote here in November, since they can't satisfy the one year residence provision of the law, but the strange Illinoisans could, if they had lived here for three months prior to election.

Reporter Looks for Work.

A few days ago, under the guise of a jobseeker, a Tribune reporter drove to the plant, to be stopped near the entrance and asked to state his business. The reporter said he had just lost his office job in Chicago and was looking for work. What kind of work? The caller said he used to be a carpenter and wanted to do that, since he'd like being outdoors.

"Well, you've got to go back to Dixon first and join the union," he was told. "That'll cost you $26."

"But what if I only get a couple of weeks' work?" the caller asked.

"Get a letter from some politician," was the advice.

"I'm a Republican," the caller offered.

"Don't tell 'em you're a Republican, and don't say you're from Chicago," he was advised. "I'm a Republican myself, but out here I'm a Democrat."

Harry C. Warner, veteran Republican county chairman, musing over the situation today, said he had "wondered if this influx of Michigan and southern Illinois workers isn't a political trick."

"But if it is," he added, "I can't understand why they didn't pick a

VOWS BATTLEFRONT HELP; AGREES WITH CHURCHILL

New York, June 22 (AP).—Harry Hopkins, speaking at a Russian war relief rally, said tonight President Roosevelt told him to tell the meeting the United States would give Russia aid on the battlefield and that the Russian front would not fail.

Asserting that he had spoken to Mr. Roosevelt a few hours before coming to New York while the President and Prime Minister Winston Churchill were talking "about strategic steps to be taken," Hopkins said the President gave him this message to deliver:

"Tell them that we mean to give Russia aid on the field of battle and that our armed forces will attack at the right time and at the right place and that the Russian front will not fail."

Promises 3 or 4 Fronts.

Hopkins said a second front, and if necessary a third and a fourth front, would be established to pen up Hitler's armies while the allied air forces destroyed his cities, one by one.

"The American people have made up their minds," the lend-lease administrator and close adviser of the President said. "Nothing can stop the onward march to overwhelming military victory."

Warns of Dark Days.

As for Hitler's other major ally, Japan, Hopkins said the battles of the Coral sea and Midway were "preludes to the inevitable disaster that awaits Tojo [the Japanese premier] and his cruel military dictatorship.

"Every Japanese soldier will be swept out of China, and Manchuria, and Corea, and China will live again—a free country guiding its own destiny."

Hopkins cautioned, however, that there would be defeats and dark days before victory.

Russia and the Russian army, he said, "are in danger—just as they have been in danger for the last 365 days." Calling that front the "most important strategic" one in the world, Hopkins said more aid must and would be given the Red army.

FROG CHEERS UP; PROMISED BRIDE TO CROAK ABOUT

Radwill, a lonesome bullfrog, was looking slightly more cheerful yesterday in the Brookfield zoo, where Robert Bean, assistant director, promised he soon will have a mate. Radwill was given to the zoo by Peter Radwill, 2521 56th avenue, Cicero, his owner for seven years. Radwill [the frog] who will hop hopefully toward any one calling him by name, lost his mate [she deserted him] about three months ago and he became so dejected that Radwill [the man] gave him to the zoo. Director Bean said he is a member of the Rana catesbiana species, is about 3½ inches high, 6 inches long, and plenty wide, and can jump distances that would make Mark Twain's famous Jumping Frog of Calaveras County turn even greener with envy.

TIME SPENT ON PEACE PLANS NOW ASSAILED BY RUSSIAN OFFICIAL

Excessive time spent now by Washington burocrats working out plans for peace was criticized yesterday by Vladimir Bazykin, first secretary of the soviet embassy in Washington. Bazykin, speaking at a luncheon of the Russian War Relief society in the University club, said the soviet government's primary aim is to win the war. Elaborate peace programs, such as have been suggested by some Washington officials, should not be considered until Hitlerism has been crushed, Bazykin said. The secretary said his government was sure "satisfactory" postwar agreements could be negotiated with the United States, England, and other united nations.

Accord with Britain Calls for All-Out Attack on Foe.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 22.—In the darkest hour for the allied cause since the beginning of the war, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain tonight announced progress in their deliberations on plans to turn the tide against the enemy.

They made what Stephen T. Early, secretary to the President, called an intermediate report pending the conclusion of the conferences when a final public statement will be made. The joint statement of the President and prime minister, which also disclosed for the first time that the conferences are taking place in Washington, dealt vaguely and in generalities with the momentous war projects under consideration.

3 Bits of Information.

From the shadows of the official verbiage, however, there loomed forth these three nuggets of information.

1. Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill are developing plans for the "maximum concentration of allied power upon the enemy," which presumably has reference to the opening of a second front against Hitler thru the invasion of the European continent and possibly to American reënforcement of the hard pressed British in Egypt and the near east.

2. Additional measures to expand and speed up the production of arms and mobilization of armed forces and other resources of the united nations at all strategic points are being taken.

3. The technical staff accompanying Mr. Churchill has settled, in negotiation with Mr. Roosevelt's technical advisers, numerous questions of procedure to facilitate the common effort.

Text of Statement.

The text of the joint statement of the President and the prime minister follows:

"The President and the prime minister, assisted by high naval, military, and air authorities, are continuing at Washington the series of conversations and conferences which began on Friday last. The object in view is the earliest maximum concentration of allied war power upon the enemy, and reviewing or, where necessary, further concerting all the measures which have for some time past been on foot to develop and sustain the effort of the united nations.

Harmony Is Complete.

"It would naturally be impossible to give any account of the course of the discussions, and unofficial statements about them can be no more than surmise. Complete understanding and harmony existing between all concerned in facing the vast and grave tasks which lie ahead. A number of outstanding points of detail which it would have been difficult to settle by correspondence have been adjusted by the technical officers after consultation with the President and the prime minister."

For both the British and American chiefs of state the situation is reminiscent of the circumstances surrounding their conferences in Washington last December. Mr. Churchill started for Washington right after the United States had sustained at Pearl Harbor the greatest military disaster in its history.

As Japanese planes sank the British battleships Prince of Wales and Repulse off Malaya and the Japs continued their irresistible drive on Singapore the Churchill ministry was shaken by a tornado of criticism in and out of parliament.

AEF Saved Churchill.

When he returned to England the prime minister was able to announce in parliament the arrival of American troops in Northern Ireland as a token of the great AEF that eventually would invade the European continent to conquer Hitler. That accomplishment allayed the criticism of the prime minister to such an extent that he won a vote of confidence despite the reverses to British arms for which he was being blamed.

Again a storm of condemnation of the Churchill government for the Libyan disaster is sweeping England while the prime minister is in Washington debating plans for wresting victory from defeat. Again the fate of his government may turn upon what new projects, commitments and assurances Mr. Churchill is able to carry back to parliament from his conferences with the President.

SEA OTTER SHIPS, PLANNED TO FOIL SUBS, PASS TEST

Lend-Lease Officials to Build Several.

Washington, D. C., June 22 [Special].—The revolutionary cargo vessel, the Sea Otter, development of which was allegedly retarded by the navy department and maritime commission, returned triumphantly to the war shipping picture today.

Sen. Ralph O. Brewster [R., Me.], member of a senate naval affairs subcommittee which has been demanding "full and fair consideration" for the experimental ship, hailed last fall as an answer to the submarine menace, announced a new Sea Otter design has proved satisfactory in tests.

Several of these vessels will be built immediately by lend-lease authorities for coastwise and South American trade, Sen. Brewster said. He did not explain why construction of the ships had been taken over by lend-lease authorities or why they would not be used for trans-Atlantic shipping.

Uses Outboard Motor Principle.

The Sea Otter is a seagoing development of the outboard motor principle. Its proponents say its draft is so shallow that torpedoes could not harm it, while its construction is adaptable to mass production.

The design, originated by Comm. Hamilton Bryan, a retired naval officer, got widespread attention last fall when the navy department gave out a glowing report of its possibilities. A government corporation with Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox as president was formed to develop the Sea Otter, and a ship was completed in 90 days.

Altho the trial ship was given tests about the time of the attack on Pearl Harbor, little more was heard of the project until the naval affairs subcommittee charged in March that Secretary Knox and other high officials of the navy were doing their utmost to block Sea Otter production.

Knox Turns Down Plans.

Knox said the experimental ship had proved disappointing. The draft was deeper than originally planned and construction costs were $400,000 instead of $100,000, he declared.

In a report to the full naval affairs committee in April, the subcommittee asserted that "it is apparent to the subcommittee that certain governmental agents in both the navy department and the maritime commission had preconceived convictions against any value in this type of construction."

Ship Builder One of Opponents.

Chief opponents of the Sea Otter in the navy department, according to the senate investigators, have been Secretary Knox, Rear Adm. Samuel M. Robinson, chief of the bureau of ships, and Joseph W. Powell, special assistant to the secretary of the navy. Powell, who was brought into the navy department by Knox, was vice president and operating manager of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation during the first world war.

The recent experiments which have resulted in production of a ship regarded as satisfactory were decided on partly at the insistence of the subcommittee. The designer, Comm. Bryan, who had nothing to do with construction of the first experimental ship, has been in charge of the new experiments.

MARINES ENLIST 48 YANKS FROM CANADIAN ARMY

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—Forty-eight United States citizens who served in the Canadian army or air force have returned to the armed forces of their own country by being commissioned in the marine corps reserve.

Announcing this today, marine headquarters said that these officers decided to join American forces as the result of the efforts of a Canadian American naval mission which toured Canada recently.

The new marine officers, most of whom are aviators, have been sent to Corpus Christi, Tex., and Quantico, Va., for indoctrination. They were:

Capt. Harry William Reed, 7659 South Morgan street, Chicago.

Two Army Flyers Killed by Crash in Venezuela Lake

CARACAS, Venezuela, June 22 (AP).—Two United States army pilots were killed today when their plane failed to pull out of a power dive over Lake Valencia. Lieut. P. P. Carter and Sergt. K. G. Anderson were demonstrating dive bombing to Venezuelan cadets. Their bodies have not been recovered.

Recruiting Progress

City Almost Certain to Beat Recruit Quota.

The blacker the headlines, the longer the lines of naval recruits. That is an axiom of Lieut. David N. Goldenson, naval recruiting officer in Chicago.

The corridors of the seventh floor of the old postoffice building were crowded yesterday with hundreds of men from 17 to 51 years old who waited patiently to join. Down on the street newsboys were yelling the headlines of new military reverses.

Want Active Duty in a Hurry.

As Lieut. Goldenson put it, "The men come in here fighting mad and almost to a man, ask my recruiting officers how they may get on active duty immediately."

By noon yesterday the navy's drive for 10,000 recruits from the Chicago area by July 4th was brought to 6,296, and it was almost certain that the June quota would be surpassed.

One of the men in yesterday's lines was Lloyd J. Miller, 50 years old, 5950 South Keller avenue, who served as a flying sergeant in the army air force in the World war. He has a son, 15, and a daughter, 17.

"I've been trying to get in for a month and I've finally made it," he said. "I flew with Eddie Rickenbacker last time. This time I'm going in the navy as a motor specialist and this time we're going to finish the job."

Way to Get an Education.

John Werden, 25, of 3358 Walnut street, is joining the navy because it's one way to further his education. He's single and has been working as a railway clerk. "I hope to get a yeoman's rating and get more clerical training," he said.

Robert McGovern, 25, of 306½ Madison street, Oak Park, father of three children, said: "I want to do something for my country and I figure that the navy is the best service to do it in."

Harold Scholz, 37, Aurora, who has been working as a welder, said, "The navy is the one service where I can use my skill as a welder to the best advantage."

Basilio Lucero, 37, of 2001 Madison street, a laborer, had another reason. He was born in the Philippine Islands and all his relatives were there before the Japs came. Choosing his words carefully, he said:

"I want to help win war. I want very much to help take the islands back from the Japs. That's why I join the navy."

U-BOATS SINK 2 MORE VESSELS IN SOUTH ATLANTIC

BELEM, Brazil, June 22 (AP).—The torpedo sinking of the 4,954 ton United States ship Columbian and the Panamanian ship Cardinas were reported here tonight. The Columbian was reported attacked in the south Atlantic.

Thirty-four survivors of the Cardinas arriving today at Port Salinas, Para state, said their ship was sunk by an Italian submarine. This ship first was identified as the Argentine owned Cardenas. [Neither a Cardinas nor a Cardenas is listed in Lloyd's Register].

Argentine Ship Sunk.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 22 (AP). — Foreign minister Enrique Ruiz Guinazu announced tonight the sinking of the 4,800 ton Argentine freighter Rio Tercero, but said he did not know whether it had been torpedoed or had struck a mine. He said he believed the entire crew had been rescued.

Officials said the vessel was 120 miles out of New York when she went down. She had left New York yesterday.

The freighter was the former Italian ship Fortunstella and was taken over by Argentina when war broke out. This was the third Argentine ship casualty since war started.

ELECTRICIAN DIES AT WORK.

Max Lutz, an electrician, died at his work in the yards of the Indiana Harbor Belt Railroad, 25th and Armitage avenues, Franklin Park, yesterday. He was found hanging from an electric pole and police believe he suffered either a shock or a heart attack.

CONVOYS USED IN U-BOAT SIEGE OF EAST COAST

26th Craft Sunk in Week by Enemy Action.

told a senate naval affairs subcommittee on June 10 that the navy had made great progress in combating the submarine menace and that during the previous two weeks there had been no sinkings within 50 miles of the Atlantic coast. This record presumably was the result of convoying along the eastern seaboard.

Knox Boast Recalled.

Six days later, when one merchant ship was sunk and another damaged in what was described as a brazen submarine attack within view of thousands of persons at a Virginia beach resort, Secretary Knox's boast was the subject of sardonic comment in congress. The navy announced on Saturday, however, that mines and not torpedoes had caused the explosions which sent patrol planes, a navy blimp, and half a dozen surface warships into action looking for a submarine.

Knox and the admirals charged with counteracting the submarine menace have been assailed by members of the naval affairs committees for refusing to utilize all available air and surface craft, both publicly and privately owned, in the war against the axis raiders. The navy has rejected a fast 72-foot motor torpedo boat, powered by a gasoline engine, which could be produced by one company at the rate of three a day. It is building large quantities of slower, 110 foot and 173 foot patrol boats powered by Diesel engines, which constitute a serious bottleneck in war production.

'NINE MINES SWEPT UP'

AN EAST COAST PORT, June 22 (AP).—More evidence that axis submarines are sowing mines in waters close to the Atlantic coast was seen today in the stories of survivors of a large American cargo ship who said their vessel turned over and sank in three minutes after striking a mine Wednesday.

Third mate Irving C. Leetz, one of 44 survivors landed here after their rescue by several small craft, told newsmen he learned from the crew of his rescue vessel that nine mines had been swept up the day before his ship was blasted to the bottom.

Three men were missing after the explosion. They were H. W. Kelly and Emerson H. Church, messmen, and Vasil Papathanas, fireman, all of Baltimore. The survivors included a nine man navy gun crew. Capt. Eric Nyborg of Baltimore, and First Mate D. M. Bailie of New York, were hospitalized here for treatment of leg injuries.

No Time to Launch Boats.

Leetz said the ship struck the mine amidship on her port side and after a terrific explosion turned over so quickly there was no time to launch lifeboats. The crew leaped overboard. "The men were in the water swimming like rats," he related. Some pulled themselves aboard life rafts that had been thrown overboard; others clung to wreckage from the blasted ship, and still others swam about supported by life belts.

"All of us were picked up within 30 minutes," Leetz said. "Those boys [the crews of the rescue vessels] were right on the job." There were a number of planes overhead during the rescue operations and a coast guard ship dropped two depth charges a half mile distant, the third mate related, but he did not know whether a submarine had been sighted.

Crewmen said their ship when they last saw her was resting on her port side with about two feet still showing above the surface of the ocean.

Pope's Health Reported Improving After Illness

BERNE, Switzerland, June 22 (AP).—The Swiss telegraph agency in a dispatch from Vatican City today quoted L'Osservatore Romano, as saying that the health of Pope Pius XII. continues to improve. The newspaper said the pontiff was convalescing from his recent illness.

AILING PRESIDENT OF ARGENTINA TO QUIT, PAPER SAYS

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 22 (AP).—Argentina's ailing, inactive president, Roberto Ortiz, supporter of solidarity among democratic nations, is planning to resign because of partial blindness, the newspaper Critica said tonight. Ortiz's resignation will leave Acting President Ramon Castillo, whose critics say he is favorable to the axis, in charge of the government.

President Ortiz.

Ortiz's decision was made because his physicians concluded that an operation for failing eyesight, which forced him to retire temporarily almost two years ago, would be impossible, the newspaper said.

The president has been under treatment since he turned over his office to Castillo in July, 1940. A month ago, Dr. Ramon Castroviejo, New York eye specialist, went to Buenos Aires to examine the president.

Doctor Back in U. S.

Miami, Fla., June 22 (AP).—Dr. Ramon Castroviejo returned to the United States tonight after spending a month in Buenos Aires examining the badly weakened eyes of the Argentine president, Roberto Ortiz.

Arriving by plane on the way back to New York Dr. Castroviejo was unaware of reports that Ortiz might retire. "I had assumed he would be very anxious to return to his duties," the specialist said.

AIR RAID SIREN TO BLOW TODAY —FOR TEST ONLY!

If you hear a siren today between 11:50 a. m. and 12:30 p. m., don't dive for an air raid shelter. Civilian defense officials will test a new giant siren from the Outer drive near Randolph street. The city plans to buy 20 sirens and place them in strategic locations. The 20 sirens, plus those located in industrial plants, will be loud enough to warn 4,500,000 persons in the area in the event of an air raid, officials say.

HOW SUBCHASERS HUNT ENEMY OFF EAST U. S. COAST

Collier Sunk by Mine as Writer Watches.

BY J. NORMAN LODGE.

ABOARD A SUBMARINE CHASER WITH AN ATLANTIC PATROL [Delayed]—(AP).—"This," said the navy public relations officer, "will be only an indoctrination cruise and you'll probably find it rather boring."

Within the next half hour and still within sight of an eastern port, a "light" collier was blown up on our left, we had sighted a submarine periscope, dropped eight depth charges, picked up a dozen survivors from the collier, transferred them to a mine sweeper and continued on our patrol.

If you've never been to sea in an 83 foot subchaser, you can't appreciate what our coast guard lads are doing. And they're doing it with only the healthy gripe that augurs well for morale.

"Periscope Dead Ahead."

We left an east coast port shortly after 7 a. m., June 17, after spending the night aboard the chaser. Heading out to sea to pick up our convoy, we were turning up only about 500 revolutions on our two 600 horsepower motors when the chief bo'sun, a Finn with 20 years' service with the coast guard, shouted:

"Periscope dead ahead."

Instantly, the 12 man crew sprang into action. Port and starboard machine guns were manned by the cook and engine man, the forward gun was taken in charge by a first class coxswain, the chief machinist's mate unleashed the depth charges aft and two other petty officers stood by the port and starboard charges.

Revving up the motors to the full 1,200 turns, the bo'sun who had sighted the periscope, steered directly for the place he had seen the submarine's eye and four minutes later the first of eight cans went overboard.

Ship Leaps Into Air.

With a sound reminiscent of a distant thunder, the depth charges exploded. A geyser fully 50 feet high appeared off the stern and our 83 footer left the water momentarily. Again and again the depth charges sought the enemy and as many times the seemingly frail craft leaped into the air.

Suddenly the bo'sun, who was navigating the chaser, shouted to the ensign, John Dhue, a chief petty officer of 18 years' service now temporarily commissioned, "number 10 just got it."

Number 10 was the collier, 10th ship in line, an interloper, for she wasn't listed for our convoy. That was at exactly 7:45 a. m. The next few minutes were the most dramatic of my life and nothing I saw in Europe or on the Atlantic or North Sea compares with it. Here is the way my notes read:

"7:45 a. m., collier hit. 7:52, picked up 12 survivors. 8:02, ship turtled.

Survivors Put on Minesweeper.

"8:15, survivors transferred to minesweeper after being given hot coffee and dry dungarees.

"8:25, convoy now out of sight, we circled seeking oil slicks, then started in pursuit of our convoy. We found no telltale oil slicks, evidently the submarine got away.

"8:32, skipping over waves, mostly out of water, we pound out 18 knots and come within sight of our charges, now running in tandem.

Later, we were told the collier had not been torpedoed, but had struck a mine, presumably sown by an enemy submarine known to have been working in the vicinity of Hampton Roads, Va. Still later, over the radio, we learned that the sweeper to which we had transferred our survivors, had struck a mine, but that all aboard were saved.

The collier, with a crew of 47, had suffered three casualties, two mess boys and a fireman being missing.

That's the way the coast guard, now part of the navy, works. No fuss, no feathers, just solid American youths eager to do their bit that the seas may be safe for our shipping.

WOMAN EDITOR RIPS INTO LUCES AND THEIR AXIS

Mrs. Patterson Assails 'Hilarity' in War.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 22.—Among the people whose patriotism has been attacked recently by Henry Robinson [White Feather] Luce, smear artist head of the Time-Life-Fortune magazine axis, is the woman editor of the Washington [D. C.] Times-Herald. No cream puff pugilist, she came back swinging.

In a devastating piece of writing, Mrs. Eleanor Patterson, editor and publisher of the Times-Herald, tore into Luce and his blonde wife, Clare Boothe, the playwright, with a full page layout in last Sunday's editions. The story was signed by Georgiana X. Preston.

Like THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, the Times-Herald has been demanding an all-out total war effort, no matter what political careers must be sacrificed in order to insure victory. The only answer of some of the Washington politicians and Red dilettantes headed by Archibald MacLeish of the Office of Facts and Figures, has been to attack the patriotism of the two newspapers.

Chortled When War Broke.

Luce and his wife were red hot, ground floor interventionists long before Pearl Harbor and when the country was ill-prepared for modern warfare. They have been in the van of the campaign against any constructive criticism of the war effort.

How the Luces chortled and crowed

when at long last the Japs brought them their cherished war at Pearl Harbor was strikingly shown in the Sunday Times-Herald story, which began as follows:

"Shortly after Pearl Harbor, when every American worthy of the name as yet had only emotions of shocked anger, the publisher of the Washington Times-Herald received a mammoth bouquet of roses. Attached was the card of Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, playwright, beauty, and wife of Henry Robinson Luce, fuehrer of the Time-Life-Fortune axis.

Reaction of "Hilarity."

"Quite evidently, the reaction of Mrs. Luce to the Pacific outrage, with its toll of American dead and maimed, its wanton destruction, was one of great hilarity. In the fair hand that had penned such masterpieces of malice as 'The Women' and 'Kiss the Boys Good-by" she had written:

"'Hiyi: How do you like everything now? Affectionately, Clare Luce.'

"The Times-Herald publisher, a humorless soul no doubt, had been unable to find anything funny in the murderous and unprovoked attack on Hawaii. The gift of roses, however, obviously called for acknowledgment.

Answer Was Called For.

"Furthermore, the publisher felt that the social niceties required her to be as complimentary as the circumstances permitted. Having frequently witnessed the effect Mrs. Luce produces in males—a charm agreeably compounded out of the avidity of a Catherine of Russia, a wit worthy of Athene, the Greek goddess of wisdom, and the physical allure of a movie star—the publisher wired acknowledgment as follows:

"'Roses are beautiful. I still think you have the great Catherine, Athene, and that Tierney girl fried to a crisp. How do I like it? I hate it. How do you and Henry like it? The terrible thing about you two is that you neither hate nor like very much. You just go on having a wonderful time.'"

That tag line—"Having a Wonderful Time"—was the title of the Times-Herald layout on the Luces, but it also promised to expand into a series on others who are hugely enjoying the war.

Other Sketches in Making.

Illuminating sketches are in the making on Walter Winchell, the keyhole columnist; Drew Pearson, Washington gossip columnist; Marshall Field III. and the editor of his New York paper, Ralph Ingersoll; the George Backers, who smeared Sen. David I. Walsh [D., Mass.], in their New York Post.

The name of Luce, according to the Times-Herald, rhymes with "goose" and not "house." Luce was described as trying to pretend his publications were dispassionate and unbiased.

"But while he is bleating at the top of his editorial lungs about how fair, how unbiased, how patriotic he is," remarked the Times-Herald, "this fellow is forever striving to stir up bitterness for the sake of his own power and profits.

"Past Master of Smear."

"Since he got going good there hasn't been a political campaign into which he hasn't tried to insinuate an unseen hand. He is a past master of the smear. He plays the Republican side out loud, but—whenever it serves his purpose—he plays the New Deal.

"In his career of profitable malice he has a wonderful help-meet. A friend once referred to Mrs. Luce as 'that lovely asp.' They make a remarkable pair.

"In all this country it would probably be difficult to find another ostensibly patriotic American woman who thought the attack on Pearl Harbor was a matter for light banter. And if the 'lovely asp' thought Pearl Harbor was funny, it seems only reasonable to assume she laughed herself silly over the fall of Corregidor."

Henry Luce, the Times-Herald went on, pretended to be doing all he could toward helping America beat the axis, "yet he is doing everything possible to tear the nation apart." It probably wouldn't faze him if the war was lost, said the paper.

Pictures Him at Wharf.

"We can picture him down at the wharf, resplendent in his best cutaway, striped pants and silk hat, waiting to welcome the conqueror to our shores and assure him that Time, Life and Fortune had always been solidly behind the new order."

The Times-Herald tagged Luce as "among the world's best disher-outers, but one of the worst takers."

The Times-Herald recalled his deeply wounded manner when people began to send him white feathers because he was of military age and had not gone into the service, altho he was such a warhawk before Pearl Harbor.

Luce was charged with stooping to the "lowest type of scandal" in the guise of printing the news, of appealing to the most malicious instincts in humanity for circulation purposes.

It was recalled that Time was forced to pay $20,000 in settlement of a libel suit brought by Curtis B. Dall, former son-in-law of President Roosevelt. To draw attention to a foreign news item, the magazine printed a faked report of Dall's suicide.

Before Pearl Harbor, the Times-Herald said, Luce was one of the loudest denouncers of communism, but today he is marching along with the Communist party line.

BOYS', GIRLS' STATES OPEN TOMORROW FOR 1,120 IN JACKSONVILLE

Eight hundred boys and 320 girls from every part of Illinois will arrive in Jacksonville tomorrow to spend a week at the 1942 Illinois Boys' State and the Illini Girls' State. The states are operated annually by the American Legion and its auxiliary to awaken a desire to study the practical operations of a democratic government.

The third annual Illini Girls' State, sponsored by the Legion auxiliary, will be on the campus of MacMurray college.

After being schooled in the structure and operation of the entire state, from the individual citizen to the officers of highest responsibility, the girls will elect their own city, county, and state officials and set up their own senate and house of representatives.

The Boys' State, which for the last eight years has been on the Illinois State fairgrounds at Springfield, will be on the grounds of the Illinois State School for the Deaf in Jacksonville.

The Boys' State will serve as a pattern for organizations being set up this year in 38 other states. Like the Girls' State, the Boys' State will be operated by its youthful citizens.

LEGAL ROWS FOIL CUPID'S PLANS TO REUNITE DILLINGS

Suit Dismissal Awaits Fee Settlement.

Cupid was outmaneuvered by legal arguments yesterday in the courtroom of Judge Rudolph Desort and as a result reconciliation plans of Albert W. Dilling, lawyer-engineer, and his wife, Elizabeth Dilling, vociferous crusader against communism, were blocked temporarily.

The action started when Dilling, representing himself, asked Judge Desort for permission to drop his divorce suit.

Each Speaks His Piece.

Attorney Shelby Large of Rockford then sought permission to substitute for Theodore W. Miller as attorney for Mrs. Dilling. Large added that a reconciliation is in the making between the Dillings, who have been battling in court for weeks, and that he is willing to have Mrs. Dilling's cross-complaint dismissed.

Attorney Harry Standidge popped up, in behalf of Attorney Maurice T. Weinshenk, to oppose dismissing either bill until Weinshenk has been paid $3,500 allegedly due in fees for services as Dilling's attorney.

Attorney Miller was next up and said he wouldn't consent to dismiss Mrs. Dilling's cross-suit until his fees were paid.

Judge Defers Actions.

Judge Desort ruled that since the Weinshenk and Miller claims related to the divorce actions he would not dismiss the actions until he had heard a motion by Weinshenk thru Standidge that Dilling pay his fees.

Judge Desort set next Tuesday for Dilling to answer that motion and continued to July 9 the question of dismissing the two suits and also of considering three contempt of court actions against Mrs. Dilling, two achieved in April and one in March.

Cupid took another wallop outside of court as Mrs. Dilling remarked:

"It will take more than that to win me back."

FHA DISREGARDS CITY LAWS, SAYS OUSTED OFFICIAL

Building Code Tangle Is Bared by Schmidt.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Disregard for city laws by the Federal Housing administration was charged yesterday by Richard E. Schmidt, prominent 77 year old architect who last week lost his post as city building commissioner after complaints were made that he refused permits for certain "row house" defense housing projects.

Row houses are adjoining dwelling units having at the sides common walls, or in the language of architects, "party walls."

Schmidt said the legal tangle caused by FHA when it changed its construction requirements without notifying the city has not yet been straightened out. Yesterday corrective measures were planned at a conference of Paul Gerhardt Jr., Schmidt's successor, with Gael Sullivan, head of FHA. A protégé of Mayor Kelly, Sullivan is reported to have been instrumental in getting Schmidt removed.

City Adopts FHA Code.

To facilitate defense housing construction, the city council on March 25 made the FHA building requirements part of the city code. Altho generally less rigid than city building specifications, one FHA provision called for 3,000 square feet of ground for a house. The FHA code adopted by the city was dated March 1.

Consequently, Schmidt said, he refused to issue permits for four or five row house projects under the FHA code because only about 2,000 square feet of ground was alloted for each dwelling. The promoters could have chosen to proceed under the city's regular building code, but only one did so because thicker brick walls are required between row houses under the city code.

"Those refused permits stirred up the rumpus," the former commissioner said. "Accidentally, I learned thru a former employé that the FHA requirement had been lowered from 3,000 to 2,000 square feet for each dwelling. We got in touch with the FHA and learned that its code had been changed twice since adoption by the city—with no notice to us."

Ordered to Enforce Law.

Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes was asked for an opinion June 4 and on June 15 Schmidt received his reply, stating in conclusion:

"If the FHA desires its revised standards and requirements to be part of the building provisions of the city it should present to the council an admendment. Until such amendment is in effect your duty is to enforce the provisions of the March 1 standards."

A copy of the letter was sent to Sullivan, but Schmidt said that despite this the FHA head went to Mayor Kelly and charged that Commissioner Schmidt was "sabotaging" the coöperative plan. Schmidt said he received property owners' petitions opposing the low cost row houses and that an attorney representing some of them threatened to invoke mandamus proceedings if permits were issued contrary to city ordinances.

The new building commissioner said Sullivan agreed to take steps to amend the FHA building ordinance at the July 8 council meeting.

Predicts Further Change.

"At the FHA office today it was indicated that the 2,000 square feet provision may be changed before then," Gerhardt said.

"Another problem is that the FHA code says a structure may not consist of more than four living units. The FHA interprets that to mean there can be any number of houses in a row if there are not more than four flats in a building, but we don't know. All this inconsistency causes delay."

Schmidt disagrees with critics of the city's own building code who charge that it fosters racketeering by requiring needless high priced materials and workers. Most of the lower cost methods permitted in the suburbs but banned in the city do not account for a substantial difference in prices, he said.

Opposes "Dry" Walls.

The former city requirement of plaster in all habitable rooms, eliminated in the FHA code, was burdensome, he admitted. Even this old requirement, he defended, however.

"I don't consider 'dry' [nonplaster] walls as safe," he said. "It is ironic that with all the talk of enemy air raids, any possible increase in fire hazard should be encouraged."

During his eight years as building commissioner, he received two complaints of employés inviting bribes and both of these were dispelled by investigation, Schmidt declared.

CITY WILL SERVE AS GUINEA PIG IN GREASE SALVAGE

Campaign to Save Kitchen Fats Opens Tomorrow.

Chicago will serve as a guinea pig during the next two weeks. A household fats and grease salvage campaign will be opened tomorrow and results of the 14-day drive will be used as a pattern for a nation-wide campaign, which is scheduled to follow on the heels of the local experiment.

The collection of fat and grease was started in February in Chicago, under the direction of Mayor Kelly, coördinator of Civilian Defense for the Chicago Metropolitan area, and Thomas E. Wilson, chairman of Wilson & company and director of the fats salvage program in Chicago.

Name 7,000 Grease Wardens.

Since the opening of the collection, Chicago housewives have contributed more than 1,500,000 pounds of waste fat and grease.

Nearly 7,000 civilian defense fat and grease wardens have been named in the metropolitan area to spur the collection of grease, of which 12 per cent is manufactured into glycerine—a vital product in the manufacturing of dynamite and other high explosives. The Chicago collection of grease has already yielded more than 180,000 pounds of glycerine.

Method to Aid War Effort.

Leaders of the drive offer the collection of fats and greases as an answer to the question frequently asked by Chicago housewives, "What can I do to help win the war?" Salvagers of waste grease and fat [since it is turned into glycerine and glycerine is transformed into dynamite] will be pouring grease from containers to cannon, thus contributing much to the war effort.

Lessing J. Rosenwald, chief of the Bureau of Industrial Conservation for the War Production board, will be in charge of the national drive. Mrs. Walter J. Kelly is in charge of the women's division of the Chicago fats conservation campaign.

WILLKIE REBUKED FOR OPPOSITION TO DEWEY IN N. Y.

New York, June 22 [Special].—Approving several recent editorials in the Watertown [N. Y.] Times, W. Kingsland Macy, Suffolk county Republican leader and former Republican state chairman, today rebuked Wendell L. Willkie inferentially for his reported opposition to nominating former District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey for governor.

"The Republican party has the best chance to win this fall it has had in many years," said one of the editorials cited by Macy. "Why not give the party at least an even break by nominating Dewey?"

The second editorial to draw Macy's indorsement said:

"We would not go so far as to say that the Willkie faction would willingly throw away the state election this year in order to insure Willkie New York's delegates to the national convention in 1944, but it all amounts to that when they attempt to nominate for governor some other man than Dewey, even tho they realize Dewey is by far the strongest candidate."

"These," commented Mr. Macy, "are the sentiments of all progressive Republicans."

Both editorials were written after Willkie had conferred with Harold Johnson, editor and publisher of the Watertown newspaper.

NEXT TIME SHE'LL ALSO TIE A STRING AROUND A FINGER

Mrs. Amy Connor, 61 years old, prepared for burglars yesterday. She installed a .22 caliber rifle in her living room at 6746 State street. Attached to the trigger was a string which the front door would strike when it was opened. Mrs. Connor didn't want to kill the burglars. She only wanted to frighten them. So she put blank cartridges in the gun. This was fortunate. When she returned from an errand, her burglar alarm forgotten, she suffered only powder burns instead of getting shot.

ORDER LOOP SITE SOLD FOR TAXES; $704,901 OVERDUE

The county board yesterday directed the state's attorney's office to start a tax foreclosure suit against the Midland building, 168 West Adams street, in an effort to recover $704,901 in past due taxes and penalties dating from 1930.

Owners of the building have offered $150,000, or 21 per cent of the amount due. Ernest A. Feldman, real estate operator, offered $200,000. The board directed that these and any other bids be submitted at the foreclosure sale.

The board leased four lots on the southeast corner of 45th and Halsted streets to the City of Chicago at $1 a year for prospective use by the city as a playground.

The recently announced program for a centralized county purchasing system, which civic officials predict will save $500,000 a year, was adopted by the board.

LOSS OF TOBRUK STIRS WAVE OF ANGER IN BRITAIN

Churchill Again Is Target of Indignation.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 22.—After the collapse of Tobruk all Britain is in an indignant and dissatisfied frame of mind such as caused the overthrow of the Neville Chamberlain government after the Norwegian fiasco in 1940 and such as in milder form brought about the first serious political embarrassment of the Winston Churchill government after the surrender of Singapore.

Again Churchill is the target for a goodly share of the criticism, especially because of his recent statement that the British had reasons to be "more than satisfied" regarding the development of the Libyan battle.

A survey of political opinion of all shades indicated that members of parliament are angry and critical if not hostile. There is no doubt that the Libya disaster impaired Churchill's authority and some members tonight were said to be questioning the government's competence in the direction of the war.

Scores Entire Military Record.

The Evening News characterized the loss of Tobruk as an "ignominious collapse" and bitterly scored the entire military record of Britain since the beginning of the war. The News said:

"We see the British 8th army mauled more seriously than we had been led to believe. We see the threat to Egypt, officially supposed to have been removed 'forever,' now both near and ominous. We see Malta in graver peril. We see neutral countries still sitting on the fence as the result of adverse developments and of serious political repercussions in Britain."

In three years of war, the Evening News said, "our arms have achieved no enduring triumphs on land—only a few small successes, such as at Madagascar, against weak opponents. Retreats and evacuations have become retreats and surrenders."

Demands Probe to Source.

The News then castigated "silver lining" statements. Parliament, if declared, "will fail in its duty if it does not probe this new inglorious failure to its source," and concluded: "There are few people, very few, who delude themselves today that we are winning the war or that we have any apparent prospect of winning it on our present form."

Clement Attlee, dominions secretary and deputy prime minister, will make a statement, but the house of commons probably will refrain from debating the matter until Churchill returns from the United States.

"While members of parliament may agree to await the return of Churchill," the Evening Star said, "they will demand that the statement on Libya be no part of a review of the war as a whole or be included in the account of the prime minister's conversations with President Roosevelt. There is little disposition amongst the members to accept the fall of Tobruk as cooly as the surrender of Singapore or to wait the reports of the generals who have capitulated before taking action."

CHINA WAR FUND REACHES $301,649 IN CHICAGO DRIVE

The Chicago drive to raise funds for United China Relief reached $301,649 yesterday, according to James M. Cleary, treasurer of the University of Illinois and vice chairman of the campaign.

Large contributions received include: Walgreen Co. and employés, $4,210; United States Steel corporation, $6,425; THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, $1,000; Railway Express Agency officials and employés, $667; Chicago Extruded Metals Co., $500; Balaban & Katz Corp., $500; John Balaban, $500 [for the second time], and H. & E. Balaban corporation, $200.

Cleary said many persons were bringing small gifts to the offices at 310 South Michigan avenue and that "nowhere else can a dollar do so much to relieve human misery and help win the war as in China."

Report Germans Kill 130 More in Czecho-Slovakia

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 22 (AP).—German authorities have executed 130 persons in Czecho-Slovakia during the last three days, the Berlin correspondent of the newspaper Svenska Dagbladet said tonight. These were the first executions reported from Czecho-Slovakia since the Germans announced Thursday they had killed the slayers of Reinhard Heydrich, reichs-protector of Bohemia-Moravia and better known as "the Hangman," while they were resisting arrest.

TOBRUK REDUCED BY ONE OF FASTEST 'BLITZ' ASSAULTS

Story of Port's Fall to Axis Forces.

BY EDWARD KENNEDY.

CAIRO, Egypt, June 22 (AP).—The German attack on Tobruk was a lightning blow that reduced the Libyan stronghold with such rapidity that it stunned the British defenders. Many of them never had a chance to offer any real resistance.

Details of the British debacle, which can now be told for the first time, show that the operation against Tobruk was one of the swiftest blows yet delivered in this war of speed and surprises.

The Germans used parachute troops profusely but futilely in an effort to mop up the British and frustrate their destruction of their supplies before they could fall into axis hands. Many of the parachutists, ballooning down from big Junkers transport planes, were picked off like clay pigeons as they hit the ground.

Speed to Waterfront.

Once having smashed thru the perimeter of the port's outer defenses, Marshal Erwin Rommel's tanks made straight for the waterfront. Standing at the water's edge they put British minesweepers, trawlers, tank-carrying barges, and smaller craft under immediate fire.

Then the Germans brought up heavy guns to add to the barrage. Some of the ships at the waterfront returned the fire, and the battle raged between tanks and cannon on one side and ships on the other.

The Germans had the advantage because, as far as is known here, there were no heavy British vessels such as cruisers and destroyers in port. Some of the ships got away, taking off 200 sailors, but first reports indicate few if any of the army personnel escaped.

Beat the Former Record.

Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell's army took Tobruk on Jan. 22, 1941, capturing 30,000 Italians there in a day and a half. That was considered a swift and brilliant feat. But the Germans appear to have beaten this record by many hours.

Tobruk's fortifications were such that once its 30 mile perimeter of barbed wire mine fields, tank traps, and pill boxes were broken, it did not take long to reduce the entire stronghold because the perimeter defenses could be rolled back from the inside.

During the last two days of fighting around Tobruk a blazing sun beat down and the temperature was up to 120 degrees.

The enemy sent columns in all directions, Italian infantry and artillery, working from the west and south, shelled the town incessantly. The main German force was concentrated on the east with ceaseless dive bomber raids upon the British by day and high level bombers by night.

Up from El Adem Road.

British, Indians and South Africans stuck to their posts in their steel and underground defenses until the tanks had smashed headlong over them and thru the minefields. Then the defenders emerged from their wrecked redoubts to fight with what they could against the oncoming machine gunning rifle fire and grenade tossing foe.

When the axis troops came up from the south to pierce the perimeter from El Adem road it was obvious that the end was near. An earlier bombing of the Tobruk water tower had made the water situation precarious.

The Germans and Italians were able to concentrate nearly all their air power on one spot—Tobruk—while the RAF had numerous other fronts to handle at the same time.

The Parachutists Come.

As rumbling explosions from the Tobruk garrison's destruction of munitions shook the air, scattered parties of German parachutists tumbled out of Junkers 52 troop carriers with the intention of mopping up and frustrating the allied attempt to blow up everything within the fortress. They didn't succeed and numbers of the Nazis were shot dead on landing.

A pall of black smoke reaching hundreds of feet high all but blacked out Tobruk and the perimeter area. The defenders applied the torch to huge piles of stores of supplies, high piles of ammunition and oil dumps, and aerial reconnaissance later showed that they succeeded in destroying much material before the surrender.

Some of the defenders continued to hold out last night in the numerous canyons around Tobruk. Because of the difficulty of attacking them on the ground, the Germans were using parachute troops in cleaning-up operations. Hundreds of axis troops were dropped from the moonlit sky at several points where British and Indian units fought on.

ROMMEL MADE FIELD MARSHAL GENERAL FOR CAPTURE OF TOBRUK

BERLIN, June 22 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—Col. Gen. Erwin Rommel, whose forces captured Tobruk, has been promoted to the rank of field marshal general, it was announced tonight.

Rommel, broadcasting to the German people, said tonight that the axis African corps had suffered "the heaviest losses and privations" in storming the Libyan stronghold.

"Behind us are nearly four weeks of hard fighting," he declared. "The fighting, however, was not only hard but successful, unusually successful. Our troops have crowned their work so far by capturing the Tobruk fortress. Bardia was likewise occupied. German and Italian troops accomplished superhuman performances in this fighting. They captured with élan field fortifications, forts, and minefields as can hardly be imagined."

Serbs Drive Italians Into Mountains of Montenegro

BRITISH AND NAZI PATROL VESSELS WAR IN CHANNEL

LONDON, June 22 (AP).—The admiralty today announced "considerable patrol activity in the English channel and the southern part of the North sea" which inflicted "loss and damage" on the enemy.

Early last Friday morning a patrol attacked a convoy consisting of two German supply ships, escorted by an armed trawler and half a dozen E-boats [torpedo boats]. The larger of the supply ships was torpedoed and some of the E-boats hit by gunfire.

On Saturday another patrol engaged an enemy force consisting of a patrol vessel and several E-boats. The patrol boat, a craft of about 150 tons, was left burning.

Nazi Agitators Attacked by Crowd in Swedish Town

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 22 (AP).—An anti-Nazi demonstration broke out in Trelleborg, Sweden's southernmost town, today when a thousand persons attacked Nazi agitators. Military forces with machine guns and bayonets were called to break up the demonstration and protect the Nazi sympathizers.

RAF Bombers Strike Again at Nazi Targets

LONDON, June 23 [Tuesday] (AP).—The royal air force was back over Germany again last night, British sources disclosed today. Bad weather had grounded the big British bombers the night before, compelling a one day lull after two smashes against the German naval base of Emden.

U. S. GROUP URGES SELF-RULE FOR AFRICAN PEOPLES

Draws Lesson from Far Eastern Defeats.

New York, June 22 [Wide World].—The importance of giving Africans an increasing share in their own government was stressed tonight by the Committee on Africa, the War, and Peace Aims in a lengthy report on the application of the Atlantic charter to the problems of Africa.

The report, signed by 40 American citizens most of whom have lived in Africa or visited Africa for purposes of study, and made public by Dr. Anson Phelps Stokes, chairman, noted that "the emergence into political consciousness of the nonwhite peoples of the world is a recent phenomenon of great significance."

Cite Lessons of Defeats.

There is grave danger to Africa in the event of an axis victory, the report said, adding that "the lessons of the recent military defeats in Malaya, Singapore, Java, and Burma—resulting largely, in the opinion of many European authorities, from a lack of more general coöperation between the native population and the Europeans in control—emphasize the vital importance of prompt steps to give colonial peoples a larger and more responsible share in the government of their country, in order that it may not be said that measures adopted to meet legitimate native aspirations have been 'too little and too late.'"

The goal of ultimate self-government "should be definitely accepted in every colony," the report continued, with a suggestion that "the controling governments fit the African people for larger and larger participation in their own affairs thru 'indirect rule' and thru direct representation in government councils."

U. S. Has Special Interests.

The committee also recommended establishment of a separate division in the state department to deal with African-American affairs, citing growing United States interests in Africa.

The eight points of the Atlantic charter, it said, "should all be applied to Africa in keeping with the broad humanitarian and democratic principles enunciated."

Among those signing the report were Dr. Raymond Leslie Buell, former president of the Foreign Policy association; Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, professor of political science at Howard university; Dr. Frederick P. Keppel, former president of the Carnegie corporation; Dr. Homer Leroy Shantz of the United States department of agriculture, and Dr. W. E. B. Dubois, professor of sociology at Atlanta university.

Dr. Stokes is president of the Phelps-Stokes fund, an organization which has been interested in African problems for more than a quarter of a century.

JOHN B. DRAKE REPORTS BURGLARY.

CHINESE ASSAULT 2 RAIL TOWNS ON JAP SUPPLY LINE

Cling to 50 Mile Sector of Road.

CHUNGKING, China, June 22 (AP).—Strong Chinese assaults on the railway towns of Lungyu and Chuhsien, along the Japanese supply line thru Chekiang province, were reported tonight in a Chinese communique. It also told of widespread Chinese activity behind the invaders' advanced positions.

In Kiangsi province, west of Chekiang, the Japanese have been held virtually to a standstill for six days in their attempts to pinch off the last 50 miles of the Chekiang-Kiangsi rail line remaining in Chinese hands, the communique said. The 450 mile railroad links Hangchow and Nanchang.

Chinese forces shunted aside by the swift Japanese thrust along the railway into Kiangsi province reorganized and were said to have driven outlying Japanese garrisons back upon Kinhwa with heavy losses. Fighting was reported at the outskirts of Lungyu. Japanese who occupied the walled town of Chuhsien were said to be under repeated attack.

Just west of the Chekiang-Kiangsi border heavy fighting was reported in the hills south of Kwangfeng where one Japanese column thrust toward the Fukien province border.

Suspend Argentine Paper After It Praises Russia

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 22 (AP).—Police today ordered the leftist newspaper La Hora to suspend publication for 30 days. Officials of the paper said the police did not specify why the suspension was ordered, but they expressed the belief it might have been because of an article eulogizing Russia on the first anniversary of the German invasion.

CZECH AIRMAN BAGS 12TH NAZI PLANE IN FRANCE

LONDON, June 22 (AP).—Karel Kuttelwascher, a Czech flyer who has flown in three different air forces, shot down his 12th German night bomber over an airdrome in France last night.

The pilot, who is 27 years old, was flying in the Czech air force when Germany invaded Czecho-Slovakia. He escaped to France and was attached to the French air force. He reached Britain after France fell and took part in the battle of Britain. He later was assigned to the night flying Hurricanes, which hover over German airdromes and pounce on raiders taking off or landing.

His 12th victim was one of two German bombers destroyed over France after the German raid on Southampton. Kuttelwascher's squadron is led by one armed James F. Malachlan, who flies with the aid of an artificial arm and has bagged seven night bombers.

RUSSIANS GIVE UP NEW GROUND AT SEVASTOPOL

Germans Report Fighting in City's Streets.

MOSCOW, June 23 [Tuesday] (AP).—The Germans renewed their offensive on the Kharkov front yesterday and 400 miles to the south forced Sevastopol's beleaguered garrison to fall back on two sectors, official reports said early today.

The midnight soviet communique indicated the smashing German attacks against the hard-pressed Crimean naval base continued unabated.

The fighting on the Kharkov front had been on a reduced scale for the past few days, with the Russians counterattacking at some points, but the communique said the initiative was again in the hands of the Germans.

Other Fronts Quiet.

"On June 22 our troops on the Kharkov front waged battle against attacking German troops," the high command said. "On the Sevastopol front fierce battles continued. On other sectors of the front no essential changes took place."

Dispatches from the Black sea bastion said that a huge mass of infantry, tanks and artillery had driven a wedge in the northern fortifications but that the defenders were resisting fiercely.

On the south where the Russians had withdrawn to their central lines, a heavy battle was under way for a hill dominating the sector. The Germans tried five times to drive the defenders from the crest, dispatches said.

German naval units were reported off the fortress, base of the Russian Black sea fleet, whose sailors are helping its defense.

Two swift torpedo cutters and a submarine — dispatched either from occupied Odessa or the Balkan coast —were reported sighted by two small Russian boats. One of the cutters was reported damaged and towed away, and the submarine was said to have crash-dived before machine gun fire.

Report Street Fighting.

BERLIN, June 22 [from German broadcasts] — (AP). — Bloody hand-to-hand fighting is raging thru the streets along Sewernaja bay in the northern defense sector of Sevastopol, with German forces storming house after house in this shipbuilding section of the Crimean port, high command informants reported tonight.

This drive from the north was matched by equally bitter fighting on the south side of Sevastopol, where the Germans said Rumanian and Nazi forces had smashed a wedge into the Russian defense belt by wresting a chain of strongly fortified hills from the soviet garrison.

German accounts said the Nazi attackers broke into the Sewernaja bay area after capturing the last coastal fort there.

The high command said the Russians were attacking on the central front before Moscow and in the Volkhov sector south of Leningrad. The Germans claimed they repulsed the central front assaults, but said fierce fighting continued on the Volkhov front.

ASK NEW TAXES FOR FINLAND TO BALK INFLATION

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 22.—The Finnish government submitted new tax and financial measures to parliament today in an effort to prevent inflation and preserve the purchasing power of Finnish currency.

This year incomes in the higher brackets will have to pay a supplementary tax of 25 per cent. Inheritance and gift taxes will be increased and new levies made on sales of property. Railroad fares, postal and telephone tariffs are to be increased. Every possible source of income to the state is being exploited to increase revenue.

Vaino Tanner, former premier and leader of the Social Democratic party, has been working on the new program since he became finance minister a few weeks ago. He said his measures were designed to protect the small wage earner. The taxes imposed on large incomes in Finland always have been much smaller than in many foreign countries, and despite the increases these taxes still are far from excessive he declared. He hopes to stimulate savings and preserve the value of the Finnish mark in the foreign exchange market.

F. D. R. TO BE HOST TO KING PETER AT WHITE HOUSE

Washington, D. C., June 22 [Special].—King Peter of Jugo-Slavia, 19 year old fugitive ruler of his Nazi-conquered country, will be a guest at the White House Wednesday night. With the President and Mrs. Roosevelt as hosts, he will be given a state dinner, formal but with wartime modesty.

The youthful king, grandson of the late Queen Marie of Rumania, arrived yesterday with his foreign minister, M. Nintchich. They came from London where his government was forced to flee in April, 1941, after the German invasion.

Because of the vagaries of wartime traveling, Peter got here ahead of schedule. Consequently his arrival is not official and he is incognito. He has "gone out into the country" until Wednesday when he will make his reappearance and be formally welcomed by state department representatives.

U.S. SEAMEN TELL OF NAZI RAIDS ON CONVOY IN ARCTIC

Describe Russian Port as Almost Deserted.

BY LEO BRANHAM.

SOMEWHERE IN THE NORTH ATLANTIC, June 18 [Delayed]—(AP). —The tired gun crews of a munitions convoy to Russia, hearing a shrill "Here they come again!" from lofty lookouts, pulled helmets tighter and sped to action stations to meet the challenge of German bombers attacking for the third consecutive day.

The convoy so far has been lucky. Not a single ship has been hit. Heretofore the attackers have been light Stuka dive bombers, but now the enemy formations are made up of larger torpedo carrying aircraft—newest Nazi instrument against the vital arctic soviet supply line.

The raiders attacked fiercely and as the anti-aircraft guns of the entire convoy opened fire the gray northern sky was crisscrossed with belts of flame.

Bomber Dives Into Sea.

One huge German bomber was hit while directly over the middle of the convoy. It fell blazing less than 100 feet from a ship.

An aerial torpedo hit a British merchantman, blowing it up.

The story of the attack was told today by the officers and crewmen of an American freighter which was only two lengths from the British ship. The British admiralty already has announced that 90 per cent of the convoy reached Murmansk safely.

E. H. McGuire of New Orleans, radio operator on the American ship, said one German plane bombed and machine gunned a small "crash" boat that picked up survivors of three sunken ships.

"There were about 60 men in the crash boat," he said. "The plane came down to within a few hundred feet, then opened up.

"I believe those Nazis were poor marksmen tho, because from our ship it appeared none of the survivors was hit."

On Alert Most of Time.

G. W. Hudgins of Jersey City, captain of the same American vessel, said: "We didn't have our clothes off during the entire trip in arctic regions. We just slept whenever we could, as we were on the alert nearly all the time. There were so many alarms I lost count."

He said that while he was in Murmansk harbor 42 air raid alarms were sounded. Nazi planes always were strongly resisted by Russian fighters.

He described Murmansk as a city in battle dress, half deserted and with only necessities obtainable. Women help unload ships. Hospitals, he said, were badly in need of more doctors and medical supplies.

CHICAGO FLYER WITH CANADIANS LOST IN ACTION

Sergt. Edwin Sykes, who enlisted in the royal Canadian air force a year and a half ago after obtaining civilian flight training here, was reported "missing in action overseas" in a letter received yesterday by his father, Julian Sykes of 11327 Wallace street. Sykes was a graduate of Tilden High school, and had been assigned to a Spitfire squadron. From the wording of the letter, however, it appeared that he must have been transferred to a bombing squadron.

20 U. S. AMBULANCE DRIVERS ESCAPE FROM TOBRUK WITH CARS

CAIRO, Egypt, June 22 (AP).—Twenty ambulance drivers of the American field service escaped Tobruk with their vehicles just before the port was surrounded, it was disclosed tonight.

No American military observers were known to have been captured but several have not yet reported to headquarters. One newsreel cameraman and three photographers were said to have been in Tobruk when it fell.

CLAIM 1,000 JAPS SLAIN IN NATIVE REVOLT IN COREA

Washington, D. C., June 22 [Special]. — A native revolt occurred in northern Corea from Feb. 2 to 6 in which more than 1,000 Japanese were killed and extensive damage done to Japanese military installations, according to a report received today by Kilsoo Haan, secretary of the Sino-Corean People's league. The report came by way of an agent in South America. It lacked confirmation from other sources.

Japanese civilians killed numbered 400 and Japanese troops and police killed totaled 680, the report said. The Corean death toll was said to be 2,185. Coreans wounded and arrested numbered 18,500, the report added. In the port of Yuki-Woongkee six oil tanks were dynamited and a warehouse burned, according to the document. In Helyo the police headquarters were burned, two hangars ahd 22 airplanes were burned, and 68 Japanese homes were destroyed by fire. In Seoul police headquarters were set on fire and 180 residences in the Japanese section were burned. In Hingisyu four warehouses were burned and eight railroad cars containing arms and ammunition were blown up. In Gensaen two naval munition and another large warehouse were burned.

RUSSIA BLAMED AS SWEDISH SHIP IS SUNK IN BALTIC

[By wireless to the New York Times and the Chicago Tribune.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 22.—A sensation was caused by an official report that the 3,900 ton Swedish steamer Ada Gorthon was torpedoed today off the eastern shore of Oland Island in the Baltic sea. In informed unofficial circles it was generally supposed that she was torpedoed by a Russian submarine.

The Ada Gorthon was said to have sunk immediately. Of the crew of 21 men, 14—including the captain—were lost. One of the rescued seamen reported that a periscope was seen immediately before the torpedoing.

The Swedish foreign office announced that investigations are being made as to whether the sinking took place in Swedish territorial waters. If this supposition proves correct a protest to the responsible country will be made.

RUSSIA PUTS NAZI WAR CASUALTIES AT 10 MILLIONS

Claims 20,000 Enemy Planes for Year.

MOSCOW, June 23 [Tuesday] (AP).—The Germans have lost 10,000,000 men killed, wounded, and taken prisoner in the first year of the war with Russia, against soviet losses of 4,500,000, the soviet information bureau announced today in a year-end review. It said at least 3,500,000 Germans were killed.

The announcement gave German plane losses at 20,000 craft, compared to 9,000 Russian, and said the Nazis lost 24,000 tanks to Russia's 15,000.

Seventy per cent of the Red army's wounded have returned to action, the announcement said, while Germany has been able to return only 40 per cent of her wounded to the ranks. This discrepancy was attributed to the overworked German ambulance service, which had been geared for a "lightning war."

"Successes Not Decisive."

"Hitler is still able to concentrate on certain sectors of the front considerable forces and to achieve certain successes," the statement said. "This occurred on the Kerch peninsula where the Germans had numerical superiority in tanks and planes.

"Similar successes are possible in the near future, but one thing is clear: That such successes are not decisive regarding the outcome of the war. These successes are temporary.

"The German army of 1942 is not what it was at the beginning of the war. Picked troops have been killed. The officers' corps has been partly wiped out and partly demoralized as a result of looting and raping of the civilian population of occupied districts."

Say Hess Sought Crusade.

"While preparing the piratical attack on our country," the review said, "the Hitlerite ringleaders seriously reckoned that they would be successful in knocking together a universal coalition against the U. S. S. R. and would draw Great Britain and the United States into this coalition, thus completely isolating the U. S. R. R. from other world powers.

"Not long before the treacherous attack on the soviet land, the Hitlerites, who had been slinging the worst abuse over the radio and in the press at British and American 'plutocrats,' sent the notorious Rudolf Hess to these very 'plutocrats.'

"Hess was charged with the task of intimidating the politicians of Great Britain and the United States with tales of a 'Red menace' and persuading ruling circles of these countries to join a 'crusade' against the U. S. S. R.

"Fell Thru Completely."

"But instead of Great Britain and the United States joining in a campaign against the U. S. S. R., the three great countries proved to be in one camp against Fascist Germany. The treacherous Hitlerite policy that calculated on defeating the freedom-loving peoples one by one fell thru completely."

The anniversary of the Nazi invasion of the soviet union passed without formal observance yesterday.

In the Moscow park where crowds listened anxiously to radio announcements on that bright warm Sunday a year ago soldiers and civilians yesterday went about their jobs, all of which are related to the task of beating the enemy.

GO TO GERMANY AND WORK! LAVAL EXHORTS FRENCH

Says He Wants Nazis to Win War.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, June 22. — Pierre Laval, chief of government, tonight disclosed an arrangement with Germany to exchange French farmers, who are prisoners of war, for French workers who volunteer to go to Germany to work in factories.

Pierre Laval.

Laval, France's leading collaborationist, did not disclose any figures in the envisaged deal. There are supposed to be 800,000 farmers among the 1,500,000 Frenchmen held by the Nazis.

The chief of government, in a radio address to the nation on the second anniversary of the signing of the French-German armistice, exclaimed:

"Workers of France, by going to Germany to work, you will liberate our prisoners. You will go in large numbers to aid France. In answering my appeal you will permit France to find a new place in Europe."

Hopes for Nazi Victory.

At the start of his address Laval said France was living thru difficult moments and added:

"We will have still more privations. But there is a redoubtable, and for me, a more anguishing moment. It is the one in which France's fate will be decided for a long period.

"From this war a new Europe will rise inevitably. I hope for the victory of Germany because without it bolshevism will install itself everywhere tomorrow."

Referring to Germany's need for labor, Laval declared "France cannot be passive now and just look on at the sacrifices of Germany. At the moment France lacks raw materials. Our factories are slowing down. Unemployment is becoming worse. Numerous workers are without work when Germany needs man power very urgently."

Promises High Wages.

He promised high wages and bonuses for those workers who will be separated from their families.

Laval reiterated his denunciation of France's war declaration in 1939.

"My presence in the government has a meaning that escapes no one either at home or abroad," he said. "I want to establish normal and confident relations with Germany and Italy."

Laval said "a more youthful republic, more human and stronger," is to be born in France. He predicted that Socialism would be installed everywhere in Europe.

"The form it will adopt in France will be designed by our national character," he added.

Prof. Frederick Grimm, German Rhineland member of the reichstag, addressed a large audience in a Vichy theater after Laval's broadcast. Speaking on Franco-German collaboration, he was cheered when he referred to "the common struggle against bolshevism and the interference of England in the continent's affairs."

LADY FURNESS TELLS OF WAR LIFE IN FRANCE

Refugee on Riviera Back in London.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 22.—Viscountess Enid Lindeman Furness, widow of the shipping magnate, today told of conditions in France following her return from the Riviera where she had been isolated by the war after her third husband's death two years ago. With her was her 16 year old daughter, Patricia Cavendish, whose father was Brig. Gen. Federick Cavendish, the viscountess' second husband, who died in 1931.

The viscountess, who traveled about France on a bicycle, said that about 373 British prisoners of war who escaped from Germany had been caught while trying to cross the border into Spain and now were in a fortress prison near Nice. The American Red Cross, she said, was keeping the men very well fed.

Food Auction Brings $2,000.

She described food conditions in unoccupied France as bad, altho wealthy persons can always obtain food. She cited as an example an auction at the Carlton hotel in Cannes where one batch of food, including hams and bacon and a quantity of olive oil, brought about $2,000.

On her return to London, she first traveled by train to Lisbon, Portugal. This trip, she said, was in a third class compartment which contained 10 passengers and required 28 hours of travel without food or water.

On her arrival in London she immediately visited her son, Caryll Cavendish, now 15 years old. Her oldest son, Roderick Cameron, by her first marriage, is an American citizen. He flew from Lisbon to the United States to volunteer for war service. He is 28 years old.

Viscountess Furness expressed "surprise" that her late husband's second wife, Lady Thelma Morgan Furness, who now is in Berkeley, Cal., had filed suit on behalf of her 12 year old son, Viscount William Anthony Furness, for a half share in his father's $16,000,000 fortune.

DIVORCED IN 1933.

Lady Thelma Furness was the former Thelma Morgan of the Morgan twins. She was divorced from Viscount Furness in 1933. In his first will, dated 1936, the viscount left seven-eighths of his estate to a son, Christopher, by his first marriage. In the event of the death of either of his two sons by different wives, the dead son's share of the estate was to pass to the Viscountess Enid.

A codicil signed in 1939 deprived Enid of this share, but on July 1, 1940, only 10 weeks before his death, Furness signed a new codicil reinstating her and giving her half the income from the whole estate in the event of Christopher's death.

NAZIS TIGHTEN NORSE 'SECOND FRONT' DEFENSE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 22.—German military authorities in Norway are continuing their elaborate preparations to ward off the possibility of Norway becoming the second front in Europe.

In the few fjords where landing operations might be made, extensive mine fields have been laid, and the fjords and adjoining waters have been barred to traffic. In areas considered threatened the inhabitants have received instructions as to which towns of the interior they should go to in event of attack.

Norwegians who own automobiles and trucks have been ordered to keep them in readiness to move evacuees, but it has been noticed that most of these vehicles already are serving the needs of the enlarged German occupational forces.

ILLINOIS TECH TOP PRIVATE SCHOOL IN WAR TRAINING

Provides Technicians for Nation's Production.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

Looking westward between 33d and 35th streets, late riders on the elevated sometimes wonder at the banks of lighted windows in the mellow old buildings of academic design that surround a broad quadrangle there.

"A war plant of some sort," they hazard. And it is. It is a super plant that turns out by the thousands the technicians who help keep Chicagoland's war production plants humming.

Behind those lighted windows students in many engineering branches labor early and late learning the secrets of airplane motors, communications systems, ordnance inspection, chemistry—the secrets of 101 scientific fields. And, in the opinion of Maj. Gen. George Grunert, commanding the 6th corps area, the courses given here are of utmost importance to the war effort.

Why Program Is Vital.

These old buildings, with their gables and spires, compose one unit of the Illinois Institute of Technology, which came into being in 1940 thru a consolidation of Armour Institute of Technology and Lewis institute. Here are some of the reasons it is considered vital to the war effort:

1. It has trained more war production technicians than any other privately operated school in the United States.
2. Illinois Tech has trained more war technicians in one city than have been trained in any other one city in the United States, with the possible exception of New York—and New York would have to pool its technical schools to top Illinois Tech's output.
3. Virtually every war production plant in Chicagoland numbers among its technical experts some alumni of Illinois Tech's war training courses.

Only three schools in the nation have trained more war technicians. One of them uses the mass extension course system and the other two function thru classes spread over state-wide areas. And all are state owned and operated. Illinois Tech has not trained its 15,363 alumni by mail. It has trained them in classrooms and has concentrated its efforts in the Chicago area.

Offer Chance to Pay Own Way.

When Philip D. Armour, in 1892, and Allen C. Lewis, in 1894, founded the original schools, it was their purpose to provide technical education for young men and women who had found it necessary to earn while they learned. For almost half a century they were identified with the finest traditions of training in engineering and leadership.

The basic purpose of the merger was to eliminate duplication, integrate the work of the two schools, and develop an improved educational program, as well as preserve the ideals of the founders. The consolidation, which created the largest institute of its kind in America, found the nation facing the war emergency.

Early in November, 1940, the United States Office of Education asked leading engineering institutions to submit plans for defense technical courses that would be short and intensive. They were to be tuition free to the students, the government bearing the expense. Early in 1941 16 courses had been approved and 5,000 prospective students interviewed.

Short Courses Increased to 26.

Of these, 1,500 were enrolled and 60 instructors had been selected from industry to teach the courses. Henry T. Heald, president of Illinois Tech, was named coördinator of the office of education for Illinois, southern Wisconsin, and part of Indiana.

By May the courses had been increased to 26 and there were 3,200 students. An aviation production course was added to meet needs of the new Buick Motors plant, which employed 800 of the 960 graduates in the course. On the day of the attack on Pearl Harbor, Illinois Tech already had sent 4,347 students into war industries.

By February this year the number had grown to 6,446. Now, classes and sections are graduated weekly. More than 50,000 have applied for the courses. The 15,363 who have been graduated were chosen as the best fitted. It was intended that applicants with high school educations would be accepted, but more than half of those taken were college graduates.

Leads in Ordnance Inspectors.

Virtually every course offered was intended to fill a specific need, and they were put into operation with little heraldry. So it was that when an official of the swiftly expanding Chicago ordnance district hurried to the school and asked how long it would take to train 200 ordnance inspectors, Dr. Heald was able to reply:

Illinois Tech now is training the largest group of ordnance inspectors in the nation. Upon their skill in inspecting shell and bomb parts may depend the outcome of a battle thousands of miles from here.

In April, when authorities in Washington asked the school if it could train women for certain war production jobs, the answer was that 135 had completed the course and were ready for assignment. Illinois Tech offered the nation's first courses, exclusively for women, in ordnance inspection, industrial chemistry, and engineering drafting. Three ordnance groups have been graduated and more will finish next month.

Class in Synthetic Rubber.

The school also offered the first courses in synthetic rubber production and a large class now is studying there. It is training 1,092 in industrial safety engineering out of a national field of 4,725. Federal reports show the school has trained 5 per cent of the nation's new war workers at 4 per cent of the national cost of such training.

The war training staff at Illinois Tech numbers more than 300 persons and is in charge of John I. Yellott, assisted by three major aids, several course supervisors, and a corps of office help. None outside the executives and supervisors are regular Illinois Tech faculty members. The institute's staff of more than 200 instructors is engaged entirely with the regular enrollment of more than 7,000, most of whom are engineering students preparing for wartime duties.

In the war courses there are two general divisions: [1] to give special knowledge and skills to persons in nontechnical occupations who want to transfer to war work and [2] to make more valuable thru part time classes persons who already are engaged in war production.

New Knowledge Saves $70,000.

One man who took the second course went back to the plant where he was employed and effected a revision in an operation on airplane engine valves; a revision that saves four minutes per operation, or $70,000 annually for the plant. In this course, 1,118 Chicago area plants have participated.

It is not by the war production courses alone, however, that Illinois Tech is aiding the war effort. It is calculated that 500,000 man hours are being saved to the war effort thru acceleration of the regular courses. In accelerating the 1943 senior class, all 1942 juniors went into the first semester of their senior work at the close of the regular 1942 school year.

Graduation in January, 1943, will mean a saving of five months; it will give the government 300 engineers nearly half a year early.

And in addition to training men and women for war production and research, the institute itself is doing actual work for the war department and against the axis.

One phase that can be mentioned is Illinois Tech's work on the new ultra high frequency phenomena thru which planes and ships can be detected more than 100 miles away. A special laboratory has been erected for this work and of the 40 institutions training men in application of the new technique Illinois Tech has the largest class and is the only school in the Chicago area to be elected for this vital task.

Totals Forbidden

The Office of Censorship in Washington, D. C., yesterday notified the Chicago Commission on National Defense that figures on the amount of scrap rubber collected must no longer be published. The action, it was said, presumably is to prevent axis agents from learning results of the 16 day rubber drive now in its second week.

The Office of Censorship said the White House would be the sole authority for disclosure of either national or state rubber scrap totals.

The announcement did not deter local salvage officials, however, from planning to reach untouched scrap in homes thru a house to house canvass this week by almost 40,000 block captains and salvage wardens.

Tremendous Accumulation.

Charles M. Hayes, chairman of the scrap coördinating committee, said, "Homes undoubtedly have only minor quantities of scrap rubber, perhaps less than a pound, which housewives think too little to bother with. The total accumulation of these small amounts would be tremendous, however."

Altho a statement, issued yesterday under Gov. Green's signature, said that response from all sections of Illinois had been wholehearted, local salvage officials expressed disappointment.

The statement, made by William L. McFetridge, Chicago salvage director; Wesley Nunn, advertising director of the Standard Oil company, and Nathan Leverone, state salvage director, said, "Eighty per cent of the rubber accumulated has been collected by juveniles and a few housewives. We are disappointed at the apathy of men. Very few have turned in their auto mats."

600 Pounds of Rubber Heels.

A considerable supply of scrap rubber was discovered behind the shoe repair shop of Frank Curcio, at 3254 Irving Park boulevard. For 17 years, Curcio has been throwing old rubber heels into a hole behind the shop. A week ago neighborhood youngsters found the lode and worked it for 600 pounds of heels. They bought defense stamps with the $6.

Evanston officials have collected 6,000 pounds of rubber and report 4,000 pounds still at various gas stations. Winnetka's 16 service stations have purchased another 10,000 pounds, and Wilmette reports 1,010 collected to date.

Four hundred iron and steel scrap dealers, at a special meeting called here yesterday by the War Production board, were asked to increase their shipments to steel mills by 15 per cent to prevent shutdown of furnaces.

Fit for Repairs

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 22.—From the rubber industry this afternoon there were complaints that the scrap rubber collection campaign had destroyed tires that might have been recapped. An investigation developed a variety of denials from government agencies.

Tending to confirm the rubber industry's complaint was a discovery that Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes' Petroleum Industry War council last Tuesday sent the following telegram, marked "confidential," to state and regional chairmen for the rubber drive:

"Scrap rubber items which might be rehabilitated for use should be mutilated or otherwise rendered unusable for any purpose except reclaiming. There must be no possibility of kickbacks from public that usable articles contributed or sold do not reach reclaiming plants.

Order Later Withdrawn.

"This rubber has been intrusted to the petroleum industry to help meet a war emergency and it is our duty to make sure that every pound collected is added to the national scrap pile. Please advise all service stations, bulk plants, and other collection depots."

At the Office of the Petroleum Industry war council this afternoon it was said that this order was withdrawn the next day. The spokesman said that the petroleum companies would sell to the government, without mutilation, any donated tires with remaining mileage or with a casing that would support a recap.

At the office of Rubber Reserve company, subsidiary of Reconstruction Finance corporation which is buying the scrap, a spokesman said the company was buying scrap only. He suggested that a tire good for more mileage might better be sold to a used tire dealer rather than scrapped.

More Lost Than Gained.

A official of a large tire manufacturing company, who requested that his name be suppressed, said that his investigation concluded that more tire mileage was being destroyed than was being gained by the scrap collection. The federal offices said this was an exaggeration, that few usable tires were being received at the gasoline station collection depots.

In the meantime, earlier in the day, Lessing J. Rosenwald, chief of the War Production's board's bureau of industrial conservation, renewed the appeal to the public to turn in all nonessential rubber articles and all rubber scrap to collection stations before the campaign ends on June 30.

SENTENCE RUSS FASCIST CHIEF IN U. S. TO 5 YEARS

Pleads Guilty to Espionage Charge; Fined $5,000.

Hartford, Conn., June 22 [Special].—Anastase Andrevitch Vonsiatsky, 42 years old, who married a Chicago heiress in 1922 and in the last decade became leader of the Russian National Fascist party, was sentenced to five years in prison and fined $5,000 today on his plea of guilty to conspiracy to violate the 1917 espionage act.

A. A. Vonsiatsky.

Vonsiatsky has been in jail here in default of $25,000 bond since his arraignment June 10. At that time his attorney, Martin W. Littleton of New York, filed a petition contending his client is insane and should be committed to an asylum. The petition was subsequently withdrawn.

Four Others Indicted.

Dr. Otto Willumeit, Chicago leader of the German-American bund, one of four other men indicted with Vonsiatsky on conspiracy charges, has already pleaded guilty. The others are the Rev. Kurt Molzahn, Philadelphia clergyman; Dr. Wolfgang Ebell, a physician of El Paso, Tex., whose naturalization papers were revoked in April, and Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze, former national head of the German-American bund.

The sentencing of Dr. Willumeit has been deferred pending the trial of other co-defendants. Molzahn and Dr. Ebell have indicated they will fight the charges, while Kunze is believed to have fled the country.

The grand jury charged that Vonsiatsky gave $2,800 to Kunze for traveling expenses so he could take military information abroad, the arrangements being completed last July in a meeting in a Chicago hotel. It was also charged Vonsiatsky was in touch with Japanese government officials to ascertain what type of information they desired.

Weds Chicago Heiress.

Vonsiatsky was a romantic international figure when he came to the United States as a 23-year-old former czarist officer in 1922. He took a laborer's job in a locomotive factory and lived in a workman's cottage, but before the end of the year startled the American social world by marrying the wealthy Mrs. Marion Ream Stephens, then 45, daughter of the late Norman B. Ream, Chicago capitalist.

The Vonsiatskys have made their home on an estate near Thompson, Conn., which became a headquarters for the Russian Fascist movement. Vonsiatsky was elected to leadership of the party in 1934.

PERMANENT GAS RATION IN EAST DELAYED A WEEK

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—The start of permanent gasoline rationing on the east coast, originally set for July 15, will be delayed until July 22, it was learned today.

The registration, scheduled for July 1-3, also will be postponed. New dates have not been decided.

Office of Price Administration officials said the delay was decided on to give motorists time to form car sharing clubs. Amount of gasoline to be allowed a car owner under permanent rationing will depend in part upon the extent to which he is sharing his transportation with others.

Fatal Quarrel

Earl Steyn, 20, and his wife, Rosanna, 16.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 22 [Special].—Earl Steyn, 20 years old, is being held on a charge of manslaughter following the death of his 2 months' old daughter. His wife, Rosanna, 16, was absolved of blame. Police said the couple admitted that a quarrel caused the baby's death. Steyn told the police, they said, that his wife dropped the baby when he struck her for "nagging" him.

MAYOR REVOKES LIQUOR LICENSE OF GERMAN SPY

The Haus Vaterland tavern at 3857 North Western avenue was closed by police last night after Mayor Kelly revoked its liquor license on recommendation of Police Commissioner Allman and Capt. Herbert Burns of the North Damen avenue station. The license was issued to Dr. Otto Willumeit, who recently pleaded guilty in Hartford, Conn., to conspiring to violate the espionage act. The license of the Pub, 2100 South State street, also was revoked.

EX-SOLDIER PUTS UP BOND FOR SON ON DRAFT CHARGE

Leaves Gandhi Follower Alone in Court.

William H. Barker, head of Boynton & Co., steel processors at 1275 North Bosworth avenue, yesterday posted $2,500 bond for the release of his son, Robert, who was indicted last Friday on a charge of draft evasion, and then left the United States courthouse alone.

The younger Barker, who is 29 years old and lives with his parents at 179 Prospect street, Highland Park, was arrested in August, 1941, on a draft evasion charge and spent a week in jail before the charge was dismissed because he was more than 28 years old, the maximum age at that time for military service.

Father Opposed to Views.

The elder Barker, a former vice president of the Northern Trust company, does not subscribe to the pacifist views of his son. He was a lieutenant in the Canadian army, served overseas in the Boer war, was a captain and instructor in the World war.

When a photographer for an afternoon newspaper sought to take the father's picture yesterday, he assaulted the photographer and smashed his camera.

Young Barker, a graduate of Cornell university and an assistant to his father in the Boynton company, claims to be a follower of the philosophy of Gandhi, the Indian apostle of passive resistance.

One to Five Years Possible.

Barker faces a one to five year federal prison sentence if convicted of draft evasion.

Russell I. Smith, 4853 Kenwood avenue, a University of Chicago law student, who on June 11 accepted a three year federal prison sentence with a hearty laugh and a remark that "the army can't get me now," surrendered yesterday to begin serving the sentence. He had been granted a stay to take university examinations.

2D BUND MEMBER CALLED BY JURY ENDS OWN LIFE

New York, June 22 [Special].—A second German-American Bund member has committed suicide within a week while under subpena by the federal grand jury investigating the bund, United States Attorney Mathias F. Correa revealed today. Correa also announced filing of denaturalization proceedings against a Bronx air raid warden.

Mr. Correa said the suicide was George Schwindl, 43 years old, found dead of gas poisoning in his Manhattan home Sunday. He was naturalized in 1936 and joined the bund in 1939.

The other who escaped testifying by ending his life was George Froboese, Milwaukee, Wis., who jumped in front of a train in Indiana.

The air raid warden who faces loss of his citizenship and possible internment as an enemy alien was described as Eugene Traxel, 43, the Bronx.

F. D. R. Gets Bill to Boost Pay for Submarine Duty

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—The senate passed and sent to the White House today a bill authorizing a 25 per cent increase in pay for naval officers on submarine duty. Another provision provides a $5 an hour bonus for navy divers engaged in hazardous undertakings or submerging more than 90 feet. At almost the same time the house passed and sent to the senate emergency legislation setting aside the peacetime officer selection system of the navy and the marine corps and permitting temporary promotions during the war.

STOLEN CLOTHING RECOVERED.

Sergt. Michael Phelan of the police cartage detail yesterday recovered $5,000 worth of clothing stolen from trucks in a room at the Bernice hotel at 2945 Michigan avenue. A search was begun for the man who rented the room.

Time Table Changes

Super Chief · El Capitan

Chicago - Los Angeles

Effective July 7, 1942

● At the suggestion of the Office of Defense Transportation, Western Lines have agreed to lengthen the schedules of certain streamlined trains between Chicago and the Pacific Coast by two hours. This arrangement will affect the Santa Fe's bi-weekly streamliners SUPER CHIEF and EL CAPITAN, as follows:

Super Chief

● Effective with departures from Chicago and Los Angeles Tuesday, July 7th, 1942, the Super Chief will operate between those points on a schedule of 41¾ hours. The new time will continue to equal the fastest obtainable rail schedules between Chicago and California.

No. 17 Westbound	The Super Chief Effective July 7, 1942	No. 18 Eastbound
5:30 pm	Lv. . . Chicago . . Ar.	1:45 pm
12:45 am	Lv. . Kansas City . Ar.	5:45 am
9:15 am	Ar. . Los Angeles . Lv.	6:00 pm

● Days of departure will be unchanged: from Chicago, Tuesdays and Saturdays, arriving Los Angeles Thursdays and Mondays; from Los Angeles, Tuesdays and Fridays, arriving Chicago Thursdays and Sundays.

Use Tuesday Departures, If You Can

● There is invariably greater demand for space on the Super Chief leaving Chicago Saturday and Los Angeles Friday.

Therefore, if you contemplate using the Super Chief, we urge you to plan a Tuesday departure, if you can do so without interference with essential business. In this way you can help us spread the load, serve you better individually, and render maximum wartime service to all.

● A recent survey showed 74.8% of Super Chief passengers traveling on military or civilian business.

El Capitan

● El Capitan, twice-a-week all-chair-car streamlined train, will operate between Chicago and Los Angeles on the same days of the week and the same elapsed time, 41¾ hours, as the Super Chief, as follows:

No. 21 Westbound	El Capitan Effective July 7, 1942	No. 22 Eastbound
5:45 pm	Lv. . . Chicago . . Ar.	7:15 am
12:57 am	Lv. . Kansas City . Ar.	11:15 pm
9:30 am	Ar. . Los Angeles . Lv.	11:30 am

The Chief

● No change at terminals. The Chief will continue to be the fastest daily train between Chicago and California.

No. 19 Westbound	The Chief Effective July 5, 1942	No. 20 Eastbound
12:01 pm	Lv. . . Chicago . . Ar.	1:15 pm

Other Transcontinental Service

● Other famous daily Santa Fe trains between Chicago and California—the California Limited, the Grand Canyon Limited, and the Scout—will continue uninterrupted operation. Such minor changes in their present schedules as are deemed necessary to meet existing travel conditions will become effective with departures from Chicago and California points on Sunday, July 5th, 1942.

Let's All Pull Together

★ Increasingly, under war conditions, the railroads must furnish mass transportation, military and civilian, for the nation. The load is already great—and growing steadily ★ Military movements come first, without question. You can help us maintain adequate rail service for civilian travel as well, in these ways: Make reservations and buy tickets early. Cancel reservations promptly, if necessary. Spread the load by avoiding week-end and holiday rush periods.

FORT IMPERILED BY SUB SHELLING OF OREGON DUNES

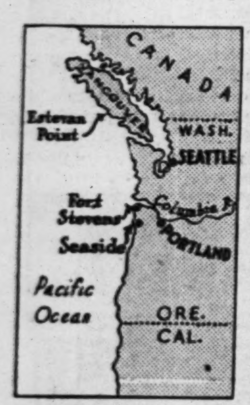
Seaside, Ore., June 20—(AP).—A submarine, presumably Japanese and big enough to operate 5,000 miles from home pitched nine shells of an estimated 60 pounds each onto the sand dunes that wrinkle the Oregon coastline from the Columbia river south to this resort town, a survey disclosed today.



Arrows locate Seaside and Fort Stevens, Ore., and Estevan, on Vancouver Island.

In this area is Fort Stevens, sentinel guarding the mouth of the nation's second largest river. Col. Carl S. Doney, commander of the Columbia river harbor defenses, said some of the shells landed in the proximity of the reservation—"too damned close."

Second Such Shelling.

It was the second such shelling on the western North American coast since Saturday night. Estevan point on Vancouver island was shelled Saturday night.

Nobody was injured by the 15 minute seaside bombardment starting at 11:30 p. m. Pacific war time, Sunday [1:30 a. m. Chicago war time today] and no military or civilian structures were damaged, but some of the shells burst within 500 yards of the Jean Heffling farm home.

"I was scared to death," said Mrs. Heffling, and her husband echoed agreement. Three year old Donna Jean Heffling fell out of bed in fright but her brother, Keith, 10, wasn't awakened.

High Velocity Shells.

Fragments found in craters indicated to Col. Doney that the projectiles were of high velocity, low trajectory, fired from a submarine several miles offshore. The pattern of craters indicated the sub drifted or sailed about three miles during the bombardment.

Col. Doney said there was no doubt the shells came from a submarine and that a vigorous air-surface search for the invader was being pressed.

Tells of Estevan Shelling.

Zeballos, B. C., June 22 [Canadian Press].—An Indian fisherman told tonight how exploding shells from enemy craft attacking the radio station at Estevan Point Saturday night caused Indians to flee their homes on a nearby reservation in night attire and seek safety in their boats in Hesquiat harbor six miles away.

The Indian, Ben Thomas, came here from Estevan Point, 45 miles northward up the west coast of Vancouver Island, with the first eyewitness account of the half-hour shelling, which Defense Minister Ralston said at Ottawa today was carried out by possibly two enemy craft.

"Shells whizzed over my home on the Indian reservation near the point," Thomas said. "There were about 19 shots, but none did any damage.

"I was plenty scared and so were my neighbors, and we raced for our boats. Some of the Indians were just going to bed when the firing started and fled to their boats only partially dressed."

U.S. NAVY SILENT ON JAP MOVES IN ALASKA ISLANDS

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—Japan was believed today to be continuing her thus far costly operations among the western Aleutian Islands, but the navy maintained a firm silence as to what might actually be going on.

Indications were that the recurrent bad weather in that section of the North Pacific had once more provided a cover for the enemy's surface craft which already have landed apparently small forces on Attu and Kiska Islands.

The last word on the situation was the navy's communique yesterday reporting that army aircraft had scored bomb hits on a cruiser and sunk a transport, raising to seven the number of ships which the navy officially has reported damaged. In addition, Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, recently made public a report that a cruiser had been sunk and an aircraft carrier damaged.

AUSSIE PROTESTS COMMUNIQUES' 'SOOTHING SIRUP'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

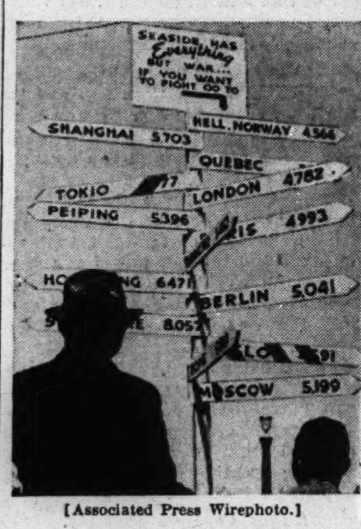
MELBOURNE, Australia, June 22.—Seventy-eight year old William M. [Billy] Hughes, prime minister of Australia in the last World war, struck out today at the "soothing sirup" of official communiques, which he said seldom jibe with the facts of the war news.

"The sands of time are running out against Australia," he declared. "We're ranged against fanatics, and we're fighting like men and women doing a government job. Every day the people must be given their daily dope. Every day they must be told we're winning. 'If they are not told,' officials say, 'they won't sleep happily.'

"Every retreat is a masterpiece of military strategy conceived by British genius. But now Tobruk has fallen and the Russians are being driven back."

War's Milepost

(Story in adjoining column.)



[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

When citizens of Seaside, Ore., erected this signpost two years ago, the war was far away. But it was on a nearby beach that Japanese shells landed harmlessly Sunday night in the latest attack on the American mainland.

CAPTIVE MARINE ON JAP RADIO; KIN GET HIS MESSAGE

U. S. Sends Transcript to His Parents.

East St. Louis, Ill., June 22 [Special].—The transcript of a message purportedly broadcast by an American marine from a Japanese prison camp has been furnished by the provost marshal's office in Washington to his parents here, it was announced today.

The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. Rucker. Rucker is superintendent of the Aluminum Ore company plant here and Mrs. Rucker is active in the Red Cross.

Taken Prisoner at Guam.

Their son, John Rucker, was taken prisoner with other forces and civilians on the Island of Guam, early in the war. His family had had indirect information from Jap broadcasts that he is among prisoners held on the central mainland of the Japanese group. Several persons living on the west coast had written Mrs. Rucker saying they had heard messages from John via short wave Jap stations.

The government put this footnote to the transcript:

"The war department is unable to verify the contents of the message or that the person therein was not acting under duress."

Fifty Prisoners in Group.

"This is John Rucker, private first class, United States marine corps, and my home is in East St. Louis, Ill. I was taken prisoner at Guam the third day after war was declared," the message said in part. "There were about 50 prisoners all told, naval, marine, and civilian. I am speaking from a prison camp in Japan, where we were all brought the 15th of January.

"Our daily routine and schedule is very much the same as it was in Guam. I think most of the men are satisfied with their treatment, under the present circumstances, and are cheerful for the most part. I hope this is being heard by America, as it may help to dispel a few of the worries that I now are going on in the minds of the mens' families."

"It sounds just like John," Mrs. Rucker said. "I see no reason to think otherwise."

NEW DEAL PLANS NEW WATERWAY IN NEW JERSEY

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—House Majority Leader John McCormack [D., Mass.] disclosed today that congress soon may be asked to vote millions of dollars for a 14 foot barge canal across New Jersey to complete the inland water route, linking gulf ports with the east.

He said army engineers already were studying details of the project, and it appeared likely that administration leaders would push the measure along in time to include it in a pending $93,000,000 bill which provides funds for a barge canal across Florida.

While details remain to be worked out, McCormack said the New Jersey canal—part of a broad plan to provide safe and adequate means of getting oil to the east—would run from the Delaware river to some point on New York harbor.

The New Jersey canal, with the Florida project, he said, would fill in the "missing link" in the inland water route.

GIVE UP COMFORT FOR VICTORY, RED ENVOY SUGGESTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 22.—Ivan Maisky, the soviet ambassador, today said he looked forward "with greater confidence than ever to the speedy destruction of the invader." He spoke at the opening of an "eastern front" exhibition at Devonshire house.

Maisky said the Russians had subordinated "all personal considerations, conveniences, comforts, and everything else" to victory. He added that he thought the sooner this spirit spread to other people of the united nations, the sooner victory will be achieved.

The exhibition includes war material from Russia and a large number of letters from Russian soldiers acknowledging gifts from Britons.

AUSTRALIA ARMY WIVES TO COOK FOR LABOR ARMY

Women Get Minimum Pay of $9.75 a Week.

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MELBOURNE, Australia, June 22.—Thousands of Australian housewives whose husbands are in the armed forces are to be offered jobs as cooks in industrial welfare departments in an ambitious plan to feed 300,000 war workers in government operated messes.

The women are to be paid a minimum weekly wage of $9.75. Any male cooks will get $16.25.

A hundred wives already are enrolled in a six weeks cookery course in Melbourne. Additional schools are to be opened elsewhere.

Meals to Be Standardized.

Meals are to be provided on a nonprofit basis, probably costing less than a shilling [16c] each. Menus are to be standardized. They will consist of thick soup, a choice of three or four hot entrées, choice of desserts such as stewed fruit, jellies, milk and cereal pudding, or Australian steamed pudding.

Workers are to be served in attractive mess rooms. Instead of bare tables and benches there will be white table cloths and chairs.

Workers will be able to get a hot meal at any time of day or night. Tea bench service "far superior to anything of its kind in America" will provide tea at rest periods for a halfpenny a cup. [Australian workers knock off at 11 a. m. and 4 p. m. for a cup of tea.]

At remote factories canteens will be established to sell tobacco, matches, sandwiches and soft drinks.

Girls Make Straw Mattresses.

Australian school children are eager to take some active part in the war effort and are making articles for the national emergency service, the Red Cross, and civilian aid.

Girls in domestic science courses have made 5,000 straw mattresses and 5,000 rugs. They are also making dresses, skirts, and underwear for bombed out victims, and knitting baby clothes for use in air raid shelters.

Manual training classes in high schools have produced 3,000 needles and other instruments for making camouflage nets. The boys have made gas masks and respirator stands. For the Red Cross they have made cribbage, dart and checker boards, and in the future will make tea trays, bed screens, bed rests, small tables, and foot rests.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military services, both in the daily columns and personally, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

Mrs. C. D. writes: "My husband has been given a 1-A [R] classification. Is there a possibility of his being inducted into the armed forces this year?"

ANSWER: Your husband will not be accepted for military service until his physical defect, which the army examining physicians diagnosed as remediable, has been corrected.

H. L. C. asks: "Is it a fact that hay fever victims are classified as 1-B? I have heard that a letter from one's own physician stating the disability aids the draft board physician in making the recommendation. Is that true?"

ANSWER: All hay fever sufferers do not receive a 1-B classification. Unless the case is found to be severe, the registrant will not be rejected. If the examining army physician—not the draft board doctor—concurs in the diagnosis of the registrant's physician, who found the hay fever to be a severe case, the registrant would be rejected and given a 1-B classification.

Mrs. V. S. asks: "Would you please tell me if a man with only one eye will be accepted in the armed forces?"

ANSWER: No. His handicap would prevent his enlisting in any branch of the land or naval forces. If his blindness is not due to a progressive organic change and if the vision in the other eye is at least 20/200, correctible with glasses to 20/40, he will be given a 1-B classification. It is possible he might sometime be inducted for limited service.

E. K. asks: "What are the age requirements for the army, marine, coast guard, and naval reserve?"

ANSWER: The age requirement for enlistment in the army is 18 to 44, inclusive; for the marine corps, 17 to 29, inclusive; for the coast guard, 17 to 55, inclusive. Applicants for the naval reserve must have reached their 17th birthday and be not more than 50 years and six months old.

Mrs. H. N. writes: "I would like some information about sending a package to my brother. I have a number of games and magazines to send him as he has made requests for these. He is at a post outside the United States. Can I send them direct to him and be sure that he will get them?"

ANSWER: If you observe the following rules it is quite certain your brother will receive the package. In addressing mail or packages to army personnel serving outside the United States, the mail should show: Grade, first name in full, middle initial, and last name of person addressed, followed by his army serial number if known; letter or number of the company or other similar organization of which the soldier is a member; designation of the regiment to which the company belongs, and army postoffice number in care of the appropriate postmaster. The location of the overseas station should not be used. The package must not exceed 11 pounds in weight or 18 inches in length or 42 inches in length and girth combined.

REVEAL NARROW ESCAPE OF U.S. GENERAL IN INDIA

NEW DELHI, India, June 22 (AP).—Caught in a monsoon storm on a flight in a four motored bomber from India to China, Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, chief of the United States army air force in India, and several of his staff had a narrow escape early this month, officers disclosed today.

Attempting a nonstop flight from Calcutta to Kunming, an air line distance of 950 miles over some of the worst terrain in the world, the general and his staff soon ran into a storm which forced them to seek a landing field. They found one inside Chinese territory, but it was so obscured by rain they could not be certain whether it was in Chinese or Japanese hands, altho they flew as low as 10 feet trying to read the markings on plane wings.

They flew back to India. When they landed they had only 40 gallons of gasoline in the tanks, enough for 10 minutes' flight. Besides Brereton, the others in the party were Col. Victor Strahm of Bowling Green, Ky, deputy chief of staff; Col. E. C. Oliver of Maxwell field, Montgomery, Ala.; Maj. William Hobbs of San Antonio, Tex.; Col. Clarence Combs, and Maj. Donald Kaiser of McComb, O.

3 MILLION FIND SAFETY IN 'RAID' ON BOSTON AREA

Boston, Mass., June 22 (AP).—Greater Boston's streets were cleared as if by magic today when air raid sirens sounded at 10:36 a. m., Chicago war time, in a surprise daylight test described as the most comprehensive yet held in such a metropolitan area.

An estimated 3,000,000 people were held in places of safety or sent scurrying to shelter. Ambulances and fire engines roared thru empty streets to theoretical bomb blasts.

The streets filled when the steady wail of the "all clear" sounded 14 minutes later.

MODIFIED FORM OF CIVILIAN WAR PENSIONS O. K.'D

Senate Passes Bill Limited to Injuries Abroad.

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—The senate passed today a bill authorizing compensation for the relatives of non-military personnel injured, killed or captured at military installations outside the United States, but balked at immediate action on legislation providing monthly benefits for civilian victims of enemy action at home.

The revised bill, which was sent to the house by a voice vote, would empower the employés compensation commission to assume liability for civilian employés of contractors building military bases if the employés suffred injury, death or capture at enemy hands.

Provides for Relatives.

Sen. John Thomas [R., Ida.], explained that this would make provision for the relatives of men who were seized by the enemy at Wake Island, or at other outposts taken by the Japanese.

The senate sent to its finance committee, however, a much more sweeping measure to which the employé compensation originally had been attached.

This bill, introduced by Sen Claude Pepper [D., Fla.], would authorize the payment of monthly benefits ranging from $10 to $85 to civilian residents in the United States who suffered one-third total disability, death or capture in enemy attacks on this country.

Fear Vast Pension Scheme.

Sen. Walter F. George [D., Ga.], chairman of the finance committee, and other senators contended that the measure would set up vast "pension" system under which possibly 10,000,000 persons eventually might receive government benefits.

Before anything like this were done, George insisted, the finance committee ought to look into the matter. The upshot of the debate was that Pepper agreed to enactment of the employé compensation section separately and consented to the remainder of the bill going to the finance committee, where George said it would get early consideration.

BOY FOUND HANGED BY PLAY ROPE.

Clarence Wilson, 10 years old, a Negro, was found hanged by a rope he had been using as a lasso yesterday at 6719 Langley avenue. He lived at 6723 Langley avenue. The rope was caught on a beam and police said they believed he had died in a play accident.

TRIBUNE RECEIVES FRESH SUPPLIES OF SERVICE PINS

Added supplies of service pins for relatives and sweethearts of men in the armed forces will be put on sale this week in the Tribune's public service offices at 1 South Dearborn street and in Tribune Tower, John Gillespie, director of the offices, said yesterday.

The pins, which have been selling at a rate of more than 500 daily, are designed for persons having a father, husband, son, brother or sweetheart in the army, navy, marines, coast guard or the air services of the various forces. They are sold for 10 cents plus 1 cent jewelry tax or 15 cents by mail. All profit will be given to the United Service Organizations.

Six hundred pins were sold over the counter and by mail yesterday, bringing the total to 47,747.

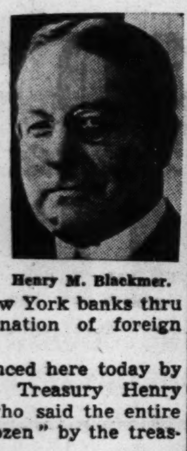
Reveal Blackmer Holds $10,000,000 in U. S.

Washington, D. C., June 22 [Special].—Henry M. Blackmer, wealthy American expatriate who chose 18 years ago to become a man without a country rather than testify in the Teapot Dome oil scandal, is the owner of $10,000,000 in cash and securities found hidden under other names in New York banks thru a wartime examination of foreign bank accounts.



Henry M. Blackmer.

This was announced here today by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., who said the entire fund has been "frozen" by the treasury department.

The freezing order, which was issued on the theory that Blackmer is a "national" of France altho a United States citizen, means that the accounts cannot be drawn on without treasury permission.

Believed in Switzerland.

Now 72 years old, Blackmer is thought to be living in Switzerland, where he was reported to have made his way at the time of the fall of France. Morgenthau explained the treasury has been making a systematic search of all assets in this country belonging to persons living abroad. The Blackmer accounts, he said, were disguised under mysterious names or identified only by numbers.

Blackmer slipped quietly away from this country in 1924 when the senate sought to question him in connection with the notorious Continental Trading company deal after $230,000 worth of liberty bonds held by Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, were found to coincide with numbers on bonds purchased previously by the company.

Capitalist from Colorado.

Before he embarked on his self-chosen exile, Blackmer was Colorado's leading lawyer, financier, railroad owner, mine magnate, and oil man. Starting his career as a prosecuting attorney in Colorado Springs, he prospered in every field of business and finance he entered. He was known both for his lavish spending and his philanthropy.

Investigation of affairs of the Continental Trading company by the senate revealed that this company, a Canadian corporation set up by Blackmer and three other oil men, purchased more than 33,000,000 barrels of oil at $1.50 per barrel and resold it at $1.75 to companies controled by the organizers for a huge profit to themselves.

Defeated Extradition.

Blackmer established a home in Paris, where he successfully defeated efforts of the United States to extradite him. His passport was revoked in 1926. He eventually paid a $60,000 fine for contempt for refusing to answer subpenas and settled his civil income tax troubles by paying the government $3,670,784.

Remaining against him, however, was a criminal charge of income tax evasion in the federal court at Denver. This lone remaining charge has kept him in exile. He last figured in the news in May, 1939, when he married a Norwegian soprano, Eide Norena, a former singer in the Metropolitan opera.

When the second World war broke out, Blackmer was living with his bride in a new home on the Avenue Foch in Paris.

SENATORS VOTE TO CLOSE WPA REGION OFFICES

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—A senate appropriations subcommittee voted today to close six regional offices of the Works Projects administration in order to keep all present state WPA offices operating.

The action came as senators gave approval to a new $280,000,000 work relief appropriation for the next fiscal year already voted by the house at the request of the President. The house had approved closing of some state WPA offices.

Regional offices expected to be shut under the subcommittee action were in New York City, Atlanta, New Orleans, Chicago, St. Paul, and Salt Lake City.

32 EMPLOYES HERE.

George Field, director of the Chicago regional office of the WPA, said the order to close the office would affect 32 staff members, if passed by the senate.

'Earl' Seized on Charge of Entering U. S. Illegally

Los Angeles, Cal., June 22 (AP).—Immigration authorities said today they were holding Owen Cathcart-Jones, who claims he is the Earl of Cathcart and a lieutenant in the royal Canadian air force, on a charge of unlawfully entering the United States. He was held in jail incommunicado, except for his show-girl bride, Sharon Hurley, whom he married two months ago. The flyer had been in Hollywood as technical adviser for an aviation picture.

THE QUESTION.

When you hear a train whistle does it bring back any childhood memories?

WHERE ASKED.

Garland building, 58 East Washington street.

THE ANSWERS.

Christine Jensen, electrologist, 8036 Vincennes avenue—Every time I hear a train whistle blow I think of strawberries. We used to spend hours picking wild berries on the other side of the tracks from our home. When we heard a train coming we would grab our baskets and cross the tracks so we wouldn't be separated from our home by the train.

Cecile Krane, salesgirl, 4121 Armitage avenue—For me it seems to suggest holidays with lots of people and activity. We had so many out of town relatives and friends who were always coming and going by train. They always made long visits at our home.

Joyce C. Ralph, file clerk, 7218 South Paulina street—My older sister took me for a ride in her car. We were about to cross the tracks when we heard a train whistle. Instead of trying to stop she thought it was safer to cross. The whistle was shrill and I was scared. I can't help but shudder when I hear one.

Helen Busse, milliner, 2226 North Lamont avenue—When I was six we decided to move to Chicago from New York City. It was my first train ride and all during the ride I was thinking how wonderful it would be not to have to live in a big city. When I hear a train whistle I always remember that trip.

Margaret Stern, department store manager, 5036 North Ridgeway avenue, Ravenswood—My father attended many conventions when I was young. We used to see him off on the train and several days later we would greet him with his arms full of souvenirs. It seems as if he should appear with more gifts whenever I hear a train whistle.

Mrs. Leo E. Seigel, housewife, 4920 North Drake avenue—When I was a child I lived in a small village in Europe where there weren't any trains. It was a real event in our life when we took a trip to the larger neighboring village to watch the train pass thru. I am always reminded of those trips when I hear a train whistle.

BROOKS ASKS ODT CLARIFY ITS PLEA TO ABOLISH FAIRS

Asserts Officials Placed in Unfair Position.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 22.—Sen. Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] wrote to Joseph B. Eastman of the Office of Defense Transportation this afternoon suggesting that the ODT issue orders to supplement last week's press releases if it wants to abolish state and county fairs and business conventions for the duration of the war.

The letter was prompted by complaints and inquiries received from bewildered fair association managements in Illinois.

Calls Release Unfair.

"You have issued a press release," the senator told Eastman, "which places the representatives of the State of Illinois and the county fairs in the position of failing to coöperate with the federal government in transportation matters if they do not comply with the press release and close their fairs. I suggest that it is not fair to a representative body of citizens who wish to do everything within their power to win this war as promptly as possible."

Brooks enclosed letters he received from Howard Leonard, Illinois director of agriculture, and from W. R. Hayes, president of the Southern Illinois State Fair association.

Leonard recited the contract obligations which had been taken months ago. He suggested the press release was issued too late.

Wickard Urges Fairs Held.

Hayes' letter related that four months ago Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard issued a statement saying that the administration favored fairs as usual this year to stimulate production of food. Hayes said that after Wickard's statement the Southern Illinois State Fair association spent $3,500 on billboard signs, road banners, and premium books for its annual event.

At Eastman's office it was said that the ODT, thru its press release, intentionally left up to the fair operators the question of canceling.

THREAT IN MAILS PUTS BOY, 15, ON 5 YEAR PROBATION

Edgar Brewster Cox, 15 years old, a high school pupil, was placed on five years' probation yesterday by Federal Judge John P. Barnes on charges of sending a threatening letter. Cox, described as a shy youth who never before had been in trouble, was arrested a month ago after writing a letter to a neighbor threatening to blow up three south side bungalows near his home at 6117 South Kilpatrick avenue unless he were paid $2,000. Agents of the federal bureau of investigation caught him creeping thru the weeds to keep a rendezvous with his intended victim. Since that time he has been in custody of his mother.

U. S. MUST CURB NONWAR COSTS, GREEN ASSERTS

Asks Nation's Governors to Pare Budgets.

Asheville, N. C., June 22 [Special].—Governments must give up the "sugar" of peacetime spending just as the public has had to curb its sweet tooth to help win the war, Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois asserted here today in an address at the National Conference of Governors.

"The federal, state and local governments must tighten their belts on all nonwar expenditures," Green said. "This is particularly true of the federal government, where increased expenditures have been the greatest.

"The people of America are paying without complaint the unprecedented cost of the present struggle, but they expect—and rightly—every possible economy in public expenditures.

Asks Curb on Luxury.

"The individual citizen has had to trim his budget to allow for the payment of war taxes and to buy defense bonds. The governments can do likewise."

Before Green spoke a message from President Roosevelt was received by the governors. It declared that in the days and months ahead the people of the world would decide "by their work, by their sacrifices and thru the instrumentalities of their armed forces whether generations to come shall live and work as free men or slave states."

In his appeal for a curb on nonvital spending, the Illinois governor observed that decisive action for economy by the government would help check inflation.

Urges Care on Budgets.

"This can be done if there is the will to do it," he said. "The argument of recent years that swollen federal spending was needed to maintain purchasing power is, with inflationary pressure increasing, no longer valid."

Green suggested that the governors prepare budgets, for submission to the next regulation state legislative sessions providing only for essential state functions.

Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota spoke earlier, picturing a world association of free people as a possibility after the war.

JUDGE INDICATES RULING FOR CITY ON MILK CARTONS

Circuit Judge Benjamin P. Epstein yesterday said he will rule tomorrow on the city's petition to dismiss a temporary injunction restraining officials from preventing the Dean Milk company's use of paper cartons.

Judge Epstein indicated that he will grant the city's petition at that time, but added that he might issue another injunction in favor of the milk company if the injunction wording were changed. The Dean company has been using paper cartons in the city since obtaining the temporary injunction in December, 1940.

The case is expected eventually to reach the state Supreme court.

TRAGEDY BREAKS IDYL OF FAMILY ON A BLEAK ISLE

Last Chapter Written in San Miguel Saga.

Santa Barbara, Cal., June 22 [Wide World].—A gunshot, whose echoes were soon lost in the chill wind that sweeps across bleak San Miguel Island, has ended the strange saga of America's modern "Swiss Family Robinson."

The shot, self-inflicted, ended the life of Herbert Lester, the white haired New York blueblood who isolated himself on uninhabited San Miguel 14 years ago and reared his family there.

A few days before he killed himself, a reporter traveled the 40 miles from here across the turbulent Santa Barbara channel in a small motorboat to get what probably is the last story on this strange adventure.

It's the story of an average man who had the familiar desire to "get away from it all" and set himself up on some kind of an island paradise.

A Weary Cliff Dweller.

Lester was a World war veteran who had been in the machine tool business in New York and Europe. In 1928, tired of Park avenue, New York, "cliff dwelling," and eating at drug store counters "like a pig at a sty," he decided to chuck everything.

He arranged with a friend, Robert Brooks, Los Angeles business man, to live as caretaker on San Miguel, which Brooks leased from the navy for the grazing of a flock of 1,000 sheep.

San Miguel is eight miles long and 20 miles out from the nearest point of coast. Its sheer 500 foot cliffs make landing hazardous. The only shelter is a weather beaten one story ranchhouse of a half dozen rooms, built 40 years ago from the wreck of a lumber schooner.

The only communication with the mainland was by occasional passing boats. In an emergency, all Lester could do was raise a distress flag and hope somebody would see it.

He Marries a Librarian.

He lived there alone two years. Then on a furlough back east he met Elizabeth Sherman, a librarian, and member of an old New England family, and asked her to marry him.

"And I have never regretted it," she said a few days ago.

They had two daughters, tow headed little girls now 11 and 8.

The island is too barren even to grow anything but grass, and the family's food had to be brought in batches several times a year by boat or by the planes of Santa Barbara friends. Their drinking water was salty and they had no refrigeration.

A Strange Collection.

The house was full of island curiosities. Ash trays were Indian pestles centuries old. On the walls were skulls of the big stellar sea lions. Many of these animals bark on the far shore—the only wild animals on the island except midget foxes.

In the dining room were a large assortment of green glass globe floats from Japanese fishnets, and a 50-gallon barrel which Lester found in the sand full of 50-year-old bourbon from a 1900 wreck. In the living room was the ship's safe of the S. S. Cuba, wrecked on San Miguel in 1929 with a $1,000,000 cargo of gold and silver, subsequently salvaged.

Lester spent his time gathering firewood, taking weather observations for the government, and repairing the little pier where the Indian sheep shearers, their only regular visitors, loaded the wool and lambs each March.

An Island Education.

Thru newspapers, the radio and lessons from their mother in a little back yard schoolhouse, the little girls were educated and were brighter than average. One of them read "Gone With the Wind" in two days.

Now their strange adventure is ended. Mrs. Lester and the girls came ashore with the coroner who went over to investigate Lester's death.

Lester was a soft-spoken, rather shy, but amiable man, seemingly contented in his hermitlike existence. What led him to end his life is as mysterious as the force that impelled him to go to the island.

SHIRLEY BORK.

Mrs. Julia Bork, 46 years old, 1613 Elston avenue, who recently completed her second one-year federal prison sentence for theft of checks from mail boxes, yesterday was held in $5,000 bond by Judge John J. Griffin in Felony court on a charge of having beaten her daughter, Shirley, 6. The child was taken in custody by Racine police last Friday after neighbors reported hearing the child's screams. The child's eyes were blackened and her body bore many bruises. Mrs. Bork denied she hit the child. Judge Griffin ordered her husband, Michael, a janitor, brought into court today.

O. K. MOVE TO LET TEACHERS PLAY POLITICAL ROLES

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—All teachers would be free to take part in politics under a measure passed by the senate today and sent to the house.

Senators approved without a dissenting vote an amendment to the Hatch act which would exempt teachers from political restrictions imposed on persons paid with federal funds.

Sen. Prentiss M. Brown [D., Mich.], said that there was no intention to ban political activity by teachers under the Hatch act but that rulings by the civil service commission and Ohio and Minnesota authorities had applied the law to them.

"We need this type of men and women in public life," Brown said.

HERALDED DRIVE FOR ANOTHER DRY LAW FIZZLES OUT

Invited Prohibitionists Fail to Show Up.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 22.—Today was a blue Monday for the drys in their campaign to return prohibition to America as a wartime measure. It was to have been a red letter day with prohibitionists scheduled to gather here from all parts of the country to attend a congressional hearing on the first of several pending dry bills.

Many of the leading dry advocates of other years, including John D. Rockefeller Jr. and Henry Ford, were invited to attend. The early announcements emphasized that all who cared to would have their chance to speak their minds on the demon rum.

Hearing Called Off.

But the hearing was suddenly called off and the dry cause appeared to have suffered an abrupt demise. None was more disconsolate than Edward Page Gaston, self-styled founder of the World Prohibition federation, who has been working for months to line up the congressional drys for action on the pending legislation.

He admitted today that he is "pretty sore" about the whole thing and indicated that fifth columnists have been at work in the prohibitionist ranks.

"I think I have been sold out by certain people," he declared.

In his formal announcement of the postponement of the hearing, Gaston deplored the lack of solidarity among the drys and said that he, at least, intends to keep up the fight.

"It is a pity that the reform forces of the country are not as yet wholly agreed upon a legislative program," said his statement.

The hearing was to have been held in connection with a bill which would ban the sale or possession of liquor in and near army and navy establishments thruout the country. Also pending are measures to outlaw liquor in the District of Columbia and a blanket prohibition bill for the nation.

Many Send Regrets.

The absence of many members of congress from the capital during the summer was the reason given by Gaston for the postponement of the hearing. It was learned, however, that many of the notables whom he gratuitously named as possible witnesses in his original announcement have lately sent in their regrets.

Rockefeller wrote:

"Altho I have always been a teetotaler and still am, I have long felt I had no right to enforce my views on those who had thought otherwise and who had an equal right to their own views."

From the office of Henry Ford came word that the demands being made on the automobile magnate's time in arms production would preclude his appearance. Among the others who declined to testify were:

POLICE ELEVATOR VETERAN RETIRES AFTER 31 YEARS

Henry J. Gill, veteran police elevator operator, retired yesterday after 31 years in the city's service. He is 65 years old and lives at 3912 North Claremont avenue.

Mr. Gill's first job for the city was in the city hall when it was opened in 1911. Later he worked in the public library, then was sent to the old Harrison street station.

"I carried every crook in Chicago in those days," he said last night, "from Capone down to purse snatchers." He was transferred to Central station when the coping fell at Harrison street, wrecking the building, and has been at Central since.

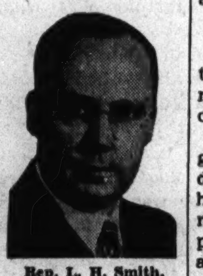
SAUERKRAUT TIN CAN CURB LEAVES SOUR REACTION

Clatter Raised in House Over Discrimination.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 22. — In righteous indignation, Rep. Lawrence H. Smith [R., Wis.] rose in the house today to assail what he labeled one of the most horrendous campaigns of administration burocrats in the history of the United States.



Rep. L. H. Smith.

"Consider the state of sauerkraut," said the seething Smith.

"This is a food that graces the tables of millions of men engaged in war work. But the War Production board has made no provision for the kraut canners to harvest and pack the 1942 crop. The board in its so-called wisdom has decreed that the sauerkraut industry is not even entitled to a secondary classification with such foods as carrots, apples, beets, pumpkins, rhubarb, and apple sauce."

Pack It in Wood, WPB Says.

The WPB's order, Smith revealed, was based upon a contention that kraut should be packed in wood containers and not in tin cans of which there is a bad shortage.

"The packing of kraut in wood packages was all right when father was a boy, but not today," Smith told his audience. "For the last 10 years kraut packed in wood containers has averaged about 450 tons per year as compared to 8,000 tons that has gone into canned goods. These figures should convince the burocrats, but they don't.

"The board's order should be modified to give sauerkraut a secondary rating, otherwise it stands as a rank discrimination against the farmer, the packers, and the consuming public. If it is not modified there will be an almost complete loss of the 1942 crop."

Mercy of Anti-krauters.

It appears, continued Smith, that the nation is for the moment at the mercy of the antisauerkraut burocrats.

"The public is damned lucky if it gets anything attitude is in the saddle but the time has come to call a halt," he declared. "The time is here now for congress to protect the people of this country against the tyranny of burocracy by the institution of an immediate investigation of all restrictive orders issued to date, so that all the facts may be revealed to our people. Let's stop this waste of our much needed food supply now."

In a minor key, Smith lamented that sugar rationing is causing the loss of thousands of tons of berries, fruits, and vegetables which would otherwise be canned by housewives.

NATION-WIDE
Scrap Rubber Drive ends next Tuesday
JUNE 30

Don't delay! Bring the rubber today to your Standard Oil Dealer or Agent. He will pay you 1¢ a pound for your reclaimable rubber such as:

● Tires and tubes • car running board mats • flooring mats • radiator hose ● Boots • rubbers • galoshes • rubber shoes • crepe soles • rubber heels • raincoats • garters • suspenders • girdles • stockings • sheets • pants ● Hot water bottles • ice bags • bulbs and tubing ● Bathing caps and suits • gloves • aprons • bath mats • stair treads • tennis balls • racket covers • toys ● Garden hose • rubber covering and insulation ● Fire hose • industrial hose • belting and other mechanical rubber goods ● Erasers • rubber bands • jar rings.

In short, anything and everything made of rubber.

Your country needs every bit of old rubber you can dig up . . . and it may avert gas rationing!

● PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has asked every American to get into this Scrap Rubber Drive. Here's a real opportunity for you to help speed the day of victory. Turn in your old rubber and help "give the Axe to the Axis."

And also remember, this drive may avert gasoline rationing. The need for this rationing in the Middle West is based not on a shortage of gasoline but on a need to save tires for possible future war use. If enough scrap rubber is provided by this drive, nation-wide rationing of gasoline may be avoided.

The petroleum industry has offered its thousands of service stations as convenient collection points during the drive. When you bring your scrap rubber to your Standard Oil Dealer, or to any other service station, the rubber will be weighed and you'll get your money at that time!

No oil company will receive one penny profit for this service. Each will turn the collected scrap rubber over to the government and be paid for it at the rate of $25 per ton (2000 pounds). The difference between the amount we pay and the amount Uncle Sam pays us has been pledged to the USO, Navy Relief, Army Relief, and American Red Cross.

The success of this drive—the ability of Uncle Sam to avoid the necessity of gasoline rationing—may well depend on the cooperation of every patriotic citizen. Get in the scrap rubber!

WE'RE GOING BACK TO BATAAN!

LIBYA AND THE CENSOR.

Perhaps the various censorships have some victories to their credit; about that we don't know. But we do know that the censorship bears a large share of the blame for the defeats in Malaya, Singapore, Hongkong, and now in Libya. The censors kept the people of England and America from knowing what was going on. The people had been given no reason to doubt the strength of the defenders in men and material. Only after the catastrophes had occurred were the people told that equipment was inadequate and morale low.

We still don't know what happened in Libya beyond the fact that the British were routed and that the toll of prisoners in Tobruk was very large. There is talk of the English tanks having been ambushed, but if that happened it seems almost certain that the Germans had gained command of the air, for otherwise the ambush would have been detected by aerial reconnaissance.

Great quantities of military equipment were sent to Egypt from the United States and presumably from Britain as well. Was the stuff inferior? We don't know, thanks to the censor. Did we expect to defeat the Germans in the air with obsolete planes? Again we don't know. Were the generals competent? Were adequate preparations made for the movement of supplies and reënforcements to the front? The secrecy which was supposed to keep Gen. Rommel in the dark didn't deprive him of essential military information about his enemy, but did deprive the people of Britain and America of the truth when it might have done our cause some good to have it known.

Even now, after the defeat, we don't know where to place the blame and for lack of that information have no assurance that the blunderers who were responsible will not remain in command to repeat the catastrophe on a grander scale a few months hence.

There is an ominous note in the dispatches from Alexandria. Mr. Larry Allen of the Associated Press reports that "Alexandrians dance on and are well supplied with food and drink." The residents of the city, he observed, are confident that altho the axis legions are already at the Egyptian border, the enemy will be turned back "at the right time and place."

Just so read the news from Singapore as the Japanese moved down the Malayan peninsula. The rice marshes and the jungle would stop the invader at the right time and place. Perhaps this time the confidence is not wholly misplaced but thanks to the censor we don't know.

It's about time the lessons were learned. It's about time the correspondents with the troops were permitted to tell the truth about the quality of equipment and leadership under their observation. Publication of the truth could hardly be more costly than the defeats which must be credited to a censorship which has protected incompetence and carelessness.

THE WORLD MOVES ON.

A young physicist at Armour Research Foundation has invented a device by which sound is recorded magnetically on steel wire as fine as a human hair. It is predicted that the recorder will revolutionize the whole technique of sound transcription and will have important military applications.

It may, for example provide a more convenient method of phonograph recording, for an eight hour recording by the new method can be wound on a spool five inches in diameter and two inches wide. From that one spool could be played without interruption a series of symphonies, each of which now requires many wax discs. The recording machine and a microphone carried into battle in a plane would make possible a complete record of the flight, commands, conversations between pilots, and action of an air engagement.

For courtroom or convention reporting, or business dictation, the recorder makes possible the elimination of the shorthand reporter. It may be that the exponents of Pitman and Gregg will eventually disappear, and that phonetic writing has run its course. An inscription on the Acropolis indicates that the Greeks had developed a system of brief writing in the 4th century B. C. The shorthand system invented by Marcus Tullius Tiro, the friend of Cicero, and used to record the debates on the Catiline conspiracy, was used for many centuries.

Beginning with the 16th century there were numerous Englishmen who developed shorthand systems. One of the most famous was that of Thomas Shelton, in which Samuel Pepys kept his diary. Isaac Pitman's publication of his system in 1837, however, may be considered as having given rise to the sisterhood of the American stenographers. Pitman's system did not reach this country until 1844. It was not until 1848 that the debates of congress were transcribed from shorthand notes. Previous to that time the incomplete proceedings which were published were assembled from newspaper accounts, the outline journals of official reporters, revised versions of speeches obtained from congressmen, and other scattered sources. Even Webster's reply to Hayne was not published until a month after it was delivered, and then Webster's draft was in complete variance from the notes taken on the floor.

Sometimes when people talk as if everything within human invention and attainment were already achieved, we are inclined to forget how many of the great discoveries and inventions have come within the last 150 years, and many of them within the last 50. The reaper was perfected in 1831. Daguerre displayed the prototype of the modern camera in 1839. It was in 1844 that Morse tapped out the telegraphic message, "What hath God wrought?" Christopher Sholes' typewriter came in 1867. Bell spoke over his telephone in 1876. Edison's phonograph dates from the following year. Motion pictures followed in 1894. Marconi reported the yacht races at Sandy Hook by radio in 1898.

We are still finding out new things every day, and the generation that has seen the world changing and civilization moving ahead despite wars and men who want to turn the clock back may still live to see the material world so change that they will hardly be able to recognize it as the world they used to know.

NAZI MURDERERS WILL HAVE THEIR TURN.

The Prague radio has announced that the two men who killed Reinhard Heydrich, the Nazi hangman, had been found hiding in a church and had been shot while resisting arrest. London commentators suspect that the Germans found it convenient to discover the men as they did, two hours after the expiration of the period of an ultimatum to the Czechs to deliver the men or take the consequences.

At least 382 persons, including women and girls, have been executed in reprisal for the killing of "the Henker" and the Nazis themselves announced that they had completely obliterated the village of Lidice, shooting all the men and sending the women and children either to concentration camps or other areas. That village, according to the Nazis, had harbored the assassins. It may be that Hitler's executioners at last decided they had better close the case by finding and disposing of men they could say had sent Heydrich to his reward.

What the Nazis have done in the countries attacked and subjugated by them has exceeded all bounds of military regulation in occupied land and it is probably true that the German army high command has had little to do with it. The terror has been the work of Himmler, Hitler's Gestapo chief, of his agents, and of Hitler's own élite troops. An army in occupied territory seeks to protect its troops from violence which might be committed by the civilian population supposed to have accepted the conditions of defeat. But the Nazi reprisals have not been after the pattern of military procedure and not all the outrages have been committed in retaliation for desperate acts on the part of some of the oppressed peoples. Much of the terror has been unprovoked and much of the suffering has been inflicted wantonly.

The reprisals themselves constitute mass massacres of innocent people against whom no charge of complicity could be brought; who, in many instances, were not even in the region where the act of violence was committed. A great many of the most brutal Nazis have taken part in these crimes and their identities are known. The peace imposed upon Germany will contain no amnesty for any of these men, whether in authority or subordinate position. There will be no country in Europe or elsewhere to which they could flee and none which would be permitted to give them sanctuary if they sought it.

These hangmen have the hangman's noose around their own necks. From Hitler and Himmler down, they are felons responsible to the criminal courts of the countries they have outraged. Europe, when released, will be in a lynch law mood which may not be controled. It would be better for the record if the thousands of Nazi thugs who have been engaged in murder had a brief trial and the formal execution to which their crimes have exposed them. Thus the handling of these criminals after war would not take on the aspect of vengeance but of judicial retribution for their atrocious sins against law and humanity.

The war has to be won before that day of reckoning will come but we are convinced that no other determination of the war is in prospect.

AUSTRALIA BECKONS.

Bruce Borrelli in recent weeks has been twice convicted. Borrelli worked for a man named Keeshin who is the big shot in the trucking business. Borrelli was found guilty in the first case of conspiring to beat up three employés of the Keeshin company who were active in union matters and in the second case of conspiring to beat up a Mr. John Gottlieb who is also in the trucking business and was well disposed toward the union concerned. Borrelli was sentenced to consecutive terms of one year in the county jail, penalties which this hoodlum had richly earned.

The testimony left no doubt that the victims were slugged and that Borrelli participated in the sluggings. There is likewise no doubt that Borrelli worked for Keeshin. Keeshin himself was indicted, but the cases against him collapsed when Borrelli refused to testify against his boss in open court. Perhaps Borrelli slugs the people Keeshin doesn't like just for the fun of seeing the blood flow and hearing the jawbones crack, but that isn't what Borrelli told the grand jury. He swore that Keeshin gave him orders to batter the victims. Other testimony showed that after Borrelli had slugged the three fellow employés he told them they were fired and that checks for the wages due them would be sent by mail. The checks were so sent.

We think that Keeshin, who is said to have been asked by the government to go to Australia to take charge of the army's trucking services, had better leave without delay. Then, if the war is a protracted one, some people may have forgotten by the time Keeshin returns, covered with military glory, that Borrelli worked for him and broke the jaw of Mr. Gottlieb for reasons that were not judicially determined because Borrelli would not affirm in open court what he had told the grand jury.

Editorial of the Day

[Philadelphia Inquirer.]

One of the more impressive phenomena of today's wartime America is the intense burocratic affection for the word "directive."

The sudden hurtling into fashion of new words or old words pressed into odd usage has long been familiar Americana. The Harding "normalcy" still grates upon an occasional ear. Long in vogue has been the employment of "contact" as a verb, meaning "communicate with." No sales manager would feel quite dressed without it.

Some months ago it may be said safely that few persons had ever heard the word "directive," certainly not used as a noun substituting for the easily understood "order." It appeared out of nowhere and now it can be found on every other page of a Washington press agent's release—and that's a lot of pages, brother!

It has become almost the password of the war effort. No official is worth a jot in an alphabetical agency unless he can impress his luncheon listeners with discussions of this or that "directive" just received or sent. Washington stenographers must have evolved a quick symbol for the word by this time, because certainly no dictated message has an official look without it.

Was a time when a man could say "Take a letter" and proceed from there. Now it's "Take a directive" and you have to take it and give it both.

"LITTLE OLD LADY PASSING BY."

Let us stand upon an imaginary curbstone and give a republican cheer for a little old lady passing by in the great parade of European royalties in exile. She is Wilhelmina Helena Pauline Maria of Orange-Nassau, queen of the Netherlands and next in line for a reception at the White House.

She is not so very old except in the cares of state, which have been on her mind for half a century, but she might be Queen Victoria come to life. She has been a plain homebody, frowning upon frivolities of dress and manners; and when she learned that her new son-in-law drank cocktails, the queen was not amused. Yet she has been called the best business woman in Europe, and her prewar fortune was compared to Hetty Green's.

* * *

Wilhelmina always had a mind of her own, and has spoken it bluntly. When the German emperor boasted about his soldiers, "all more than 6 feet tall," she told him, "The streets of Amsterdam can be flooded 9 feet deep." When that same emperor was placarded as "Wanted," perhaps for hanging, by the victorious allies, Wilhelmina told them, in effect, "To Holland he came, in Holland he stays." . . . But she never dropped in at Doorn for a cousinly chat with the imperial fugitive.

* * *

Her family tree runs back thru forests of European history to a small principality in France. One of its branches became a king of England, and a fallen leaf on American soil explains why Princeton university wears orange and sings the praise of "old Nassau." . . . On her mother's side she belongs to the German house of Waldeck and Pyrmont, which is merely "filler" for the Almanac de Gotha.

Little old lady passing by—catching ev—'ry one's eye.

THE SNOWS OF JUNE.

June is in the garden singing
With the birds and bees,
Touching with caressing fingers
Flowers, shrubs, and trees.
To some she murmurs, "Greenness!"
To others whispers, "Bloom
In snowy, bridal whiteness,
With tender, sweet perfume."

The garden is a bower
Of trailing vines and shrubs
That fling their sprays like fountains;
With lily roots in tubs
Where goldfish gleam like spangles
In shadowy waters cool,
And dragon flies dance in the sun

The fair catalpa casts her crown
Of gems upon the grass,
Each fairy chalice, golden lined,
Titania's test could pass;
The fruit trees are a cloud of white
Beneath the silver moon,
And all the air is perfumed
By the fragrant snow of June!

Catty Remarks on the Bakrakiad.

"Listen, my girl," said Ferdinand, my silver tabby, as he eyed me balefully. "When I climb up into your lap to take a nap, I don't like being disturbed by constant shaking."

"So sorry," I apologized, "but I was laughing over this book."

"No, it's Duke Bakrak's 'Love, Honor and O'Boy'."

"A duke, you say? Is he listed in the Almanac de Gotha?"

"I doubt it, but you might find his name in the police record."

"Does he have a crown?"

"He should have a collection of them," I said. "I believe tha mama crowns him repeatedly."

He examined the book with care. "The guy's spelling is even worse than the kid's, and I didn't think that was possible." He leaped gracefully upon the piano and closed one eye. "The next time the kid brings home a report card with 'Spelling Unsatisfactory,' don't sco'd him. He may be an author some day."

BOULEVARD INTERLUDE.

Bells start ringing, and red lights blaze,
And boulevard traffic pulses and brays
As the bridge goes up and the gates go down
While a freighter noses its way thru town.

Indolent freighter against the sky,
Plimsoll marks riding high and dry—
A solemn sailor with sunburned neck
Standing alone on the after deck.

Standing alone, and he seems to say,
"Envy me, lubbers, I'm on my way
To northern waters where Northern Lights
Play over limitless forests o' nights!"

Limitless forests! The freighter is gone.
The bridge is down and the gates are drawn,
Unleashing traffic impatient to roar
Down the boulevard lanes once more.

Back from the window with sudden jerk,
Wistful faces return to work. . . .
But wistful hearts ride the after deck
Beside the sailor with sunburned neck!

The world's longest echo was recorded when verses by B. J. Hey, soldier, you can't do that to the censor!

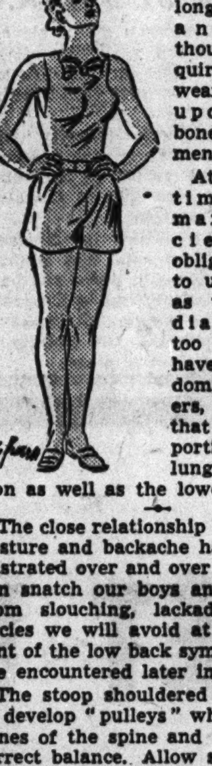
IMPROVE POSTURE AND AVOID BACKACHE.



THE admonition, "Stand, sit, and think tall" all too often goes unheeded. In other words, good posture is a forgotten art with many of us. We fail to remember that the stance of the soldier is not artificial. It was developed after long experience and much thought as requiring the least wear and tear upon muscles, bones, and ligaments.

At the same time it offers maximum efficiency and obliges the boys to use the chest as well as the diaphragm. All too many of us have become abdominal breathers, forgetting that the upper portions of the lungs need inflation as well as the lower.

The close relationship between poor posture and backache has been demonstrated over and over again. If we can snatch our boys and girls away from slouching, lackadaisical tendencies we will avoid at least 50 per cent of the low back symptoms which are encountered later in life.

The stoop shouldered lad will fail to develop "pulleys" which hold the bones of the spine and the pelvis in correct balance. Allow such signs of weakness to increase, and discomfort will be marked when an attempt is made to straighten up. Years ago, as the drill master of an awkward squad, I can recall the complaints of the cadets. It required months of training to strengthen overstretched fibers so that they would hold.

Furthermore, no one yearns for the possession of a flat chest. We wish to give the lungs just as much room as they will take. A deep thorax is a desirable attribute. It offers plenty of space to the air sacs. A shallow, bony cage is formed whenever the ribs are allowed to slant downward too abruptly. Raising the arms above the head slowly as air is inhaled, then holding the breath while they are dropped gradually to the sides is an excellent procedure.

Here are some exercises which will be helpful to every one between 18 and 80. The first three should be practiced lying flat on the back [no pillow]:

1. Contract the abdominal muscles tightly. Inhale and exhale slowly two or three times. Relax and repeat.
2. With the knees drawn up, the heels close to the buttocks, and the hands on the thighs, raise and lower the head slowly.
3. Grasp both knees, which are drawn up to the chest. Rock forward and backward.
4. Stand with the back to a wall, the heels four inches away, hands at the sides. The legs are lifted alternately so that the thighs will touch the abdomen. The hands may be used to assist at first. In the meantime, keep the back pressed tightly to the wall.

Weak spines come from disuse, too much support, and too many soft cushioned divans. Use straight chairs for a change. Correction is directed toward arousing the muscles of the lumbar region to a consciousness of what they are for.

REPLY.

REPLY.

Yes. The glands are present and the secretion is automatic. Otherwise the eyeballs would become dry.

Supposed to be crystals of cholesterol floating in the vitreous fluid.

PRO AND CON ON RENTS.

Chicago, June 19.—I say give us a government rent administrator for the Chicago area and let this matter of the raising of rents be taken care of so that we rent payers know where we are at. Are we or are we not to pay that increase on July 1, and, having paid it for May and June, do we or do we not get credit for the raise we have paid?

I see where Leonard Downie is going to meet with Mr. John C. Weigel of the OPA today to try to convince him that the report of Alderman Arthur G. Lindell, charging that rents have been raised from 9 to 15 per cent, is not true. I wish I could talk to Mr. Weigel and show him my rent receipts for May and June, showing where I was given an increase on a two room apartment of from $32 per month to $35 per month, and I believe that even Mr. Downie will have to agree that this figures 9.4 per cent.

But I implore some one to take me out of this uncertainty I am in. Tell me, please, what to do on July 1. And I don't want my landlord [or agent, rather] to tell me to pay, or else.

M. F.

Chicago, June 19.—It would be well for all property owners to form some sort of organization other than the Real Estate board, which at best represents less than 40 per cent of real estate owners. With such an organization a landlord would have some voice in matters such as exist at the moment. I should like to see Ald. Lindell try to make the milk drivers take a cut and see how far he would get! Yet he expects a landlord, few of whom net anywhere near what a milkman does, to take a loss, while he and his henchman raise taxes beyond all bounds.

There are over 10,000 vacancies in Chicago today, and 87,000 unemployed persons in the state, yet Chicago is classified as a defense area. The whole rent situation is a political maneuver.

EPICS OF THE SEA.

Little Rock, Ark., June 18.—I have just read the last of your Mr. Stanley Johnston's Coral sea battle series and consider them the most vivid writing of their sort I have ever read. I recall distinctly the Associated Press description of the battle of Santiago, July 3, 1898, written aboard the chartered tug Goldenrod by a seasick reporter, who followed the running battle from the mouth of the harbor until the last cruiser was forced ashore by the long range guns of the battleship Oregon—a masterpiece of eyewitness reporting of a sea fight. I think that story appeared in the morning papers of July 5, 1898. Certainly, Mr. Johnston's report could not be rated second to the Goldenrod narrative. I am herewith expressing my personal appreciation of this remarkable series.

Shawano, Wis., June 17.—Just read in today's Voice of the People a letter from William F. Pflueger of Manitowoc in which he said he had been a reader of The Tribune for 63 years. THE SMALL PEOPLE.

Berwyn, Ill., June 17.—In his speech at Soldiers' field last Sunday, Donald Nelson said, "We'll see a great many thriving little business enterprises go out of business." Such remarks from Mr. Nelson or any one else connected with the government or the war effort do more to break down the morale of our people than anything else. It makes the ordinary citizen wonder why small people are constantly being referred to as the ones to go out.

Mr. Nelson in peacetime represents a very big company; his viewpoint is all from the big side. But he had better change his tune and change it quick or the small people of this country are going to demand an investigation as to why they must go out of business. Whether Mr. Nelson or any one else in high places likes it or not, plain facts of the matter are that the small people are the backbone of this country. Take them out of the picture and there wouldn't be even enough left for the big people to think about.

W. M. Breytspraak.

"FEW WORDS, BUT IMPORTANT."

Lafayette, Ind., June 17.—I wish that the editorial today—"Who Are the Fascists Here?"—might be read by every American citizen with deep thought. The closing lines should be particularly stressed: "If the social planners dare do it, and they speak as if they did, they would have some of the most distinguished citizens of the United States in concentration camps. The threat is to jail them as Fascist sympathizers. It is time that this conspiracy be brought to light and that its malevolence be made plain."

Never in my remembrance has so important a message been conveyed in so few words. May it leave an indelible effect upon those who read it.

MATTER OF SELF-RESPECT.

Greenup, Ill., June 19.—The white students' providing a separate table for the colored ones at the Wright college dinner does not mean discrimination against them. Booker Washington said that he never sat at the table of white people except in the course of his work for his own race. Colored people should have as much pride of race as white people; and mixing the races is not the best for either.

HARRY ASH'S SERVICE.

Blue Island, Ill., June 18.—In March of this year, when the married men and family heads of America were being daily threatened with immediate induction into the armed forces, with no provision for their dependents, I remember reading a letter written to Gen. Hershey by Mr. Harry Ash. It was a letter of protest, containing facts gathered by Mr. Ash from his experience as a draft board chairman and I recall that it was printed in the Chicago Tribune.

It was a courageous thing to do. It was the only protest of its kind that I recall reading about. Now congress has passed a bill providing that married men and men with dependents are not to be drafted until the supply of single men and men without dependents has been exhausted, which is eminently fair. As a married man with dependents I want to thank Mr. Ash for his letter of protest and also to thank The Tribune for printing his letter. Now I know just where I stand. I know some provision will be made for my dependents, and I know just about when I will be drafted, and I am satisfied.

To the Jap Navy ...bottoms up!

America's brewing industry puts teeth into this toast with savings of 100,000 tons of steel!

Steel for beer cans is out for the duration. Now steel for beer bottle caps, too, is strictly rationed. This will conserve enough steel in 1942 alone to build 44 Liberty Ships so urgently needed for transport . . . or a powerful fighting fleet that will help to sink the Jap.

It's no sacrifice to give up peace-time materials when the very life of our nation is at stake. The War Production Board needs tons — and tons — and more tons of steel for ships and weapons to sink and smash our enemies. Like everyone else —whole industries, individual companies and just plain folks — America's brewers are gladly doing their utmost to speed the War Production Board's great work.

Besides steel, brewers are giving up other vital materials—aluminum, copper, bronze and rubber —to shipyards and war factories.

But you'll still be able to enjoy your beer. Of course some adjustments are being made. More of your beer will be on draft, and in larger bottles that make the caps go farther. But it will always be there for you—a refreshing, relaxing treat when the day's work is done.

And speaking for Pabst Blue Ribbon, we would like to make this pledge to our millions of friends everywhere: Regardless of changes or adjustments made necessary by conservation, there will never be a change in Pabst Blue Ribbon's highest quality. Please bear this in mind when you order a glass of beer or take some home to enjoy. And when you raise your glass, put teeth into your toast as America's brewers are doing: "To the Jap Navy. . . Bottoms Up!"

ARMY GIVES MEN LUSTY PROGRAM ON SHORT WAVES

Stage Revue Humor Goes on Air.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Command Performance, the variety show broadcast under army auspices 20 times every Sunday over American short wave stations to fighting forces stationed abroad, is not expressly labelled "For Men Only," but the producers never forget who is listening. The flavor of these shows is pungent, and getting gustier week by week.

The short wave stations are transmitting humor as robust as that encountered in stage revues, never heard on standard broadcasting stations. In recent weeks Milton Berle, Al Jolson, Hugh Herbert, and George Givot have told stories that would have been blue pencilled on the networks.

If you were among those eavesdropping Sunday on the short waves you might have caught a sigh heard round the world. A fighting man had written from Pearl Harbor that he would be happy if Carole Landis could be summoned to the microphone to sigh.

Miss Landis left her picture work [the show is recorded on Thursday], came to the broadcast and delivered just one sigh, nothing else.

Another short wave show has been added to the list featuring messages from American forces abroad. It is titled "Stars and Stripes in Britain" and features Bebe Daniels and Ben Lyon, former American movie favorites, as masters of ceremony. This show is aired at 6:30 p. m. Sundays on frequencies of 9:58 and 11:75 megacycles.

Lyon interviews men in the armed forces. Last Sunday Miss Daniels interviewed nurses, surgeons and hospital attendants.

All those interviewed send brief messages to families at home. In this respect the program is similar to the American Eagle club broadcast, on the short waves at 7 p. m. Saturdays and rebroadcast over W-G-N at 10:30 a. m. Sundays; and the weekday broadcasts at 10:45 a. m. of AEF messages from Australia. Most of the messages home plead: Send us more American cigarets.

The WLS-National Barn Dance will be presented next Saturday night from Illinois State Normal college gymnasium at Bloomington to help the salvage drive and the USO campaign. Price of admission will be 50 pounds of old rubber or 100 pounds of scrap metal. About 3,500 persons can be accommodated. Proceeds will go to the McLean county USO campaign fund.

MOTION BY RCA, NBC IS DENIED IN MUTUAL SUIT

Federal Judge John P. Barnes yesterday denied a motion of the Radio Corporation of America and its subsidiary, the National Broadcasting company, defendants in a $3,425,000 damage suit by the Mutual Broadcasting system, for a bill of particulars. The defendants have 60 days to file an answer. This will insure hearing of the case in the fall.

MBS sued RCA and NBC last Jan. 10 charging that exclusive contracts between NBC and affiliated stations with regard to options on blocks of time destroy freedom of choice among independent stations. The result, the suit charged, is that many of Mutual's commercially sponsored broadcasts are deprived of thousands of possible additional listeners and stations affiliated with Mutual are injured thru loss of revenue.

Mutual's suit was filed under provisions of the Sherman anti-trust act which permits a judgment for three times the amount of damages claimed with costs and attorney's fees and injunctive relief against continuance of restrictions involved.

3 HIJACK TRUCK CARRYING $10,000 CIGARET CARGO

The daylight hijacking of a truck laden with $10,000 worth of cigarets was reported to police yesterday by Robert Arnold of 2340 Princeton avenue, a driver for Thiele's Motor service at 1313 Ohio street.

Arnold said he was driving the cigarets from a warehouse at 323 Polk street to the Milwaukee Road freight depot at Fulton street and Union avenue.

In front of 36 North Clinton street, he said, two gunmen leaped upon the truck. One took the wheel, driving to Washington boulevard and Jefferson street. There Arnold was forced into a car driven by a third gunman, he told Sergt. Michael Phelan of the police cartage detail. Arnold said he was pushed out at Jefferson and Barber streets.

State Orders Mt. Prospect to Quit Using Polluted Well

Fred Wille, treasurer of the village of Mount Prospect, said yesterday that the state department of public health had ordered the village to quit using well No. 2 until equipment has been obtained for emergency chlorination. Wille said health department officials would arrive this morning to advise how to rid the well of pollution apparently caused by leakage during a heavy storm a few weeks ago. Meanwhile, the city will use well No. 1, which is unpolluted.

Divorce Hearing

Mrs. Marion Galter and Louis Galter as they appeared in court yesterday.

Louis Galter, 35 years old, 612 North Michigan avenue, an advertising executive, took the stand in the Circuit court of Judge George F. Rush yesterday to defend himself against adultery charges brought in his wife's suit for divorce.

Galter countered with the charges that his wife, Marion, 30, a concert pianist, had three lovers, that she had premarital relations with other men, and that he was convinced that a child, Gavin, 3, was not his. He said that blood tests have shown that he might be the father of the child but that his wife refuses to take a lie detector test.

Galter said that after their marriage in January, 1939, his wife kept the photograph of another man in their bedroom.

Mrs. Galter is represented by Attorney Benjamin H. Ehrlich, who in an earlier hearing produced a deposition from a New York detective that he had found Galter and a "henna haired" woman together in a New York apartment.

MAIL ATTACKS ON ROOSEVELT BRING $50 FINE

Fort Dodge, Ia., June 22 [Special].—Peter H. McCarthy, 72 years old, Dubuque, Ia., wealthy New Deal critic, was fined $50 and costs and placed on probation for two years today on his plea of guilty in the United States District court to indictments charging him with sending thru the mails scurrilous remarks about President Roosevelt.

He was indicted on charges of having sent postal cards to three United States senators—Tom Connally [D., Tex.], Kenneth McKellar [D., Tenn.], and Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.]—in which he called for the impeachment of the President for "acts that are really traitorous" in connection with strikes in war industries.

McCarthy, a bachelor, is said to be nearly a millionaire and is a member of a highly respected Dubuque family. He often has contributed to metropolitan newspapers articles taking issue with New Deal policies.

Appointment of William W. McKenna as assistant to Mayor Kelly was announced yesterday. McKenna, for nine years assistant to James B. McCahey, president of the board of education, will succeed John R. Nash, who resigned to become a captain in the army engineering corps. McKenna is a native of Chicago and is 37 years old. He is a graduate of De La Salle High school and Loyola university and obtained his license to practice law in 1929. He will receive $7,500 yearly as assistant to Mayor Kelly.

ARMY PREPARES CCC CAMPS FOR ENGINEERS' USE

Army officials announced yesterday that a number of the 49 Civilian Conservation corps camps in the 6th corps area soon to be or already abandoned were being prepared for possible use by the engineer corps. No details of the use to which the engineer corps might put the sites were revealed, however.

The CCC was abolished June 5 when the house of representatives in Washington, D. C., refused to appropriate funds to keep 70,000 young men in 350 camps in the nation.

Enrollment in Illinois decreased from 340 in January of this year to 62 in May, the draft and war industries taking many who might otherwise have joined.

RECTOR CALLED MOST ATTENTIVE TO BENEFACTOR

'More than Any Husband,' Maid Testifies.

White Plains, N. Y., June 22 [Special].—A servant's-eye view of the chumminess of Dr. Henry Darlington, suave rector of the fashionable Church of the Heavenly Rest, and Mrs. Anna H. Paton, wealthy aged widow, was presented in Surrogate's court, White Plains, today.

"Dr. Darlington was most attentive to her, much more so than any husband to a wife," according to the testimony of Florence Muriel Harper, middle-aged parlormaid, employed by the rich widow for six years.

The parlormaid's statement, read to the court, that there was an "unnatural relationship" between rector and widow startled the spectators until the witness explained her meaning of the phrase, under cross-examination. "I meant he was always around the house for meals," she said.

Saw Nothing "Wrong."

Miss Harper, a slim, dark-haired woman with extremely white skin and a marked British accent, was called to the stand by the contestants who seek to break the 78-year-old widow's will. By it, she made Dr. Darlington and his church at Fifth avenue and 90th street the major beneficiaries of her $1,000,000 estate, now shrunk by taxes to $800,000.

Theodore Kiendl, counsel for the proponents of the will, forced Miss Harper to admit, however, that she "never saw anything wrong" between Mrs. Paton and her pastor.

The witness did declare, nevertheless, that whenever Mrs. Paton and Dr. Darlington's wife met, "there was a veiled unfriendliness between them."

And on one occasion, Miss Harper said, the widow asked her to move the table at which the pastor and Mrs. Paton customarily dined in the Paton home.

The reason for table-moving, the parlormaid explained, "was because Mrs. Darlington had passed by atop a Fifth avenue bus, had looked thru the window and had seen the tableau of widow and rector dining together. The widow seemed to believe the rector's wife had been "annoyed," the witness said.

Rector Seems Ill At Ease.

As the parlormaid spoke from the stand, Dr. Darlington appeared a trifle ill at ease, for the first time in the trial. His wife, beside him, knitted ceaselessly on a turquoise blue sweater.

Dr. Darlington was a handy man with a knife and fork, in the picture of him painted by the parlormaid's words. She said that on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, he had lunch at Mrs. Paton's home; on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, she said, he had tea, and on Sundays he brought his wife and two children for an elaborate meal, the parlormaid declared.

In a statement made and recorded in the office of Joseph A. Nickerson, one of counsel for the opponents of the will, and read into the record Miss Harper said

"From my observation of the two together, it was perfectly clear to me that there existed an unnatural friendship. She was overly fond of him. She lived for him. Everything she did went according to his time, and practically at his direction.

Chauffeur Tells of Rides.

"In my opinion, Mrs. Paton was not a religious woman. I doubt if she would have gone to the church if anyone else but Dr. Darlington had been the rector.

Focusing his cross-examination on the parlormaid's description of the attitudes of widow and rector toward each other, Kiendl asked the witness:

"This relationship was not sexual, was it?" "No, it wasn't," Miss Harper replied.

Felix Valdata, chauffeur for Mrs. Paton from 1930 to her death in 1941, testified that he frequently drove Dr. Darlington and Mrs. Paton for rides and basket lunch parties. Elsewhere in his testimony, Valdata described the widow as being only 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighing about 230 pounds.

INDICT TRAINING SCHOOL INMATES FOR BUS MUTINY

Twelve inmates of the Illinois State Training School for Boys near St. Charles, who were among the 26 who escaped after slugging a bus driver on June 11, were indicted yesterday by the Kane county grand jury on six counts. The other 14 either had returned voluntarily to the school after the mutiny aboard the bus or refused to take part in the kidnaping of the driver and a house master.

Indictments were voted on charges of larceny of a state bus, assault with intent to commit murder, and the kidnaping of Albert Handwork, the house master, together with conspiracy counts covering the three charges. Those indicted are:

Santo Sartorio, 16 years old, 3149 Princeton avenue, and Albert Mackowiak, 17, of 4940 Honoré street, the pair named by Keith Armstrong, the driver, as the sluggers; Calvin Baker, 18, of 6147 Kimbark avenue; Raymond George Bauer, 17, of 2521 Division street; Floyd Cramer, 17, of Pineville, Pa., sent from Fulton; Anthony D'Antonio, 15, of 1923 Erie street; John Demos, 17, of 6044 South Aberdeen street; Stanley Pincus, 16, of 5061 Northwest highway; Louis Rachinski, 16, of La Salle; William Schieberle, 18, of Streator; Orville Stukens, 16, of Decatur, and John Thoemke, 17, of 3110 Seminary avenue.

PROTEST ENDING ARMY LEAVES OF STATE SENATORS

Louisiana House Asks F.D.R. to Intervene.

Baton Rouge, La., June 22 (AP).—The Louisiana senate adopted unanimously tonight a resolution asking President Roosevelt to intercede to have the leave of one of its soldier members extended so that he might attend the rest of the legislative session.

The upper chamber also passed a resolution demanding a congressional investigation into a war department order recalling State Sen. W. D. Cotton of Rayville to his duties as a lieutenant in the United States army.

Sen. Grove Stafford of Alexandria charged in the legislature that the war department had made itself a "party to a fourth Louisiana purchase" in canceling the leaves of Cotton and Maj. DeLesseps S. Morrison of Orleans parish during a legislative fight with members of the old Huey Long forces.

Governor Blames Long Group.

Gov. Sam H. Jones said in an interview the war department had been made the unwitting instrument of partisan politics thru the disbarment from legislative service of the two men at the instigation of forces once aligned with the Long machine.

"Whenever," Jones said, "a political clique descends so low that they are willing to penalize a citizen's patriotism, a sad state of affairs exists. This is the lowest, meanest political trick ever pulled by any group of politicians in the history of Louisiana."

Stafford directly accused Mayor Robert S. Maestri of New Orleans, former chief political lieutenant of Long and opponent of the governor, of responsibility in canceling leaves of the two legislators, both supporters of Jones, while other legislators in uniform, unfriendly to the governor, still attend the legislature.

Fight on Sales Tax.

The legislative fight revolves around a 2 per cent sales tax which has passed the house and which the administration is sponsoring to balance the budget and finance educational and charitable establishments with wartime loss of other revenue.

Lieut. James E. Bolin of Webster parish, a representative who voted against the sales tax, still held his seat today. Two other house members in the military service have attended occasional sessions.

The house last week passed the sales tax measure without a vote to spare. The senate reportedly is divided 19-19 on the tax and the absence of Lieut. Cotton might cost the administration the margin needed to put the measure across.

SEIZED ON DRAFT CHARGE.

Frank Henry Tamblin, 35 years old, was arrested on a Kane county farm yesterday by deputy sheriffs and is held in the Woodstock jail, McHenry county, as an alleged draft dodger. He will be turned over to federal authorities today.

5,000 WAR PLANT WORKERS OFFER POLITICAL PUZZLE

G. O. P. Suspects Plot in Lee County.

county where the political results have been closer than in ours."

Even a close result would be epochal, for Lee county has only elected one or two Democratic officials in the last 50 years, and stayed safely Republican thru the series of New Deal landslides of the last decade. Hoover and Landon carried the county in 1932 and 1936, and Willkie led by more than 5,200 votes in 1940.

Warner and other Republicans have heard that credit for locating the plant can properly be bestowed upon Dixon's leading Democrat, John P. Devine, former speaker of the Illinois house of representatives and at present a member of his party's state central committee. The talk is that the project was announced about the time Devine got back from a trip to Washington early in the year.

Refuses to Take Credit.

But the former speaker would have none of the credit when it was put to him today, and he also had some tart criticism for the sort of political thinking his Republican friends have been indulging in.

"That Washington trip," Devine said, "had nothing to do with the ordnance plant. I didn't even know about it until I returned to Dixon. And, furthermore, since they're talking politics, consider this: The Democrats aren't dumb enough to put in a $25,000,000 plant in order to control $25,000 worth of county patronage."

Devine was asked about reports that many of the guards at the new plant are former Democratic state highway policemen or ex-prison guards, working under Browning Robinson, Democratic state central committeeman from the 25th [southern Illinois] district, former sheriff of Franklin county and former deputy warden of Joliet prison under the late Gov. Horner.

"Yes, Robinson is here," Devine said, "and many of his men were on the highway police or prison forces. Why not? Where could men with better experience be found these days?"

JAIL EX-CONVICT WHO BALKED AS POLICY WITNESS

Ezra Leake.

Ezra Leake, Negro ex-convict who last week scuttled the state's case against 26 policy game operators by refusing to repeat his grand jury testimony at the jury trial, was arrested yesterday in the grand jury anteroom and ordered to show cause on Friday why he should not be held in contempt of court.

Chief Justice Robert J. Dunne sent Leake to jail after he was unable to post $10,000 bond. Judge Dunne granted the writ of attachment on a plea of Assistant State's Attorney William H. Crawford, who said the only inference that could be drawn from Leake's action is that his purpose was to set up a straw man he could knock down thru the shakedown route.

Leake was taken before the grand jury on Jan. 6 and testified concerning the policy gambling syndicate. Crawford told Judge Dunne that Leake was in his office the day before the jury trial and at that time reaffirmed his willingness to testify.

He was pulled ashore by Albert Roske, 38, of 5717 South Damen avenue, who leaped in after him, but artificial respiration failed. Kulczynski, a bachelor, recently was removed from relief rolls.

150 Weeks Asleep

DOREEN SHOOK.

Albany, N. Y., June 22 (AP).—Seven year old Doreen Shook began today her 150th week of uninterrupted sleep. Physicians see "no hope" of her ever awakening from the slumber, an unknown form of encephalitis, which struck suddenly Aug. 14, 1939. The gentle, deathlike sleep, they say, has destroyed the pretty child's brain cells.

Nurses at the hospital for incurables keep flowers in Doreen's room, prop a toy panda bear by her side, arrange blue ribbons in her flaxen hair. They feed her three times a day — corned beef hash, milk, ice cream—and she grows almost normally for a girl of her age.

"Sometimes," a nurse said, "I think she hears me as if she were in a dream and I were at great distance. She looks as tho she wants to speak but can't. Often she cries, tho."

Altho the child's blue eyes open every morning and the pupils respond to light, they are sightless.

FILM AIDS DENY KNOWING BIOFF AS EXTORTIONIST

New York, June 22 (AP).—Two vice presidents of Paramount Pictures, Inc., testified in Supreme court today that published accounts of the arrest and indictment of Willie Bioff and George E. Browne, labor leaders, on extortion charges constituted their first knowledge that the company had been victimized out of $100,000.

The vice presidents, Neil Agnew and John Hicks, were witnesses in a suit brought by six stockholders to collect money paid to Bioff and Browne, both of whom were convicted of extorting money from motion picture companies.

Both the witnesses denied any knowledge prior to newspaper accounts that any of the six payments aggregating $100,000 had been taken from the company's treasury and paid to Browne and Bioff, who were then heads of the AFL International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employés.

Even after they did learn of the matter, they testified, they "said nothing or did nothing about it."

LAKE STEAMER BREAKS OPEN ON REEF; 39 RESCUED

Capt. W. T. Simonds, his wife, and 37 crewmen were rescued from the lake steamer Eugene J. Buffington yesterday after the boat went aground on Boulder reef, off Beaver Island, 280 miles north of Chicago. A coast guard crew from Beaver Island took 22 members of the crew off the vessel and a Charlevoix, Mich., crew rescued Capt. Simonds and the others. A short time after they were removed the craft broke in two. Coast guard boats are standing by in the hope that the ship can be salvaged. The vessel is owned by the Pittsburgh Steamship company of Cleveland, O.

3 TRUCKERS TELL JURY OF ZILLER JOB SHAKEDOWN

Paid Large Sums to Work at War Plants.

Bloomington, Ill., June 22 [Special].—Three truck owners who have told investigators they were victims of a politico-union shakedown attributed to George W. Ziller in the construction of the Wilmington and Kankakee ordnance plants testified before the McLean county grand jury today.

It was reported that the witnesses told the grand jury the same version they had previously given the investigators of the attorney general's office. This was that Ziller required them to pay $300 each for putting their trucks to work, and that he then collected $63 initiation fees and advance dues in the name of the Joliet teamsters' union.

Paid $50 Weekly to Ziller.

In addition, the witnesses had told investigators, Ziller charged them $50 a week for keeping their trucks on the job.

Twelve women and 11 men are on the grand jury which began its investigation of the accusations today.

Clifford N. Coolidge, state's attorney, obtained court permission for Attorney General George F. Barrett to be associated with him in the inquiry.

Maurice Smith of Gibson City was believed to have told one of the most comprehensive stories. He had previously reported to investigators that he went to Ziller because he had been told that Ziller could get him trucking work.

"No $50, No Work."

After getting approval from Ziller, Smith said, he bought a truck for $3,500 and paid Ziller the $300 and the union charges. Smith said that he protested to Ziller when he was paid only 60 cents a ton per haul, since Ziller had promised him 80 cents to $1.30.

The truckman said that he fell behind in his weekly payments and threatened to stop them. Ziller replied, according to Smith:

"No $50, no work."

He told reporters outside the grand jury room that Ziller kept a telephone in his home at Weston, where Ziller maintained his headquarters as job dispenser for the government projects, and frequently pretended to hold conversations with important personages. But Smith said a friend eventually discovered that the phone was dead and that Ziller had been talking to himself.

(Ziller is nevertheless known to have used a telephone to call many public officials, politicians, and labor leaders.)

Other witnesses yesterday were Jesse Newkirk, John C. Kauffman and his son, John Jr., and E. M. Streid and his son, Thomas, all of Chenoa, and Emil Brochers of Gibson city.

35 Witnesses Subpenaed.

Virgil Floyd, head of the teamsters' union at Joliet, and Tony Augustino, former head of the hod carriers' union there, are both among the 35 witnesses subpenaed for this week. Both unions permitted Ziller to collect dues and initation fees.

Coolidge is being aided by Wendell Oliver, assistant state's attorney. Barrett's staff includes Edward Wolfe, Robert E. Wright, and Myron E. Mills, assistant attorney generals, and George Ericksen and Robert Anderson, investigators.

Bus Services Will Begin on Fullerton and Lehigh

The Illinois Commerce commission announced yesterday that two motor bus extensions authorized last month will be placed in service tomorrow by the Chicago Surface Lines. The new routes are on Fullerton avenue between Central and Grand avenues, and in Lehigh avenue between Devon avenue and Tonti street.

PLAN TO DOUBLE OFFICER TRAINING FOR WAAC UNITS

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—The war department tonight announced plans to double the number of applicants to be sent to the officer candidate school for the women's army auxiliary corps at Fort Des Moines, Ia.

Original plans called for training 450 officers, and the step up was ordered to meet the army's demands for the services of WAAC units as quickly as possible.

At the same time the department said it appeared likely that the 25,000 WAAC members would be enrolled by the end of May, 1943, instead of the end of December, 1943. The new plans will make possible utilizing the full capacity of Fort Des Moines as quickly as possible.

The department explained that while the expanded program calls for double the number of officer candidates from civil life originally planned, the women would not be sent to the school at the same time.

Our Government says,
"ORDER COAL NOW—
Store all you can—
Leave to your dealer decision on date of delivery"

OFFICE OF THE BITUMINOUS COAL CONSUMERS' COUNSEL
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Homeowners and others who buy coal from retailers were urged today by Luther Harr, Bituminous Coal Consumers' Counsel, to continue to place orders for coal now but not to insist upon immediate delivery.

"Everyone who orders coal now will certainly get it long before cold weather comes," Harr said. "I strongly urge the public to continue to order coal now but to let the retailers deliver it in accordance with their schedules.

"The Office of Defense Transportation beginning July 1st, will require all coal retailers to reduce their truck mileage per ton of coal delivered 25 per cent from the average 1941 mileage per ton. This can be done in only two ways: Increase in average load of truck and reduction in miles traveled.

"The public can help attain this goal by doing two things: Ordering in the largest amounts they can arrange to store and not demanding that the coal ordered be delivered tomorrow. The dealers will plan their routes so that trucks can perform most efficiently. They may exchange orders or pool equipment. Time is required for these activities and deliveries may be delayed.

"Co-operate with your dealer as he seeks to conform to the Government regulations. Order coal now, all you can store, but leave to your dealer decision on date of delivery."

CLEAR THE TRACKS FOR WAR SHIPMENTS—ORDER COAL NOW!

The additional burdens imposed upon the nation's railroads by our armament program have been stupendous, but the railroads are doing a magnificent job without complaint. Domestic coal users can help our transportation problem by placing orders now so that demands can be anticipated and movements of coal from the mines can be scheduled to avoid interference with the shipments of war materials.

CHICAGO COAL MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION

Swirling Chintz the Favorite for Romantic Summer Dances

BY REA SEEGER.

Dance dresses with all the witchery of moonlight and roses, filmy creations in bonbon colors, wide, fluttery skirts and tiny fitted bodices, are tempting these days, and they carry easy-on-the-budget price marks. Cool, shiny, flowered chintz is this summer's most successful material. It's crisp, pictorial, fresh, and young, and there are designs and colors for every one, such as small prints, medium and large wall paper effects, or the clever combinations of bands of the chintz with wider bands of sheer marquisette, organdy, or net.

The all chintz dresses come in a most alluring assortment of shades—pale blue, shell pink, and pale primrose colored backgrounds, over which are strewn field flowers, fat cabbage roses, old fashioned pinks, moss rosebuds, daisies, and fernery foliage. The most romantic models are made with off-the-shoulder outlines, fitted bodices, and very wide full skirts. Every dress is the essence of what any member of the stag line considers romance for summer night dancing.

New and very young are the white pique dinner dresses topped with short, snappy jackets made of striped chintz . . . the jackets come in red and white, blue and white, and green and white chintz. Sleeves are short, the jackets are also short, and, when the jacket is whisked off, you have a dance dress.

White pique party dresses are ideal choices for a summer of parties ahead, because they are all-white, trimmed effectively with white eyelet embroidery or coarse meshed white cotton lace. They tub like a pocket handkerchief week after week. All these chintz and cotton dresses are tagged with rather amazing budget prices, which adds to the fun of choosing them.

Lockerbie Street.

In the mail:

"Your mention of tiger lilies brought poignant nostalgia—memories of summer nights on Lockerbie street, in Indianapolis, where our most distinguished resident was adored James Whitcomb Riley. He really loved children and arranged endless joys for us. Time has made me see that he enjoyed those simple things more than we children did.

"After early supper we would congregate with Mr. Riley, while he listened to our songs, waved us home in 'I spy,' or judged our marchings and parades. The best parader was always allotted a prize, a tiger lily from his back yard or ours, which he would personally cut and present with great dignity and homage. He'd always loved tiger lilies because they'd grown outside his mother's kitchen door. And I love them because of that association with him; no orchid ever brings me as great a thrill as the sight of a tiger lily. —M. C. K."

A Foine Song.

Many friends of Morton Downey sent him flowers when he opened his engagement in the Mayfair room at the Blackstone the other evening, but he preferred that the flowers should not be brought onto the dance floor stage, saying that sort of tribute might be all right for prima donnas but not for him. The singer brought down the house with his arrangement of "Johnny Doughboy Found a Rose in Ireland" by using for the finale the song his fans perhaps love best—"My Wild Irish Rose."

Retort.

Two interested observers on an evening tour of Tribune tower were two Scotch lads, David Little and Jock MacMillen, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Flanagan. They are here on furlough from an RAF cadet school in the southwest. David, who was a linotype operator in Scotland and Wales before he was called up, lingered in the composing room, talking about the printing craft. One printer asked the boys how long a furlough they had, and when David replied, "Seven days," the printer said, "O, a week off, eh?" "Ay, thot's good," retorted Jock, making a rasping sound in his throat. "A wee cough!"

Emergency Met.

Acknowledgment for the following is made to F. T. G.:

The Rev. Wilbur Christians, pastor of the La Grange Baptist church, was about to become a father at the time he was supposed to unite a couple in marriage. He stopped the hospital corridor pacing that prospective fathers traditionally endure long enough to telephone the couple. He gave them three choices—they could call another minister, or he would, or they could come to the hospital. They chose the latter and were the first pair to be married in the new MacNeal Memorial hospital [formerly the Berwyn hospital]. The directors' room was the setting and the hospital bookkeeper was a witness. The couple: Arthur D. Reed of Elmhurst and Josephine McDonald Bullerman of Hinsdale. They'll live in La Grange.

Good Morning!

[Reading time, one minute.]

Madeleine Carroll and Bob Hope really take down their hair in this picture! And when the delectable twosome aren't knocking the audience for a goal on the screen—Skinnay Ennis and his band ARE, on the stage! Wha does de guy do? It ain't what you'd call singing—but it beats singing——? Ed-WARD! Edward BAR-RY . . . . !

There are a few [a VERY few] people who don't like Bob Hope. Tch! Tch! . . . But Madeleine Carroll is practically EVERYbody's favorite blonde. . . . SO—discounting the minority who are anti-Bob and ringing in the majority who are pro-Madeleine—I here report that teaming the pair was happy thought which has achieved popular materialization.

"My Favorite Blonde" is summer spy fare of airy and rollicking nature. It opens with a couple of murders aboard ship. . . . One of the murdererees, just before he gasps his last, hands a metal scorpion [little fellow on a pin] to the flabbergasted Miss Bentley. . . . He tells her it concerns a code vital to a certain flight of United States bomber planes. . . . It must reach a certain California air field by a certain time. . . .

The lady flees with the scorpion—and a bevy of Nazi scorpions trailing her. . . . Hustling into an unknown entrance, she discovers it to be the stage door of a vaudeville theater ["Pop, what is, vaudeville?"] and she skitters into a dressing room which turns out to be that of Percy and Haines—a penguin act. . . . Mr. Hope is one of the penguins. . . . And reads a letter which offers the two birds a motion picture contract. . . .

When Haines and his partner appear, she buttonholes the former and forces him willy nilly to be an accomplice. . . . He thinks the dame is crazy. . . . For a good long time he thinks that, as who shall blame him, but what to do?

And thus start the adventures of Bentley, Haines, and Percy. . . . NOT a dull moment. . . . You may never have liked Hope before, but brother—and sister—this time he's going to make you forget all about that.

As for Madeleine—BOYS!

The picture springs lots of surprises and sizzles with suspense. . . . The dialog and Mr. Hope's pantomime are almost too good to be true. . . . He's SO much funnier on the screen than on the radio! . . .

Advice: Don't walk—RUN to the Chicago theater this week!

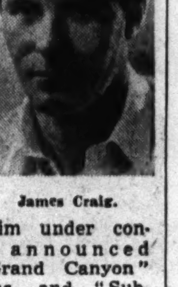
Looking at Hollywood

—By Hedda Hopper—

Hollywood, Cal., June 22.—When I saw James Craig on the "Ox Train" set, I felt there was something in the wind over there, told him so, and was I right! He goes into "Gambler's Choice," which was all set up for Clark Gable [and will kill Craig's trip to Houston, Tex., for the opening of his latest picture]. I don't know what RKO's going to do. They have him under contract, and they've announced him for two—"Grand Canyon" with Ginny Simms, and "Submarine Wolf Pack," with Jane Wyatt. Funny thing about Jimmy—he's tall, virile, handsome and guess how he learned to act! He played Rhett Butler for six months under direction of George Cukor, 'cause he made the tests with all females who were tried out for Scarlett. So he should feel right at home in Clark Gable's shoes, 'cause he wore them first!



James Craig.

Who Can Blame Her?

Claudette Colbert isn't exactly temperamental, but she's firm when she tells Director Mitch Leisen to make it good—no retakes!—in "No Time for Love," because she wants to have plenty of time for real love east with her doctor—and the sooner the better. . . . Could it be that the John Suttons' happy marriage is about to go smash? Could be, 'cause three nights a week he's living at a country club here. . . . Fifi Dorsay's real love is Pat Maloney, touring in "Johnny 2 x 4." Vic Mature looks like Pat, so she fills in a few lonely hours stepping out with him. . . . And those calls Vic's getting from a Miss Fitzpatrick really come from Rita Hayworth. . . . Glenn Ford has been supposedly phoning Hedy Lamarr—also Eleanor Powell. But I happen to know he's doing all right, thank you, and nice work, too, with Dinah Shore. . . . Carrie Randall [formerly Carole Gallagher], who was under contract to Howard Hughes, is now under contract to Metro, and Louis B. Mayer's giving her a big buildup.

Ain't It the Truth!

It's funny, publicity agents in our town burn the midnight oil dreaming up stories to crown their stars' brows with all the virtues. Yet along in my mail comes one that would make them blue with envy. It's a chatty, cheerful letter from a sprightly lady 74 years old, crippled for seven years with arthritis. She's Miriam Hopkins' aunt and says, "Since my first illness Miriam has paid hospital bills and all expenses, and in no way in heaven is this a duty of hers. I've begged to relieve her by going into a home. She won't hear of it. So it's small wonder I think her the grandest person in the world. She's made mistakes, sure. But I maintain that a person who never makes a mistake never makes much of anything else. Which reminds me of an uncle back in Hollidaysburg, Pa., who used to say, "Lord deliver us from the man who's never made a fool of himself."

Nice People.

Stanton Griffis, head of Paramount Pictures, who's done such a magnificent job with navy relief and half a dozen other projects, is begging to be put into active service. He'd like to go to Iceland, Australia or anywhere our forces are fighting, and battle himself. . . . Margaret Lindsay, who crashed Hollywood as an English girl in "Cavalcade," may get to see that country at last. Michael Balcom wants her to report over there in July for his next picture . . . more fun! Jock Whitney, during his stay here, boning up on his trigonometry to get into the army. And that in a town that's going around in circles! And yet, isn't Hollywood celebrated for its triangles? . . . I don't believe it, but I'm told Mary Martin's option won't be picked up by Paramount. It would seem rather foolish after all the good work Mary's done.

How About It?

Well, girls, you can keep on sighing. Charles Boyer, so help me, is going to produce a picture at Universal and not act in it. In the meantime, he's turning down acting jobs all over town. It may be a good deal for Charles, but it's certainly hard on us. And I think we ought to start an "unfair to women" campaign. . . . Georgia Hale is telling friends that she's going to be in Charlie Chaplin's next picture in a singing rôle. Here's luck to you, Georgia. . . . With those bushy eyebrows, Andy Devine borrowed from Charles Laughton, he's strangely reminiscent of Captain Bligh in "Mutiny on the Bounty." And that gravel voice matches the eyebrows better than Charlie's! . . . It really looks as tho John Howard is serious at least—and about Janet Blair, too. He's been taking her home, and teaching her how to cook.

There Miss Wrigley and her sister, Dorothy, and brother, William, have spent every summer since they were children. They are grandchildren of Mrs. William Wrigley Jr. and the Bert L. Atwaters. Miss Wrigley has just completed her freshman year at Vassar college. She made her debut at a dinner-dance last July at Hillcroft, her parents' Lake Geneva home.

Young Mr. Hagenah enlisted in the naval air corps shortly before his graduation from Princeton university on June 16 and will be leaving shortly to report to a southern post. He has one sister, Miss Florence.

Patriotic Motif Adds Color to Race Opening

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

Spiffy new red, white, and blue race program covers, booths with war bonds and stamps on sale, airplanes flying in formation overhead, pictures of Gen. Douglas MacArthur on the cover of the menus—all are innovations at the Arlington Park Race track this year. All, too, are indications of a nation at war at a place for recreation and relaxation—if one can relax at a race track. At any rate, the crowds attending the opening of the beautiful racing plant northwest of the city yesterday seemed to have cast their worries to the wind.

There seemed to be fewer racing enthusiasts than usual at the smart little Post and Paddock club, and the lack of young men was especially noticeable. The grandstands were crowded, however, and on the lawn of the Jockey club sat a whole family group—mother, father, son and infant, who was shuffled from one parent to another as he or she went off to place bets.

The opening was blessed with perfect weather, not too cool and not too hot. Among the early arrivals was Mrs. Dwight Green, looking as pretty as a picture all in green, the "win" color yesterday. Red and yellow took "place" and "show," and all in all the clothes were more colorful, and there was less of the stock black and white than in previous years.

Among Mrs. Green's luncheon guests was Mrs. Temple McFayden, in a fuchsia and white print on a black background and a wide brimmed white straw hat, banded in black. Another of the few wearing a black background print was Mrs. Philip D. Armour Jr., whose short sleeved frock was splashed with giant roses, and whose hat was a high crowned, wide-brimmed one of white, worn back on her head. Mrs. Armour was among the many young women sufficiently tanned to go about without stockings, but stockingless feet aren't always the most comfortable, and she was protecting rubbed ankles with adhesive tape beneath the straps of her heel-less shoes.

Startling, at first sight, was Mrs. George W. Merck's print dress, for it was of white, with enormous and life-like bright blue crabs scattered over it. Mrs. Merck, whose husband is in the service; Miss Barbara McLaughlin, a debutante of the season, and her guest from St. Louis, Miss Caroline Short, shared two of the young men available.

Combining two of the favorite colors, green and red, was Mrs. Eugene Howard, whose dress was of Kelly green, with an overstripe pattern of red, and a loose fitting jacket of scarlet wool. Her green straw hat was trimmed with what seemed to be a scarlet parrot at one side. Others in green: Mrs. Paul Walker, Miss Jeanne Stenson, Miss Ethel Johnston, who sat with Mrs. William B. Brown; Miss Janet Brown, Mrs. Keith Brown, and Miss Ruth Brown. Miss Janet Brown was among the many wearing yellow.

Mrs. Frank Miller and Mrs. Howard Ellis kept a gin rummy game going at their table while betting on the races, too. Mrs. Edward Morris, in a stunning black and white print with an Egyptian motif—camels, pyramids, etc.—and Mrs. Harold Wiley, also were at that same table. Not far away was a hat that repeated the near east influence, a Bedouin's hat, of white straw and white material, worn by Mrs. Frank Bering.

Mrs. Ednyfed Williams, all in pale blue; Laurance H. Armour, president of the Post and Paddock, and Mrs. Armour, who arrived late; Mr. and Mrs. George F. Douaire Jr., Mrs. Joseph Rice, Mrs. James G. Shakman, in a brilliant red coat with tuxedo reveres of lynx; Mrs. Charles Wrigley, Mrs. John E. Henry, Mrs. Edward A. Pool, Mrs. Mark Trude, Mrs. Peter G. Moon, Mrs. Alanson Donald, Mrs. Frank A. Lagorio and her daughter, Mrs. John McGuire; Mrs. George F. Getz Jr., and Mrs. Weymouth Kirkland were among others at the Post and Paddock.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

Two Per Cent Pestiferous.

A white collar girl writes her boss:

"Dear Boss: Last evening after our first aid class a number of us fell to discussing our jobs. One girl said her boss is 98 per cent perfect and 2 per cent 'pestiferous.' I had to laugh. It exactly described you.

"You are really 98 per cent perfect but that 2 per cent drives me nearly crazy. It includes such trivial annoyances as:

"Chewing a cigar while you dictate.

"Pressing your fingertips together when you're thinking.

"Instructing me to telephone your wife you won't be home for dinner—you know she hates it!

"Opening the window on the back of my neck.

"Kidding in front of clients about 'Getting Milly married before all the men go off to war' . . . very unfunny.

"Gazing [absent-mindedly, we'll say] at my stockings. [I don't mind if you take a look at 'em while they last, but sometimes I feel like an awkward dairy-maid.]

"Telling me to bring you the file on So and So after he has been in your office a good half hour. [Give me a few minutes leeway please!]

"Only 2 per cent, Boss, and really that's too little percentage to complain. You're 98 per cent perfect and you can put it on the books that I said so. Only . . . that 2 per cent . . . well, couldn't SOMETHING be done about THAT?"

From J. H. M.: "I think you would be doing a service if you would tell your readers not to follow the pronunciation of 9 out of 10 radio commentators. It is not 'dic-ta-TOR'. The accent is on the first [or the second] syllable. It is not 'OH-fensive'—long o—but short o and the accent is on the second syllable. It is not 'EEE-ficiency.' The accent is on the second syllable and the e is short."

An interesting example of diversification is presented by Gertrude Standring, secretary-by-day . . . song-writer-by-night, who has turned out a pretty ditty called "Second To None" for which she wrote the words and music. . . . Algonquin's 33d Season Set for Eager City Kids

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

White canoes are bobbing at the piers. Swings are hanging limp beneath the giant oaks. Fresh, warm sand is heaped in the sand boxes. Bright curtained windows wink a welcome in the sun. Glistening paint shines everywhere. Camp Algonquin is ready for the summer.

The United Charities camp, nestled in a bend of the Fox river 43 miles from the welter and squalor of the city's tenements, will open its 33d season Thursday. One hundred two pale faced children and harassed mothers of needy families will descend on the camp to romp or relax, as the case may be, for two glorious weeks as guests of the United Charities and generous readers of THE TRIBUNE who have contributed to the Camp Algonquin Fund.

Among the vacationers will be a tired faced 18 year old mother and her 5 weeks old baby, who will be the youngest camper. The baby's father is in the army. Another mother whose son is at Fort Darwin, Australia, will have two weeks of enjoyment at the camp with five of her other children.

One youngster made sure that he would be in the first contingent of campers by keeping in touch with the charities thruout the year. A recent letter to a counsellor expressed his enthusiasm.

"Hi, Usty," it read. "Bet you can't guess who this is. Well my name is Henry Smith but if I tell you my nickname you'll know who it is. My nickname is Peanuts. If you are still confused ask Mick of Raphel. Mick is sure to know who this is for all you got to tell him I am the one who made the sea shell necklaces in the craft shop. I have made arrangement with one of the ladys in the comitte or the board of revew for all summer. I will be in the first group in July. Please sign me up for the Indian club I have then a card which were given out to show what you are and belong to. I have still got my own card 1 for blue ribbon swimming, 1 craft shop, 1 hicking club and camping. I can hardly wait. Tell Mr. what his name who ownes all the chicken farm back of camp that I am sending him a letter too."

"Mr. what his name" and "Usty" will greet Peanuts Saturday for he will be among a second contingent of 110 campers who will arrive then. The campers were divided in two groups to relieve train congestion.

Because of increased employment in defense work, the camp will not have as many mothers this season as last. There will be 60 boys between the ages of 7 and 12, 70 girls between the ages of 7 and 14, and 82 mothers and children under 7 in the two initial groups.

Eighty undernourished children will arrive Monday to spend an entire month at Harlowarden, the health rebuilding unit of the camp. Another 80 will be admitted in August.

Approximately 1,600 children and mothers will have enjoyed a vacation of sun and water and nourishing food before the season closes on Sept. 3. Under the expert guidance of 40 counsellors, nurses and maintenance men who make up the staff, they will have been given opportunities to swim, fish, camp out doors, study nature, Indian lore and handicraft, and dig to their hearts' content in the camp Victory gardens. Kindly Mrs. Astrid Save, director of the camp, will see that each two week vacation will be packed with special activities.

The higher prices of food and supplies has raised the cost of maintaining one child for a week from $5 to $6.50. Contributions from readers of THE TRIBUNE and The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., are making the vacations possible with no lessening of the camp's excellent standards.

Would you like to give a child two weeks of unexpected delight? Camp Algonquin is waiting for him.

Candidate Selection for WAAC Training Nears Completion

The selection of candidates for the first women's army auxiliary corps officers' training school, which is scheduled to open about July 15 at Fort Des Moines, Ia., is nearing completion. The sixth corps area boards, composed of one army officer and two women volunteers, will complete personal interviews today. Physical examinations of the feminine candidates were conducted last week at Camp Grant, Fort Sheridan, and other army camps in the midwest. The original field of 888 applicants was narrowed to 360 for the physical examinations by a series of mental tests and personal interviews. Applications of candidates who successfully passed the physical examinations and are selected by the sixth corps boards will be forwarded to Washington, D. C., for final approval.

"Too Many Loves"

By Ruth Zander

SYNOPSIS.

News of the death of Harold, earl of Festone, in an auto accident near his home in Cuernavaca, Mexico, brings little sorrow to his acquaintances and supposed friends of the British-American colony there. Philip Rankin, English art dealer, is frankly glad; so is Sir James Lynn, British oil magnate, whose wife, Elaine, was in love with Lord Festone. Sophisticated Sharon Lathrop also thinks he is better off dead; and Juliet Johnson, young dancer from New York and house guest of the Lynns, is shocked but not sorry. Elaine is not present at the luncheon, where the news is learned, and when the group is speculating on how she will take it, Dr. Alvarez joins the party and announces that Lord Festone died of a bullet wound, not of accident injuries.

INSTALMENT II.
MARRIAGE OF REGRET.

Dr. Alvarez' startling announcement that the peer's death had been caused by a bullet wound, instead of accident injuries suffered when his car left the road, proved to be that dull roll of thunder which followed the lightning flash of news.

While the other flinched—and then exclaimed—Juliet's thoughts turned back. . . .

Only yesterday afternoon after luncheon in this very gathering place with these very people Lord Festone had offered enthusiastically to drive her and Elaine over the winding old Cortez trail to the quaint, crowded market of San Martin, Texmuclan.

Gleefully, the girls were about to accept when Sir James interrupted brusquely to say that his wife and Miss Juliet were riding horseback with him in Chapultepec Park in Mexico City. It was the first time either of them had heard of his plan. But they knew it was a declaration rather than an invitation, and that it was not to be denied. Harold, gracious and unabashed, was definitely not included.

There had been nothing particularly unusual about that. Sir James had the annoying habit of giving orders rather than suggestions—whether he was speaking to his best friends or to his employés, whether he was discussing pleasure or business. These people understood his way, and, fortunately, fell in with it.

But Juliet wondered now—as perhaps Philip and the exquisite Sharon Lathrop were also privately speculating, altho they seemed to be giving their entire attention to the doctor's scientific explanation on the course of the bullet—just how much or how little Sir James suspected of the attachment between his showgirl bride and the dissolute, expatriate nobleman.

The American girl was sorry she knew as much as she did—sorry that capricious Elaine had invited her to Cuernavaca with the sly but definite purpose of making a triangle look like a quadrangle.

If Juliet had known Elaine better, she might not have accepted.

They had first met two years ago when Juliet arrived in London with an American troupe to dance in a musical. Elaine, a statuesque, slightly clad British showgirl, decorated the same extravaganza. She took a great fancy to the New Yorker.

Juliet found out soon enough that Elaine was hard inside, old beyond her years—altho the only signs of that were in her hard, defiant eyes and her almost cruelly determined mouth—and that she was well acquainted with the facts of life, the hard facts of life. She was cold to everything which would not help her advance.

"I came up the hard way, Juliet," Elaine confided in one of her moody moments when they were having a midnight snack together in London, "in the East End with a crowd of dirty brothers and sisters. I hated my mother because she made me take care of the younger ones when I wanted to play—and my father was a drunken bum.

"There was never any laughter in our house—and I made up my mind that if I ever got out of it, I'd never go back. Well, I'm out—and some day I'm going to be rich and famous," she said emphatically. "I'm not going to let love trip me up either. I want a man with money—a lot of it."

Juliet thought back to her own happy childhood on a shady, clean street in Brooklyn Heights—where there was never a day when family laughter didn't ring thruout the shabby brownstone house.

Upon Juliet's return from England to that home—and to Broadway—she and Elaine exchanged numerous letters—letters in which the showgirl wrote of seeking stage work in New York.

Then in the newspapers—and in an air-mailed letter from London—she learned of Elaine's sensational marriage to the tremendously wealthy, powerful and elderly eighth baronet of Lynn and Alden. She studied the newspaper pictures of the man—mustached and bushybrowed. His great jowls reminded her of a Saint Bernard, and she shuddered at the thought of that union of beautiful youth with stolid age.

But when she read other news stories, rotogravure picture captions and letters from Lady Lynn—which Juliet's mother and impressionistic kid sister prized highly—telling of Elaine's retirement from show business, plans for a honeymoon in Mexico, arrival in the land of cactus, orchids and maguey, and of the baronet's gift to her of an expensive car and a home in Cuernavaca, Juliet began to think that Elaine "hadn't done so badly after all.

Then the invitation arrived. It turned Juliet's quiet home life upside down.

Everybody in the family told her she ought to accept it. Dad, who expected to be rich some day when his inventions clicked, thought she could bring back some new ideas for him. John, her older brother, now working in an accountant's office, said she deserved a vacation. Hyacinth, the buck-toothed little sister, said maybe Lady Lynn had a titled friend she could marry. Mother insisted. They all read and reread the invitation many times.

There was no hint in it of the desperate situation in which Lady Lynn found herself enmeshed.

"Read it again, Julie," said her mother.

"James and I love our new home in this Mexican town," Juliet read. "We divide our time between it and his coffee plantation near Vera Cruz. He is so busy trying to persuade the Mexican government to return his oil wells, I don't believe we will ever get to the States. So you must visit us here."

"So you must, Julie," her mother said as if that settled it.

"But we can't afford it," Juliet objected.

"Sure we can. We'll take the money we were going to spend on Hyacinth's teeth-straightening. The dentist says we can wait another year, anyhow. And you haven't got a show now."

So the "tooth-money" was planked down for a round trip ticket to Mexico, and Juliet flew southeast from New York to Brownsville with the last admonitions of the entire family on how to behave in society ringing in her ears.

At Brownsville she transferred to another airline and flew south over the brown Sierra Madres toward Mexico City, where she expected to be met by Elaine and Sir James.

As the plane flew nearer and nearer, she, breathless with anticipation, peered eagerly out of the tiny windows. She wondered what Sir James really looked like. From his pictures he appeared to be a gargantuan man. She wondered if Elaine had changed much in the past two years.

Elaine, alone, was hanging over the airport guard rail, waiting for her. Her greeting was effusive. Yes, she had changed greatly—in manner, voice, even appearance. She looked—and acted—the part of the titled lady. Her voice was modulated and had an attractive huskiness.

"James sends his regrets. He's spending the day with the president," Elaine explained. "But here's a thrill for you, darling—may I present a real live nobleman—Harold, the earl of Festone."

A tall, dark, youngish-appearing man limped forward, shook hands, smiled into her eyes and said that this was indeed a pleasure. He had heard Lady Lynn speak so often these past weeks of Miss Johnson.

Juliet wished, privately of course, that she could say the same. She couldn't remember ever having heard of him—yet there was something vaguely familiar about his name.

She could see that Elaine's enthusiasm brought amusement to Lord Festone's shifting, deep-socketed, dark eyes. She could see admiration there, too.

That wasn't surprising. During the time that the American troupe was in London, Juliet had learned that all men admired Elaine—her glossy golden hair, her China-blue eyes, her exquisite pink and white complexion, her slender, tall figure.

Now she was to learn that this admiration was different. Elaine had taken the homage of all men as her due. She had been elated—but not surprised, she wrote Juliet—when Sir James proposed. The showgirl had accepted him as her best bet. By the end of five months of marriage she was racked with regret.

Restaurant portions of sugar are very liberal, I think. Some places even set a whole bowlful of sugar out to tempt you! Others provide little envelopes containing two lumps of sugar or two teaspoons, and some eating houses use tiny cups for sugar. I saw a woman, who had just finished dinner in one of the nicer restaurants about town, reach around her table to collect little cups of sugar from all the persons present who hadn't used theirs. These she emptied into a sack which she apparently carried in her purse for such a purpose. And out she walked with a good deal of help toward a cake, maybe. Perhaps I'm an old meanie, but I kind of hope that cake wasn't too good!

Most homemakers find their sugar supplies entirely adequate. I haven't talked to even one who has complained that her family suffers any from rationing. In almost every case the attitude has been: "We ate too much sugar. Now we're being a bit more normal."

Italian restaurants apparently haven't suffered much loss of business since we've been at war. Probably it's because the operators have become good American citizens, and because we still can't feel ourselves at war with anybody but Hitler and the Jap. If you want something just awfully delicious in the line of Italian food, try pizza at the Pizzeria Napolitana, 907 West Taylor street, or at another Italian place which serves it. Pizza is a wonderful yeast dough "pie," with tomatoes and cheese and seasonings baked upon it. You eat it in pie shaped wedges, and is it good!

ON EATING OUT: I wish so many restaurants wouldn't bring you those good rolls ahead of the dinner course. Because you're usually awfully hungry, and you fill up on rolls, and then the southern fried chicken is almost too much! . . . I object violently to crowding in restaurants. Many places which serve fine food are so eager to get all the business they can that they have you rubbing elbows with the people at the next table. I also object to a table crowded with dishes. Tables should be bigger, or else there shouldn't be so many dishes! . . . And there are places which make a practice of serving such huge portions of good food that nobody but a gourmand could possibly make away with it all. I'm a good eater, but no relation to Diamond Jim Brady. It seems wasteful in these times!

Have you some trimmings from party sandwiches? Save them and make croutons of them for soup. Or a bread pudding. If they've been spread with cheese, you can make a wonderful main dish or dessert of them. The cheese flavor makes a bread pudding piquant, and as a main dish you can turn the cheesy crusts into a casserole with a custard and bake the whole for a tempting luncheon dish. Add sliced cooked shrimp and make a shrimp cheesy-bread custard, if you like. That's good!

SAVE FATS FOR VICTORY!

TODAY'S PRIZE RECIPE

Holland Cake.
[Coffee cake with an unusual flavor]
[9 by 15 loaf]

- ½ cup butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup strong black coffee
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 4 tablespoons cream
- 1 cake yeat
- 2 tablespoons lukewarm water
- Flour to make soft dough [about 4½ cups]
- 1 cup seeded raisins
- 2 tablespoons whole anise seed

Cream the butter and sugar together until light and fluffy. Add the cold coffee and the eggs and cream. Soften the yeast in the lukewarm water and add to first mixture. Add flour to make soft dough. Mix well, cover and let rise until doubled in bulk, about 1½ hours. Punch down and knead in raisins and anise seeds, continuing kneeding until dough is smooth and satiny. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in moderate [350 oven] until done, about 50 minutes. When cold, ice with confectioners' sugar frosting and decorate with nutmeats and candied fruit peel, if desired.

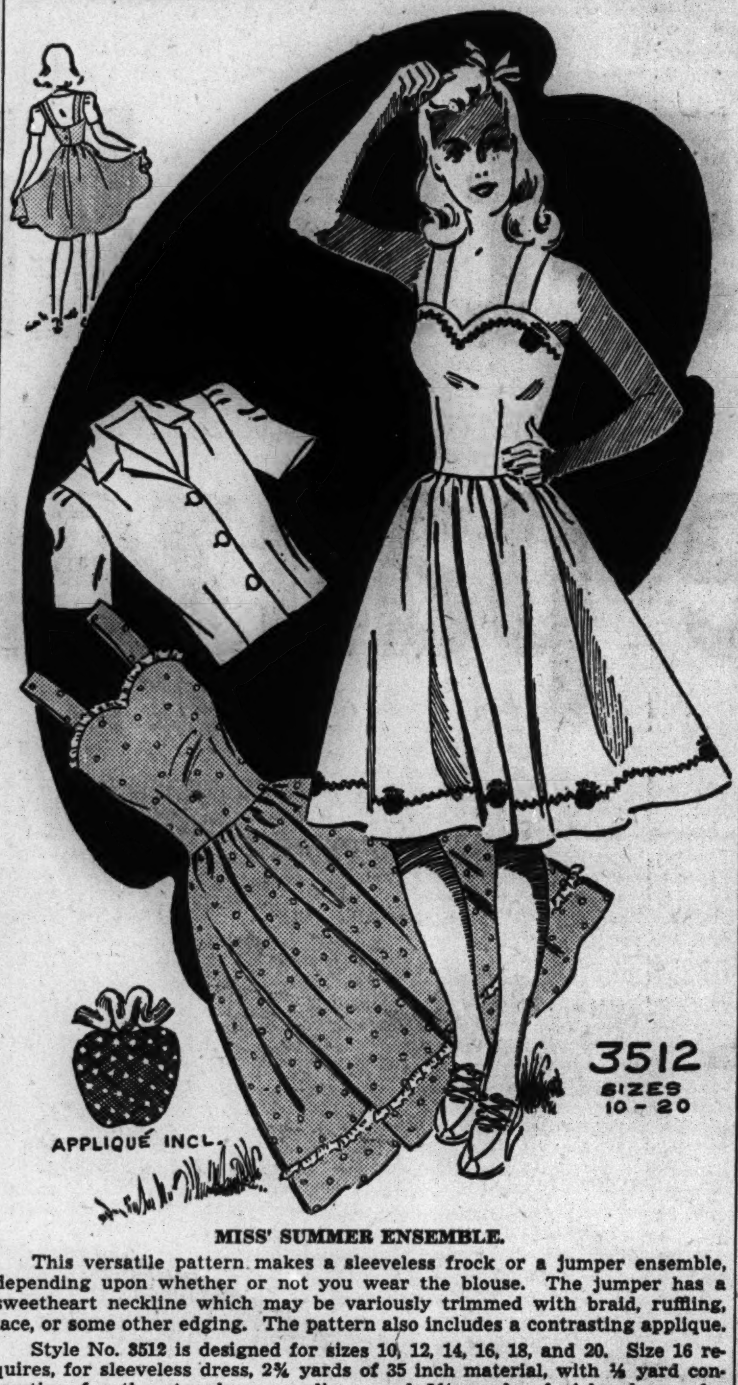
U. of Nebraska Alumni to Hold Picnic Saturday

The University of Nebraska Alumni Association of Chicago will sponsor its annual Nebraska picnic Saturday afternoon on the estate of Guy E. Reed west of Half Day. Mrs. Howard Peterson, 5534 South Kimbark avenue, president of the association, said that 200 are expected to attend.

Versatile Summer Pattern



MISS' SUMMER ENSEMBLE.

This versatile pattern makes a sleeveless frock or a jumper ensemble, depending upon whether or not you wear the blouse. The jumper has a sweetheart neckline which may be variously trimmed with braid, ruffling, lace, or some other edging. The pattern also includes a contrasting applique.

Style No. 3512 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires, for sleeveless dress, 2¾ yards of 35 inch material, with ⅛ yard contrasting for the strawberry applique, and 3½ yards of rickrack, or, for jumper, 2¾ yards of 35 inch, with 3½ yards of ruffling; for blouse, 1½ yards of 35 inch.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost (coin preferred)—wrap it carefully, for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT: Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired and write your name and address plainly. The summer pattern book costs 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

Women in War Work

"Women Workers in War and Essential Industries" is the explanatory title of a panel discussion sponsored by the Illinois Manufacturers' association and to be held at 7 o'clock tonight at Hotel LaSalle. Speakers will describe how women workers are selected, trained, and supervised. Representatives of leading industries in Chicago and vicinity will attend this session, but it is not a closed meeting. Any one may attend, and there is no registration fee or other charge.

The speakers will include R. W. Mathers, director of personnel and industrial relations for Stewart-Warner corporation; Miss Sara E. Southall, supervisor of employment and services, International Harvester company; W. K. Lunt, director of public relations, W. F. Hall Printing company, and Miss Ruth Stone, chief of women's placement section, Western Electric company. Harry Kessler, vice president and manager of the Tuthill Pump company, will act as chairman.

"Woman's place in the war production program is attracting increasing attention. Between two and three million additional women will be needed in industry, it is estimated, before the end of this year, and a large number of them will be in Illinois plants. There are now approximately 800,000 women employed in war industries, as compared with two and a half millions at the close of World War I.

"Experience has shown that women workers are fully as capable as men if engaged in suitable occupations, particularly in machine operations, forging, welding. . . . They are skillful, alert, and exceedingly patriotic. Proportionately more women than men have been added to the force in the metal and machinery groups during the last year in Illinois, altho in this group both men and women have been doubled since 1935. Up to the present time women have been obtained from retail employment, from the ranks of those who have not been employed, from high schools, and from rural districts."

The course in child welfare service sponsored by the women's coördinating committee of the Civilian Defense councils of Oak Park and River Forest is now in the second week of the six week session. The class will meet this morning and Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Oak Park and River Forest Day nursery. A nursery staff member will lecture for 45 minutes, after which there will be a 15 minute discussion period. This will be followed by one hour of direct observation of preschool age children.

Miss Josephine Blackstock, director of the playground system in Oak Park, has arranged this program for training women to take care of evacuees from other localities and to assist in established child welfare centers.

The Aviation Cadette Recruiting aids, room 293, Hotel Sherman, can use volunteer stenographers and typists to work for at least three hours at a stretch in the daytime. The work will be for the army. Cadette Capt. Georgia Brucker is in charge of personnel, and women interested in giving their services are asked to write to her at the Hotel Sherman.

A clatter of piano notes issuing from Fort Sheridan this morning won't mean that the army is taking an en masse lesson in how to play "Chopsticks." It will mean piano tuners are at work. Forty of them, including several blind men, will arrive at the post at 10 o'clock and go to work as their contribution to war work. This may not seem to fit into the story of "Women in War Work," but it appears here by reason of the fact that Mrs. Otis Heath of Winnetka, a member of the Fort Sheridan Volunteers' committee, has made the arrangements. The mass project, however, must be credited as a project of the American Society of Piano Tuner-Technicians, a group that hopes to extend this particular kind of patriotism to tuning the pianos of military camps thruout the country. Alfred H. Utterberg, 6747 North Sioux street, is president of Tuner-Technicians, and H. J. Hansen, 1633 North Halsted street, is chairman of the committee for the Fort Sheridan tuning project.

The Woman's Library Club of Glencoe is going into war work by producing a benefit USO show tonight and tomorrow ninght at the suburb's Central school. The "actresses" and actors in the affair, which is described as a clown's dream of his own wedding, are all Glencoe men. Mrs. J. MacGregor Fraser is chairman of the event, which is a means of raising funds to be shared by the USO, a day room at Fort Sheridan, and several other charities supported by the club.

[The Women in War Work department reports on women's activities in war and defense work and will answer questions of women wishing to take part in these activities.]

of the wedding. The Burford Porters will give the bridal dinner on July 2 at the Onwentsia.

Mr. Walker and his bride will be at home in Cambridge, Mass., until he completes his navy course at the Harvard business school.

Frederick A. Prestons Go East for Son's Marriage.

The marriage of Miss Gertrude Eldred Bradford to Dr. Frederick Willard Preston is the occasion for a reunion of the Frederick A. Preston family today in New York. Mr. and Mrs. Preston have gone from Lake Forest to be present at their son's wedding at 4:30 o'clock in St. James' Episcopal church and the reception which the bride's aunt, Mrs. Theodore W. Case, will give later at the River club. Also present will be the bridegroom's two brothers, Charles D. Preston, as best man, and Ensign Henry A. Preston, as usher. The latter's wife, the former Eleanore Louise Tompkins, is to be matron of honor.

Miss Bradford's bridesmaids will be Miss Jane Case, Miss Nancy Holton, and Miss Joan Baker of New York and Miss Mary Congdon of Duluth, Minn. Also ushering will be Dr. Frank Jones and Dr. Elliott Foltz of Chicago and David Harrington and David Hyde of New York. After two weeks in Canada Dr. Preston and his bride will be at home for the time being in Rochester, Minn., where he is a fellow in surgery at the Mayo Foundation.

Maj. Galloway's Arrival in Australia Reported.

Mrs. Charles E. Galloway has had word that her husband, Maj. Galloway of the army medical corps, has arrived in Australia. He also served in World War I. Charles Galloway Jr. and his recent bride are in the northwest, where he is teaching in the civilian aviation program.

Rene P. Travelletti, who is an architect, has gone to Cody, Wyo., to engage in war work. Mrs. Travelletti and her daughter, Sallie Anne Thomas, who has been attending the San Luis school, will join Mr. Travelletti soon.

The junior Henry Hoopers probably will have a double debut party at Christmas time, since there is not much difference in age between their young daughters, Miss Alice and Miss Anne. Both young women have been attending the Sault-au-Recollet in Canada, from which Alice was graduated this month. Anne will return in the fall for her last year. Mrs. Hooper and the girls hope to go to Mexico this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Homer of Hinsdale announce the engagement of their daughter, Betty Jane, to Lucius Clarke Hollister Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollister of Chicago. Miss Homer attended school in Hinsdale and Fort Myers, Fla., and received her degree this June from Northwestern university. Young Mr. Hollister prepared at the Boys' Latin school for Northwestern, and now is in his third year at the university's medical school.

College Club Luncheon.

The house committee has arranged for a buffet luncheon from noon to 1:30 o'clock today at the Chicago College club, 30 North Michigan avenue.

Stage Notes

"Headliners of '42," the variety show at the Grand Opera house, has not been drawing in enough cash customers to maintain its large weekly salary budget, and will therefore end its Chicago engagement Saturday evening. For the final week Della Norella, Latin-American singer, has been added to the cast in place of Frances Faye. After the close of the Chicago run, Alfred Bloomingdale and Nat Karson, the producers, plan to take "Headliners of '42" to New York.

July 20 is now definitely set as the opening date for "Cocktails—Five to Seven," the new musical comedy to be tried out at the Erlanger theater. Charlotte Lansing, Ruth Bond, and Morton Bowe will be featured.

The Housewife

For those artistic shallow bowls and dishes in which you arrange flowers you'll need a supply of metal holders. Weighted, they have ever so many little sharp points on which to impale the stems. These needle holders come in about four or five sizes and in a green or silver metal finish. For deeper bowls you can now get a wire arrangement held in a metal band. This is stronger than chicken wire and won't slide about.

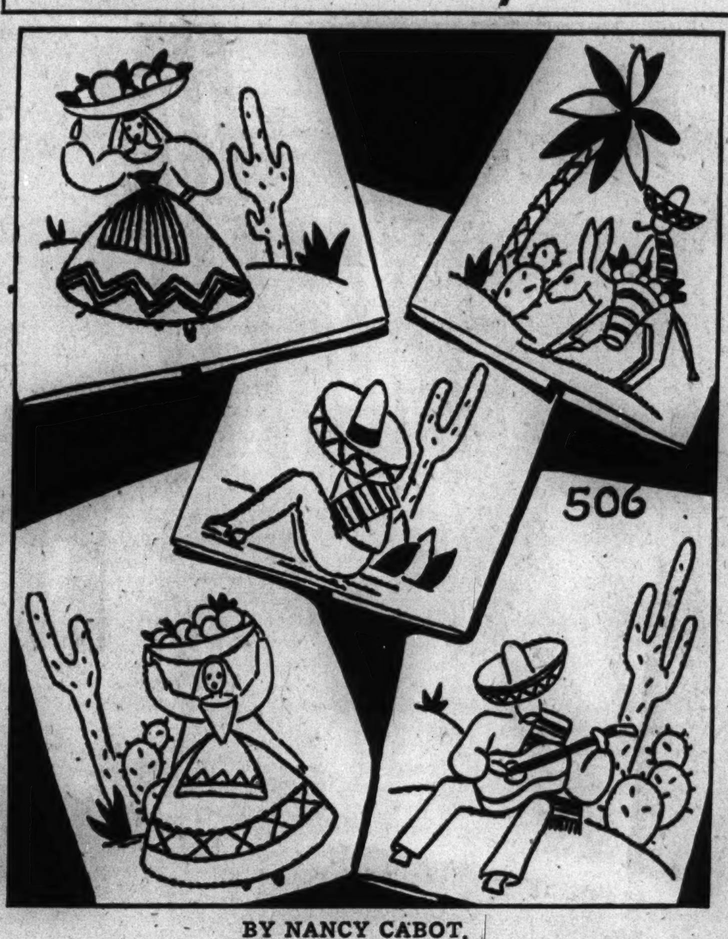
Mexican Embroidery Motifs



BY NANCY CABOT.

Mexican motifs for embroidery are extremely popular at the present time and always interesting. This hot iron transfer pattern contains five illustrations, which range in size from 4¼x4¼ to 5¼x7 inches, and are suitable for towels, curtains, pillows, or luncheon sets.

Pass

There was nothing to the play—the six heart contract was a laydown.

It is impossible to condemn North-South too strongly for the "swing" that occurred in this deal. Their opponents romped off with a score of 1,430 points when they themselves had 1,610 points within easy grasp.

It was South who was 75 per cent responsible for this debacle. His pass over six hearts was appallingly shortsighted. With five spades in his own hand and his partner marked with at least six for his preëmptive bid, it was out of the question to depend on a defensive spade trick. South himself had no possible side-suit winner. North's opening bid had denied the possession of more than one side-suit trick, and he might not hold even that one. Thus, barring the extremely remote chance that a diamond opening by South might hit the ace in the North hand and permit the clairvoyant return of a club which South could ruff, there was no ground for hoping that the six heart contract could be defeated.

Very often, in cases involving fiercely competitive bidding, it is simple strategy to pass for partner's final decision. But in this case South should have realized that there was no point in permitting North to decide the issue. For even if North chose to double, it would be unthinkable for South to leave in the double. On the one hand, there was the slight possibility of defeating the contract and collecting 200 points; on the other was the very real danger that East-West would triumph. Rather disproportionate, I should say!

Chicago Woman's Aid Is Holding Its Annual Picnic for Blind Today

The Chicago Woman's aid is holding its annual picnic for the blind today in Douglas park, near the refectory. Mrs. E. A. Feldmann, the chairman in charge, emphasizes that the party, beginning at 10:30 o'clock, is exclusively for blind persons, that the aid will have a large committee on the grounds to assist and, therefore, there will be no need for sighted friends to accompany the guests. Because of the large numbers of the blind who come to the picnic it is not possible for the aid to extend its invitation to attendants. A musical entertainment is planned.

Even Children Can Understand Aiding Country

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The small figure [he is 6] came thru the back of the house, under the apple tree and over near the wild flower garden, with his puppy. There was all his own land and all the road, too, but no, for some reason that existed in that blond little head he must go over some one else's lawn, make a noise, and trample the edge of the garden.

Four or five mornings he had done this and as many times he had been asked not to, then seriously told not to by the neighbor he was annoying. Also it had been explained to him that the young man of the house was asleep and must not be disturbed. Stubbornly he kept up his annoying trip under the bedroom windows. [Living in the country has its disadvantages as well as the city, especially if parents are disregardful of their children's destructiveness of neighbors' property and peace of mind.]

Finally the mistress of the house was wondering what to do next when she heard her intelligent young maid step out of the kitchen door and say:

"Come here a minute, Dickie . . . You play 'Gen. MacArthur,' don't you? And you know how his men have to have guns and things to fight with? Well, Mr. Harry works all night every night to help make guns and such things to go to Gen. MacArthur's men. And so he has to sleep all the morning."

Dickie's eyes were getting rounder and rounder, and he was holding Billiken's head tighter and tighter.

"But if you bring Billiken over here and make a noise Mr. Harry can't sleep and then he can't do his work well to make guns and things to send to Gen. MacArthur's men. If you stay away and take Billiken somewhere else in the mornings, then you'll be helping your country, too."

A long silence followed—one of those silences that mean a young child is absorbing a new idea. Then:

"Okay," he said softly, and pulling Billiken so sternly that the pup nearly choked, he departed, and hasn't been seen since in the period up to noon. Also his older brother is showing the same regard for quiet, and since some other noisy small boys haven't appeared, the family is wondering if perhaps they, too, haven't been imbued with the spirit of helping their country by being quiet, so guns can be made for "Gen. MacArthur's men."

I tell this story for two reasons—one to show the use of good motivation to get a result; and the other to show that the participation by children in our war effort should be geared to their understanding and age capacity. These young boys are really capable of that degree of thoughtfulness and self-control and coöperation.

Is the intelligence test a permanent guide to a child's mental limits? How can the teacher hold the interest of children in studies? Answers to these and scores of other problems are given in "Talks with Teachers," new 28 page booklet by Gladys Huntington Bevans. Get your copy today at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price, 5 cents. Postpaid, 7 cents.

Thru the Looking Glass

One of our favorite fragrance families is rounded out now with a fine soap that has all the charms a good soap should have. It's the kind you want to own—and it's priced so that you can afford to—but it's also one of the nicest of the new gift packages.

There aren't many fragrances as refreshing as this; it's heathery and windswept and just sweet enough to be as beguiling as it's revivifying. It's a warm weather favorite of ours, especially in the cologne.

The soap is in a cake that fits the hand nicely. It's pink, and pretty, being flat on the bottom and rounded on the top, with a raised design of a cluster of heather embellishing it most attractively.

It's a creamy soap, too, the kind that agrees with thin, rather crotchety skin. You never have the feeling, after using it, that your skin has been robbed of the precious oil that keeps it smooth and supple. As a face or a bath soap it has practical value for the dry skinned woman. And it certainly has that special charm that only a finely made, delicately perfumed soap has.

A beautiful soap is always an understandable luxury to us. If you can't glamorize the daily ritual of keeping clean, life is dreary indeed, we think. And when you can find exquisite soaps that suit your skin and your taste and your pocketbook you've made a find indeed. This heather scented newcomer is worth looking up.

BOY GETS 15 TO 30 YEARS FOR BABY KIDNAP-SLAYING

15 Year Old Says Act Was 'Just on Impulse.'

Marquette, Mich., June 22 [Special].—Ross Heath, 15 years old, of Chicago, was sentenced today to serve a term of 15 to 30 years in the Marquette branch prison for the kidnap-slaying of Gloria Jean Nault, 10 week old daughter of a farm couple.

Ross Heath.

Circuit Judge Frank Bell imposed the sentence on a charge of kidnaping, to which Heath pleaded guilty. He had previously entered a plea of not guilty, but changed it today. The Juvenile court had waived jurisdiction in the case.

Denies Ransom Motive.

At the time of his arrest on June 1, a few hours after the kidnaping, the boy was quoted by Michigan state police as having told them he kidnaped the baby for ransom and accidentally killed her when he stumbled and fell on her as he ran from the scene. In court today, however, he denied the ransom plan, which he had said he conceived from listening to a radio program. He also denied any sex motive.

"Was it just an impulse?" Judge Bell asked. The boy nodded his head.

Find Baby's Nude Body.

The body was found several hours later in the cab of a truck parked a quarter of a mile from the tavern where Heath said he left it after discovering that the child was dead. It was bruised and nude, Heath having stripped off the infant's clothes in an effort, he said, "to fool the police into believing an animal got her."

Imprints of Heath's cowboy boots at the scene provided authorities with the clew that led to his arrest the next morning.

Heath, a roamer, who had spent most of his life with circuses, is the son of Mrs. Ruth Heath, 4701 Malden street, Chicago, who works in a defense plant in the Chicago area. His mother, who is 6 feet 4½ inches tall, formerly was a giantess in a circus, and his father, who died several years ago, was a magician and lecturer with circuses.

Training School Grad Gets Year as Automobile Thief

James T. Williams, 17 years old, 18 North Damen avenue, a former inmate of the Illinois State Training School for Boys near St. Charles, was sentenced yesterday to a year in the county jail by Judge Leon Edelman in Automobile court. Williams, who recently was released from the school, stole United States Marshal William H. McDonnell's automobile in front of 2342 Madison street last Friday and crashed it into Smith bridge, south of Joliet, several hours later. Theodore E. Kaptain, 16, of 1918 Jackson boulevard, Williams' companion on the ride, was placed in custody of the Juvenile court.

Accused Kidnaper of Girl Held for Grand Jury Action

Axel A. Green, 27 years old, Crystal Lake, a bricklayer, was held yesterday for McHenry county grand jury action on a charge of having kidnaped a girl, 6, from the grounds of the Chicago Industrial Home for Children in Woodstock. Bond was set at $25,000. Green, who admitted intoxication Saturday, was chased by Herbert C. Gensch, superintendent of the home, and caught half a mile out of Woodstock. Gensch returned the child to the home and notified police, who found Green a mile from town, his car wrecked in a ditch along route 47.

in the panzers!

Confidence is the strong and good cousin of that horrid word complacency. Most Americans are confident, few are complacent today. Confidence is our heritage, bequeathed to us by the pioneers, and nurtured by headlines of industrial marvels.

From the day when the Flatiron Building made news, to the colossal statistics of Grand Coulee, we have become firmly convinced that no task is too great for our vast construction industry.

That conviction is justified. A year before Pearl Harbor Sunday was anything more than a gleam in treacherous oriental eyes, our engineers and contractors were moving earth faster than it had ever been moved before . . . in preparation for projects which since have made our skyscrapers and giant bridges look like mere trial heats.

You know part of the story. We can't tell it all . . . complete aluminum plants built between Christmases . . . whole farms transfigured into bomber plants in less time than elapses between crops of corn . . . great shipyards in operation today on inlets that were frog ponds when the "Battle of Britain" was at its height.

How were these miracles of construction performed?

We can't call it genius. Germany, in particular, has many great engineering minds, yet the entire Axis is outstripped by our capacity to do big jobs fast.

We can't explain it by just calling it skill and experience. The new shipyards prove that . . . our skilled and experienced shipbuilders were absorbed by navy construction long ago. Yet we have met each new quota of cargo shipbuilding. Deep in our hearts, we all know industry will meet whatever quota may be needed, however impossible that may seem now.

▶ Some of these cargo ships and shipyards are being built by landlubbers . . . by men who knew nothing of the sea, but who were hell on reading blueprints and at designing and operating complicated machines.

There are several reasons why ordinary Americans become Supermen when faced by "fantastic" construction jobs.

▶ The first reason is the intrepid spirit of the management and men of American construction. With a slide rule in his hand, the most meek and stoop-shouldered of American engineers becomes a high adventurer. He is willing to gamble that the machines and men at his command can lick anything this side of the fourth dimension.

The second reason is motive power. The leaders of our construction industry have always had the guts to gamble the cost of big machines to do big jobs. Probably the rest of the world combined cannot match our array of power shovels, scrapers, bulldozers, compressors, welders, motors and engines for moving and moulding earth, water, steel and stone.

The third reason is men. A shovel weighing 75 tons needs a "75-ton mind" at the control levers . . . American labor takes to machinery as a co-ed takes to "swing."

The fourth reason is versatility. The construction industry is used to turning corners at high speed . . . to an organization that has built railroads, cathedrals, bridges, and movie palaces, making a munitions plant in a hurry just means more men, more machines and more night work, and more of that good American ingenuity.

The fifth reason is "mobilized information."

▶ Through a distinctively American process, the Industrial Press, trial and error are reduced to a minimum. Information on successful new techniques flows freely from job to job.

If a factory in Kansas succeeds in laying the dust and stopping ruts in its parking lot, an engineer with the job of quick-surfacing a jungle airport reads how it was done in a construction magazine.

If a shipbuilder finds he can cut construction time in half by building hulls upside down, other shipbuilders learn about it from their technical magazines.

At McGraw-Hill alone, 153 editors and 725 field-correspondents are constantly combing construction as well as industrial jobs to find new and faster methods. This "know-how" is then routed through industrial magazines to every industry where it can be helpful.

In addition to the editors, many industrial advertisers keep men in the construction field to watch the performance of their machines. Their reports are used in industrial advertising to show operators how to make machines do more work and last longer in these days of shortages of time and metal.

. . . Now this advertisement contains a moral and "commercial." The commercial objective is obvious. The moral is this:

▶ Let's remember how well government, management and labor are getting along together in the face of visible peril. When the war is all over, we need have no fear of the invisible perils of peace, if we tackle our jobs in the same cooperative spirit.

In recognition of the miracle of war production—accomplished through the cooperation of American management and labor with the W. P. B. . . . . this advertisement is published by the McGraw-Hill Network of Industrial Communication.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Seaman John Rigney yesterday afternoon pitched and batted the Great Lakes baseball team to a 7 to 3 victory over his mother-in-law's team, same being Mrs. Grace Comiskey's White Sox.

Rigney pitched all the way, but his victory was not assured until he busted a home run with the score tied, two on, and two out in the eighth inning. In the first half of the eighth the Sailor infield had let John down a bit, the Sox going ahead, 3 to 2. So it was up to him to deliver the victory poke, a shot which sent Taft Wright a couple of city blocks beyond left center. Mrs. Comiskey and her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Comiskey Rigney, among the best sportswomen extant, found it not too difficult to applaud Johnny's victory sock.

The victory was the 31st in 36 games played by the team directed by Lieut. Mickey Cochrane. It was the Sailors' 27th success in their last 28 engagements. Gabby Hartnett's Indianapolis Indians tripped them up last week.

They Exchange Pleasantries.

Lieut. Mickey welcomed the Sox to the station, then introduced Dykes as "an old teammate of mine, who has been from the top to the bottom of the American league." Jim paged all of his hands, each making a pretty bow before forming a circle around the home plate.

The first run of the game was scored by the sailors in the second inning without the aid of a base hit. Joe Grace walked, moved up on Chet Hajduk's bouncer to Luke Appling, stole third, and scored on Frank Pytlak's grounder to Appling. Rigney followed with a single to right, perhaps to prove that Grace would have scored even if he hadn't been fortunate enough to steal third.

Rigney held the Sox to a single by Appling in the first three innings, but eased up after two were out in the fourth, enabling the Comiskeys to load the bases. This was done on singles by Taft Wright and Joe Kuhel and a pass to Bob Kennedy. The threat, if it was a threat, ended when Sam West popped to Hajduk.

Sailors Score Another One.

Uncle Sam's boys fattened their lead in the fourth, Grace again scoring. Grace singled, took third on a single by Hajduk and counted on a

Contributions to All-Star Football Fund Reach $27,800

Contributions to the Army Emergency Relief fund thru the medium of the All-Star football game have mounted to $27,800. Chicago Tribune Charities, sponsor of the game between the College All-Americans and Chicago Bears in Soldiers' field Aug. 28, is attempting to raise $100,000. For every $100 donated to the cause the contributor will receive a seat on the 50 yard line.

There were two $2,000 checks in yesterday's mail. One came from Gust K. Newberg, Chicago contractor who never has seen a football game. Another came from a widely known civic leader who was a famous Western conference football player more than 35 years ago. He asked this department not to reveal his identity and his donation is listed as "A Friend of the Cause."

HASKELL OF N. U. GETS 69 FOR LEAD IN COLLEGE GOLF

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

South Bend, Ind., June 22.—Richard Haskell, Northwestern university graduate who carries a journeyman printer's card, yesterday set himself a couple of interesting lines of type in the form of the 69, two under par, that gave him the first round lead in the 36 hole qualifying test of the 45th National Intercollegiate Golf tournament at the Chain o' Lakes course of the South Bend Country club. Entering tomorrow's finishing 18, bespectacled Dick holds a two stroke lead over the nearest of 130 starters in the event that is a part of the University of Notre Dame's centennial year.

Master Haskell's typographical labors of the day, as done with a niblick and a putter, were highly gratifying to Chick Evans, chairman of the golf committee of the National Collegiate Athletic association, and Ted Payseur, who is not only secretary-treasurer of the N. C. A. A. committee, but also Northwestern's coach. Dick was one of Evans' caddy scholars at Northwestern until his graduation from the school of commerce last Saturday. He presently will report for training in the army air corps at Belleville, Ill.

Stewart Blows Up.

Haskell's front nine of 34, two under par, didn't look prepossessing in view of the 32 posted by another wearer of specs—Earl Stewart of Louisiana State, who last year won the driving contest, the medal and the individual championship in this party. Yesterday Earl blew an 18 inch putt on the eighth hole for a possible 31 out, but he ran smack into a deal of trouble coming home, and while Haskell was fashioning a par 35 for that distance, Earl couldn't do better than a 39 and had to catch a birdie on the final hole for that.

Par out	444	354	444—36
Haskell out	343	454	443—34
Stewart out	433	334	444—32
Par in	345	443	435—35—71
Haskell in	435	542	334—35—69
Stewart in	445	444	644—39—71

Tied with Stewart at Chain o' Lakes' par of 36-35-71, played from the front tees today, was a quintet of lads who may be heard from ere Saturday night's conclusion. They are Ray Brownell of Stanford, runner-up to Stewart for the 1941 individual title; Charley Lind of the University of Denver, Big Seven champ; Bob Beekman of Southern California, winner of the Pacific Coast conference crown; George Traphagen, Stanford's No. 4 player, and Eddie Johnston of the University of Baltimore.

Stanford Is Team Leader.

The battle for the team championship was even a bit tighter than the individual competition for the medal promises to be. Dapper Eddie Twiggs of Stanford, whose boys last year set an amazing record of 580 for the 36 holes of medal play, apparently has

GREENBERG TRIES TO DEFAULT, THEN WINS NET CROWN

BY WILLIAM FAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., June 22.—Seymour Greenberg of Chicago had only three hours this afternoon in which to beat Harris Everett of Jacksonville, Fla., for the National Clay Court tennis title, shower, pack, taxi to the station, buy a few magazines and hop aboard the 6:15 p. m. Panama Limited, the last train that could take him to New Orleans, La., in time to begin play in the National Intercollegiate tournament tomorrow morning.

Three hours weren't enough. Greenberg missed the train. He also lost the match. Then he won the match, 5-7, 7-5, 7-9, 7-5, 8-6. And that takes some explaining:

At 6 o'clock Greenberg and Everett were tied at 6-all in the fifth set. A taxi was waiting for the rush to the train.

Tries to Default.

Spectators swarmed around Greenberg. He couldn't get out. Frantic officials offered to charter airplanes, anything at all, if Greenberg would finish the match.

Finally, Greenberg said he'd stay. Then the spectators let Bennett thru to his taxi. It was 6:05. If Bennett, along with Bobby Jake, another Northwestern player, made the train, he will not know Greenberg won until he reaches New Orleans tomorrow morning.

Sweeps Thru Two Games.

Play was resumed after a 15 minute wait. Greenberg worked carefully, a flustered Everett erred frequently, and Seymour swept the next two games with the loss of only three points. He was the champion—probably the first in tennis history to win after losing. If you want to be technical, Everett is the champion by default.

As soon as the match was finished, tournament officials rushed Greenberg to the St. Louis airport, where he caught a southbound Chicago and Southern plane with all of a minute to spare.

But for an astonishing comeback, Greenberg would have made his train with half an hour to spare—and without the title. Everett led, 5-2, in the fifth set. Then Greenberg ran three straight games at love—12 consecutive points—to even at 5-5. Then Everett won his serve at love to lead, 6-5. Then Greenberg held service for 6-6. Then it was 6 p. m. And then the fun began.

Queer All the Way.

The match was an unusual affair thruout and did not reserve all its screwball moments for the last game. For instance, Greenberg led, 4-0, in the first set. Everett came back to win five games and, finally, the set, 7-5.

Greenberg again led 5-2, in the sec-

15,000 WAGER $481,346; ROYAL CRUSADER WINS

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Arlington Park opened its meeting yesterday under perfect racing conditions. The 15,000 spectators who gathered at this picturesque course watched long shots and popular choices divide the honors equitably enough to entertain the followers of nearly all systems.

The betting handle for the afternoon was $481,346. This surpassed the $392,114 of opening day last year by $89,232, an increase of nearly 23 per cent.

A succession of tight finishes was climaxed by the windup of the $2,500 Des Plaines handicap, main event of the afternoon. Racing head and head with both riders whipping hard, Royal Crusader and Heartman persisted tenaciously in their bids for victory in this mile and a furlong run. They still were head and head as they went over the line and Royal Crusader got it in the photo. Two lengths farther back came Take Wing.

Lead See-Saws.

The race which drew a field of six, developed into a riding duel between Les Balaski on Royal Crusader and Arthur Craig on Heartman. As they swung around the clubhouse turn and settled into the run down the back stretch, Heartman was about two lengths ahead of Royal Crusader.

Balaski began sending his mount to the leader and Craig decided that he wouldn't be drawn into a duel at that stage. So he took a firm hold on Heartman and let Royal Crusader take the lead. Once in front, Balaski also steadied his mount and the pace began to slow appreciably.

With the others pounding along close behind, Craig then decided that both Heartman and Royal Crusader might surrender their advantage too easily. So as they approached the far turn he made up his mind it was time to go. He let Heartman have his head. In a few strides he was in the lead again.

Haichow Comes Up.

With Heartman leading by a length they swung around the last turn. Meanwhile Freddie Smith had been bringing Haichow up into a contending position, rating him along in third place in preparation for a strong move in the stretch.

They came into the straightaway and Royal Crusader, racing on the outside, drew up on even terms with Heartman. With both riders using whip and heels it was anybody's race. Haichow coming up along the rail was threatening to take it all if the leaders should run themselves into exhaustion.

In the last few yards, Royal Crusader prevailed over Heartman and simultaneously Take Wing got up to beat Haichow out of third place.

Heartman was the even money favorite in the betting with the entry of Weigh Anchor and Take Wing second choice at 5 to 2. Royal Crusader, owned by R. W. Hoffman of Los Angeles, was third choice at a little less than 7 to 2. Those who backed him collected $8.80, $4 and $2.20 across the board.

Polymelior Wins Sprint Feature.

Polymelior, the consistent handicap performer owned by Jean Putnam came thru under severe pressure to win the Advance Guard purse, a six furlong dash which was the secondary feature on the afternoon's program. With Harry Schuling driving hard, Polymelior emerged from a bitterly contested stretch duel to beat Thumbs Up by a head while Bulldinger was taking third money.

Polymelior's handlers followed somewhat different strategy on this brought along another able squad, but it will have a fight to hang on to its crown. The Indians reached the half way mark with a foursome best of 291, but they are only a stroke in front of Louisiana State's 292, and the latter are being pressed by Northwestern, with 293, Minnesota with 295, and Yale with 296.

Michigan's conference champions are tied with Notre Dame, the host school, at 304. They are followed by Michigan State, 305; United States Naval academy, 307; University of Washington, 308; Ohio State, 310; Holy Cross, 317, and Wisconsin, 319.

Bradley Is a Little Late.

Tee entries were accepted by the NCAA committee, with the result that a Bradley Tech quartet, after phoning several times from wayside points that it was en route, arrived in time to get in nine holes. They will play 27 holes tomorrow in an effort to earn their team ranking and also to win places in the match play bracket for the individual championship.

The team title will be decided tomorrow, with the honor going to the low 36 hole foursome from any one school. The 64 scorers for the medal play shooting will begin match competition Wednesday, when two 18 hole matches will be decided. The same procedure will be conducted Thursday, reducing the field to Friday's semi-finalists, who will travel 36 holes, the same distance, to obtain for Saturday's championship match.

On Getting Fat.

Garments we wore last year
Daily amaze us.
Something's been added here;
How time betrays us.

Vanished our smug repose;
Trapped, we're resisting
Too solid adipose,
Stretching and twisting.

Physical agony,
Worry tormental,
Keep steady pace with the Pounds supplemental.

Ah, you're suggesting, "Well,
Spartan the diet;
Streamline the bulges." Hell,
Brother, you try it.

Sudden Thoughts.

If every man was placed on the pinnacle to which he thinks he is entitled there would be no one with his feet on the ground.

The man who says he is not his brother's keeper destroys in these brothers some of their desire to cultivate his friendship.

Is Everybody Happy?

An American loves to laugh —
Tho things may be at low tide,
He'll go to a movie of Martha Raye
And scream till he perils his side;
His spirits may be at the nadir,
No rose colored glasses avail,
Till he picks up the funnies and shrieks with delight
That Dick Tracy is out on bail.

An American loves to laugh —
Regardless of what the hex is,
Drop a jit in a juke in Chi or Dubuque for "Deep in the Heart of Texas";
And he'll start in to hum and to clap his hands,
And wiggle his shoulders, too,
From that moment on the jitters are gone,
He is practically good as new.

An American loves to laugh —
Tho depressed by the war news gory,
Get him aside and regale him
With your latest funny story;
Quick as a flash the world is okay,
The sun's in its heaven again —
And that is the reason Americans
Have the drop on most OTHER men!

—Jazbo of Old Dubuque.

LEE'S SKID ONE MORE HEADACHE FOR JIM WILSON

Olsen Faces Phils Today in Series Opener.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 22.—Poor Jim Wilson has his troubles trying to figure how his Cubs can advance in the baseball world. If it isn't one thing it's another. One fellow comes out of a batting slump and another goes into one. Errors break out at inopportune moments. And now there's another complication. It's Bill Lee, who after a brilliant spring start along the come back trail, seems to have lost his way and is staggering around in the fashion that caused him to suffer 14 defeats last season.

Lee's decline is best indicated by what has taken place in his business affairs since May 28 when he put on his choicest exhibitions in the shape of a 2 to 1 twelve inning decision over the Reds. That made his season's record seven successes against two defeats. His record at this moment is eight victories to six beatings.

Defeats Getting Him Down?

It doesn't follow that Lee won't be able to fight his way out of the woods, but the longer he stays on the losing side the tougher it will be to get him back in the proper frame of mind. He started off well this spring because he had made up his mind that he was going to demonstrate that the club erred in its judgment last winter when it attempted to peddle his services.

You might say that even with Lee staggering for the time being that Wilson's pitching situation is looking up, but there is an element of risk in such a viewpoint. Les Fleming recently cashed in on that one hitter against the Braves and yesterday Hiram Bithorn handled himself with poise while trimming the Giants.

The Brighter Side—Novikoff.

On the brighter side of Wilson's life is that man Lou Novikoff, who has suddenly started to get himself a lot of singles and doubles. His batting revival is just another of those baseball happenings for which there is no explanation.

The Cubs will resume work tomorrow with the Phillies and arguing with the eighth placers should be a little more pleasant than mingling with the Dodgers and Giants. Three single games will be played, one of them being a washout from the previous eastern trip. Vern Olsen will southpaw in the opener, Claude Passeau will bid for his 11th victory in the second game, and Lee will try to shake off his losing spell in the final on Thursday.

Cubs Help Good Cause; Buy 100 Seats from Sox

The war has done something which nothing else could since the Cubs and White Sox became rivals 40 years ago.

Strictly as a patriotic gesture, and not because there is any brotherly feeling toward the White Sox, the National league club yesterday purchased 100 box seats for Army-Navy night July 2 in Comiskey park. These tickets will be distributed to Cub employés and service men.

K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, helped swell the advance sale total to $8,040 by buying 125 box seats.

The White Sox president, Mrs. Grace Comiskey, also announced that the approximately 300 employés of the organization would purchase tickets for the big baseball program. A game between Great Lakes and Chanute field will start it off at 6 p. m. At 9 p. m. the Sox and Indians will meet in a regularly scheduled American league game.

Profits will be divided equally between the two relief funds.

VAN HOWE IS WESLEYAN'S NEW FOOTBALL COACH

Bloomington, Ill., June 22 [Special].—Van Howe, athletic director at Salem High school for seven years, tonight was appointed head football and track coach at Illinois Wesleyan university. Bill Craig, head baseball coach, was named to direct next year's basketball team also.

The new Wesleyan coach is a graduate of the University of Illinois. Craig was graduated from Wesleyan.

RICE, TWO OTHERS BREAK NATIONAL TRACK RECORDS

Greg Steps 2¼ Miles in 10:38.6 at Passaic.

Passaic, N. J., June 22 (AP).—Some of the nation's top notch track athletes went all-out tonight, breaking three records and tying another.

In a twilight meet at Passaic school stadium that ended in almost complete darkness, 5,000 dampened spectators saw record shattering performances by Greg Rice of the New York A. C., Gil Dodds of the Boston A. A., and Les MacMitchell, competing for the Ohrbach A. A. of New York.

Three national AAU relay championships were decided, but none produced new marks. In fact, the 2,900 meter medley race became a one team race when the teams of the Ohrbach A. A. and Southern California were scratched. The New York A. C. runners completed the event in 7:50.8, far off the world's record of 7:7.7.

Wayne Wins 1,600 Meters Relay.

The 1,600 meter relay national championship went to the Wayne university quartet of Detroit in the average time of 3:18.7.

Dodds, national indoor mile and outdoor 1,500 meter champion, covered the mile and three-quarters distance in 8 minutes flat to wipe out the old mark of 8:18.2, set by W. D. Day on May 17, 1890.

Rice erased the record of the famous Finnish runner, Hannes Kolehmainen, in the odd distance of two and one-fourth miles by winning in 10:38.6 minutes, more than seven seconds better than the Finn's 10:45 flat, set in August, 1913.

Ties Record Set in 1886.

The late Melvin Sheppard's 800 yard mark toppled before the swinging strides of Les MacMitchell, who chopped the old time of 1:43.6 down to 1:42.8 minutes.

Herb Thompson, Jersey City board of education entry, flashed thru the 80 yard sprint in 8 seconds to tie the world mark set July 1, 1886, by Wendell Baker.

Al Blozis, former Georgetown university weightman now competing for the New York A. C., bettered the 12 pound shot put distance of 62 feet ¼ inch, set seven years ago by Jack Torrance of Louisiana State, but the record was not allowed by the officials because the circle used by Blozis was three inches larger than legal. Blozis' toss measured 62 feet 10½ inches.

BETTINA SEEKS 2D VICTORY OVER BOBO TONIGHT

Cleveland Program May Gross $100,000.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., June 22.—Melio Bettina, southpaw boxer of Beacon, N. Y., will risk a potential heavyweight championship bout with Joe Louis when he opposes Harry Bobo of Pittsburgh in a return contest of 10 rounds in Municipal stadium along the shore of Lake Erie tomorrow. It is the main event on an all-star card which includes four other matches of 10 rounds and four of five rounds.

The auspicious program is expected to attract this city's greatest boxing congregation since the title encounter between Max Schmeling and the late W. L. [Young] Stribling in this same arena in 1931—a crowd Matchmakers Ed Bang and Larry Atkins predict will exceed 25,000. Receipts likely will total more than $100,000 and profits perhaps $30,000. These proceeds will be turned over to the MacArthur bomber fund.

Floored by Bobo.

In the first Bettina-Bobo match, last Dec. 1, Harry floored Melio in the 10th round, yet lost the decision—over the loud protests of Bobo's followers. This was one of 12 straight victories scored by Bettina since he was dethroned as light heavyweight champion by Anton Christoforidis.

Christoforidis, who later lost the title to Gus Lesnevich, will meet Johnny Colan in a 10 round secondary feature which also is a return bout. Anton dealt Colan a lesson in the Chicago Stadium May 20 to the surprise of most spectators.

Maxin vs. Bivins.

Joe Maxin is paired with Jimmy Bivins, Cleveland light heavyweight challenger in a third 10 rounder. In other matches at this distance, Sergt. Joe Muscato, Buffalo heavyweight, will meet Lem Franklin and Maxie Shapiro, New York lightweight, will oppose Harry Teaney. Muscato is unbeaten in a professional career extending over eight months.

Bettina, Colan, Maxin, Bivins, Franklin, and Teaney are Golden Gloves graduates.

Phil Muscato, Buffalo, vs. Johnny Lawer, Cleveland, 160 pounds.

Sammy Derrico vs. Jimmy Trusso, both of Cleveland, 126.

Bobby Richardson vs. Johnny Abbott, both of Cleveland, 147.

Cleo McNeal Is Stopped by Marquart in 5

Billy Marquart, 147, won on a technical knockout in the fifth round over Cleo McNeal, 147, of Barberton, O., last night in the Marigold Gardens. McNeal fractured his right wrist in the third round when he hit Marquart on top of his head.

McNeal was down for the nine count on two occasions in the fourth round. The first and second rounds were mostly infighting with Marquart scoring several good left hooks.

Radius Is Fractured.

Dr. Frank A. Lagorio was unable to determine the extent of the injury to McNeal when called in the ring at the end of the third round, but an examination by the commission physician in the dressing room after the bout was stopped showed that the injury was a fracture of the radius.

Eschman Wins.

Charley Eschman, 143, Cincinnati won a close eight round decision over Ramey McKnight, 145½ of Milwaukee. It was a fast fight all the way with no knockdowns. Eschman duplicated his eight round win scored last Monday in the same area.

PGA MAPS A JULY PLAN TO AID WAR RELIEF FUNDS

The professional golfers of America, meeting in Chicago yesterday, set July 18 and 19 for a national war relief drive in which 2,200 PGA members have been asked to participate.

The same dates were set up for an exhibition match at Birmingham, Mich., between the PGA Ryder Cup team and a group of players to be selected and captained by Walter Hagen. All proceeds of this match will go to the American Red Cross. The Ryder Cup team will include Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson, Jimmy Demaret, Craig Wood, Gene Sarazen, Harold McSpaden, Lloyd Mangrum, and Horton Smith. Two previous members of the team, Sam Snead and Victor Ghezzi, are in the armed forces.

Ed Dudley, president of the PGA, said the war relief drive, from which funds will go to the Army and Navy relief funds and to the USO, will be conducted thru club tournaments and sectional exhibitions. He said the PGA hoped to have the coöperation of 2,000,000 golfers in the campaign.

The Sox broke thru in the fifth when Skeets Dickey pushed off with a double to right and got home on a couple of infield outs. Appling then singled but was harpooned in an effort to steal second.

The Sox, aided by two infield errors, took the lead in the eighth. With one down Kolloway reached first on Andres' fumble and took third on Wright's single to center. Kuhel forced Wright, Kolloway scoring the tying run, and when Johnny Lucadello tried to relay the ball for a double play he threw into the stands, Kuhel taking second, whence he scored on Kennedy's single to left. West doubled to right, Kennedy stopping at third and Dickey was given an intentional pass, loading the bases. Appleton fanned.

Andres singled with one out in Great Lakes' five run eighth. Grace's single put Andres on third and the latter scored the tying run on Hajduk's single to center, but Grace was out at third. Pytlak was purposely passed and then Rigney spoiled the strategy with his tremendous homer. Frank Baumholtz and Ben McCoy followed with doubles for the final score.

ond set. He missed two set points in the 8th game and two more in the 10th as Everett evened at 5-5.

Greenberg had 5-4 and four set point in the third set before Everett fought back to the inevitable 5-5. Greenberg had 5-3 in the fourth set and . . . yes, it happened again.

The fifth set reversed the pattern. It was Everett who led and Greenberg who rallied. And it was in the fifth set that Everett finally lost control of his drop shot, a little number that had Greenberg diving into the net all afternoon. Everett hit his drop shot with extreme reverse spin.

Talbert, Reedy Win Doubles.

It was, in fact, Everett who controled the action most of the time. He would drop shot Greenberg, then lob over Seymour's head. Or he would slice deep and come to the net on Seymour's forehand. All this was risky work. Everett's errors were numerous. These, and some fine passing shots by Greenberg, finally swung the match to Seymour.

O, yes, there was a doubles final this afternoon. But nobody paid much attention to it in the excitement. Bill Talbert of Cincinnati, O., and another Bill named Reedy from Beverly Hills, Cal., won. Somebody said the Bills beat George Richards of Montebello, Cal., and Charley Mattman of Long Island, N. Y., 6-3, 6-3, 6-3. But there were no actual witnesses.

Schwartz Takes Over Stanford Coaching Job

Palo Alto, Cal., June 22 (AP).—Stanford installed its third head football coach within a few months tonight with the appointment of Marchmont [Marchie] Schwartz as acting director of football.

The university board of athletic control said Head Coach Jim Lawson, who succeeded Clark Shaughnessy at the end of last season, had accepted a commission in the navy. Lawson was given a temporary leave of absence.

Al Masters, Stanford graduate manager, in reporting the action emphasized that Schwartz had been given the new assignment "with no time limit one way or the other." He declined to say whether the action was temporary or for the duration.

ILLINOIS RACING BOARD INCREASES JOCKEYS' FEES

First Three in Each Race to Get $35, $20, $15.

The Illinois Racing board yesterday amended the rule on jockeys' compensation to provide fees of $35 for each winning mount, $20 for a horse finishing second, and $15 for third. Riders of horses finishing out of the money will receive $10. Under the old rule the boys were paid $25 for a winner and $10 for all others.

Maj. Ednyfed Williams, chairman of the Illinois Racing board, said his organization had three ideas in mind in passing the new rule. In the first place he expressed the belief it was only fair that the riders should share in the increased purses put up by the Arlington Park and Washington Park tracks.

In the second place he thought the additional rewards for second and places would be an incentive for the boys to ride their mounts out even after they were convinced they couldn't win.

Maj. Williams also said that he and the other members of the board, Frank Mandel and William Fay, believe it will attract a better class of jockeys to Chicago tracks by placing the compensation on an equal level with that of the important eastern circuits.

H. C. Hill's 5 year old, Sweepida, winner of the 1940 Santa Anita Derby and the Santa Catalina Golden State Breeders and King's Mountain handicap last year, was assigned top weight of 120 pounds by Racing Secretary Robert S. Shelley for the six furlong Great Lakes handicap which will have its first running at Arlington Park on Thursday. Sweepida was assigned four more pounds than the next highest impost, 116 for Calumet farm's Qnien Es. Other weight allotments were:

Eternal Bull and Some Chance, 114; Smacked, 113; Equistar, Dogpatch, and Sir Jeffrey, 112; Twinkippy, The Gob, and To a Tee, 110; Cuantos, Wishbone, Polymelior, Three Percent, and Daily Trouble, 108; Gold Bubble, 107; Alohort and Pig Tails, 106; First of All, Blue Delight, and Sales Talk, 105; Bon Jour, 103; Valdina Dude and Vinum, 101; Fighting Words, Time Counts, and Tomochichi, 100.

occasion. In his recent races he had been allowed to drop far back after which his rider would attempt to bring him up in the stretch. This resulted in some conspicuous failures, notably in his last time out at Lincoln Fields, where he finished third when he was the odds-on favorite.

Yesterday, however, he had a new rider and tactics to follow. When Thumbs Up and Bulldinger went out with a rush, Schuling kept Polymelior right up with them. These three dominated the race thruout.

With Bulldinger on the rail, Thumbs Up in the middle and Polymelior on the outside they came into the stretch. Polymelior and Thumbs Up, running head and head, were jammed so close together that their riders' boots were almost scraping together. Steadily these two drew away from Bulldinger and they still were going head and head as they crossed the finish line. The photo gave it to Polymelior.

WHIRLAWAY'S PRACTICE RACE ENDS IN RECORD

Beats Attention in Cheap Event at Aqueduct.

New York, June 22 (AP).—Whirlaway had to set a new track record at Aqueduct today in a photo finish to win an ordinary race which was supposed to be just a workout for Saturday's Brooklyn handicap.

Whirlaway, ridden by Georgie Woolf, came from far back, as usual, in the mile and an eighth test, winning by a nose from Attention, the same son of Equipoise, which upset Warren Wright's racer in the Arlington Classic a year ago. Whirlaway was clocked in 1:49 2-5, three-fifth of a second faster than the mark posted by his handicap rival, Market Wise, last September. On that occasion, however, Market Wise carried only 112 pounds, while Whirlaway packed 122 today, spotting Attention five pounds and the three others in the field nine each. The victory was worth $2,275.

Attention was second by two lengths over Swing and Sway. The Rhymer, which won the Widener handicap at Hialeah last winter, was fourth, while Waller was last.

Whirlaway was a 3 to 10 favorite and returned the absolute minimum of $2.10 to place. There was no show pool.

END COACH JOB AT ILLINOIS WILL NOT BE FILLED

Champaign, Ill., June 22 [Special]. —The end coach position on the University of Illinois staff vacated by John Tarwain, who will report for duty with the army air corps Friday, will not be filled, Athletic Director Doug Mills announced today.

Instead, the end coaching will be taken over by Coach Ray Eliot's assistants, who are now reduced to three, Tony Blazine, Ralph Fletcher, and Jus Lindgren.

Tarwain's departure will increase the number of members of the staff in athletics and physical education now in various services to 17.

Tarwain, a graduate in 1930 and a varsity football and basketball player, joined the staff in September, 1941. He has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the army air corps and will start indoctrination for physical training at Fort Meade, Md.

HEIN TO BECOME UNION COLLEGE COACH IN 1943

Schenectady, N. Y. June 22 (AP).—Mel Hein will become head football coach at Union college in 1943 after completing an even dozen years with the New York Giants next fall.

College officials announced the appointment, effective Jan. 1, 1943, today, stating the veteran center's contract with the Giants extends thru the coming season. In addition to his coaching duties, Hein will be associate professor of physical education.

Hein's decision to accept the Union job ended speculation that he might go to a larger college, possibly Yale, as an assistant coach.

Until the opening of the 1943 football season, Hein will give full time at Union to an expanded physical training program to condition students for military service.

He will succeed Art Lawrence, who will direct this fall's team.

EXPECT MAJOR WPB SHAKEUP TO MEET WAR NEED

See Move to Gear Work to Shifts on Front.

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—Complete reorganization of the War Production board, including a reshuffling of some top officials, probably will be announced this week, it was learned today. Indications were that WPB's operations will be tied more tightly to demands of military strategy in the future.

It was learned that William H. Harrison, chief of WPB's production division, will be transferred to the war department, where he presumably will take over an important post in the procurement setup of the service of supply.

Of major significance in plans for the new setup is a move to bring Chairman Donald M. Nelson and the army and navy chiefs of staff into closer contact, with a view toward increasing elasticity of war production to fit swiftly changing military requirements.

Standardization Is Aim.

Nelson said during recent conferences with Capt. Oliver Lyttelton, British minister of supply, that the combined British and American production board intended to aim for standardization of military equipment and close coördination of British and American war production with developments at the fronts.

The WPB shakeup would effect this coördination so far as the United States was concerned, it was understood.

Officials made it clear that the changes would not be based on the recent report of the senate defense investigating committee, criticizing dollar-a-year men in WPB. The new setup is to be based on recommendations of Dr. Luther Gulick, head of Columbia university's school of business administration, who has spent two months studying WPB operations kinks.

George Defends Group.

Meanwhile, Sen. Walter F. George [D., Ga.] asserted that "an overwhelming majority" of the dollar-a-year men and others "have done a marvelous job and have done it in a big way."

The Georgia senator told reporters he was convinced from independent inquiries that war production was "over the hump" in almost all vital military items, adding that chief attention now should be directed to the "staggering problem of transporting materials on every ocean and to every part of the world."

Gen. Stilwell's Mother, 83, Dies After 10 Day Illness

Stilwell, chief of staff of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, united nations commander in the China area, died today at her home after a 10 day illness. Gen. Stilwell, who visited her before leaving for the Orient, was notified by cable.

DAY by DAY on the FARM by GAIL COMPTON

Remember Buckwheat?

June 22, 1942.

WHILE the workers at the farm were discussing the merits of soy beans as a crop that can be planted late in the season, one of the men mentioned buckwheat as an equally valuable crop in the same respect.

Buckwheat is almost America's forgotten grain. Few modern farmers realize its value and importance and only a small volume is produced in the country each year.

The pioneers who were forced to plant their crops on newly cleared land where tree stumps protruded from the soil every few feet found buckwheat the answer to their prayers for a fair yielding grain that could do well on new or poor land.

Good for Emergencies.

Altho yielding only about 20 bushels to the acre on the average, buckwheat often will produce a good harvest on land where wheat and oats will fail. Under favorable conditions yields up to 50 bushels an acre may be obtained.

Another distinct advantage of buckwheat is the lateness with which it can be planted. As the crop takes only from 10 to 12 weeks to mature it can be sown as late as early July. Thus, if another crop in a field shows signs of failing, the ground can be plowed and put to buckwheat late in the season to prevent the land from becoming a total loss.

Farmers will do well to remember that buckwheat is one of the best weed destroyers known. It germinates soon after it is sown and makes such a rapid growth it completely shades the ground. This heavy growth will smother any weeds. Buckwheat has been found to be very useful in combating quack grass. Some farmers report that they have eradicated this grass in one season with buckwheat. It also will prove effective against Canada thistle.

Little Insect Trouble.

Buckwheat is remarkably free from insects and diseases and for this reason will thrive under most conditions. The grain threshes easily and the straw makes excellent manure as it rots rapidly. It will produce a better crop on infertile, poorly tilled land than any other grain. The grain also makes an excellent orchard cover crop, and can be plowed under as green manure with profit.

Altho buckwheat is not likely to become a major crop in this country, it always will have a position of importance as a poor soil grain, a weed destroyer, and a crop that can be planted late in the season if others fail. And buckwheat cakes will continue to be a favorite breakfast treat in American homes. Incidentally, they taste even better with buckwheat honey.

MEN'S GARDEN CLUBS' SESSIONS OPEN THURSDAY

The 10th annual convention of the Men's Garden Clubs of America will open on Thursday at the Moraine hotel in Highland Park. The meeting will continue for three days.

The main subject of the convention will be the war garden movement. Gov. Prentice Cooper of Tennessee, chairman of the National Victory Garden committee, will deliver the keynote address. The convention will be opened by Gov. Dwight H. Green.

The organization of the men's garden clubs came as a result of a garden contest sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE in 1927. Thru contacts made during this contest the idea of forming a men's garden club was conceived. As the fame of the Chicago club spread, the idea was adapted in other counties and states. In 1932 the present organization was formed. Now there are clubs in 20 states affiliated with the national group.

WOODSTOCK POST OF LEGION FETES LEXINGTON HERO

The Peter Umathum post of the American Legion in Woodstock last night honored Albin Kuppe Jr., 21 years old, a fireman first class off the sunken aircraft carrier Lexington. Young Kuppe told of the Jap attack as it seemed to those in the ship's hold, told of seeing Capt. [now rear admiral] Fred Sherman calmly smoking a cigaret in a yellow holder at the height of the attack, and said the battle stories by Stanley Johnston, CHICAGO TRIBUNE correspondent who was aboard the vessel, were among the greatest he had ever read.

RANKIN SAYS PM STIRS NEGROES TO MOVE ON CAPITAL

Charges N.Y. Paper Is Seeking Disunity.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 22.—The publishers of PM, Marshall Field's New York publication, are promoting a drive for a Negro march on Washington in their efforts to promote national disunity, Rep. John E. Rankin [D., Miss.], told the house today.

The pretense for the march is a campaign against poll taxes in southern states, including Mississippi, the southern congressman said. Its real reason, he charged, is to carry out the policy of the Communist party "that is dedicated to the overthrow and destruction of this government."

"Law-abiding Negroes are doing everything they can to stop such a spectacle," Rankin declared. "But PM, the uptown edition of the communist Daily Worker, plus the communists, are determined to give trouble all over the country."

Poll Tax Bill in House.

A petition, which has gained a number of signatures [218 would be necessary], is resting in the well of the house which would bring up a bill to abolish poll taxes.

Rankin accused PM also of slandering the Red Cross by an accusation that it had taken large quantities of Japanese blood and mixed it with white person's blood for blood bank purposes.

"I checked up on this proposition," he said, "and I am prepared to brand that statement as a deliberate, malicious lie.

Charges "Flagrant Treason."

"The Red Cross is not banking any Japanese blood without labeling it as such and it is not going to be intimidated into changing that policy by these communistic radicals who are trying to stir up race trouble all over the country.

"What these communistic troublemakers are interested in is the destruction of our civilization. They are guilty of treason of the most flagrant type. While our young men fight abroad in order that this republic might endure, these communists within our borders are stirring up strife, sabotaging national unity, and threatening the destruction of everything we stand for."

KELLY SUGGESTS SPECIAL VOTE TO NAME ALDERMEN

Mayor Kelly sent a letter to the city council yesterday suggesting that a special election be held to choose new aldermen for the 5th and 7th wards. Ald. Paul Douglas [5th] resigned recently to become a private in the marine corps. Ald. Thomas Daley [7th] died last winter. The mayor's suggestion probably will be considered when the council meets July 8. Forty days' notice must be given before such elections can be held. Former Ald. James J. Cusack Jr., who was dropped by the Democratic organization in 1939 when Kelly-Nash support was given to Douglas, was suggested yesterday as the most likely candidate for the 5th ward post.

U. S. RENT BOSSES TO BE PLACED IN 60 CITIES JULY 1

Chicago and 59 other cities are to be placed under maximum rent regulations by the federal government on July 1, it was announced in Washington, D. C., yesterday. The Office of Price Administration intimated it was not satisfied with the compliance to its requests two months ago for rent reductions to the March 1 ceiling.

The Chicago Real Estate board said yesterday that, in its opinion, such action is not necessary, but that it will coöperate with the rent "czar" to be appointed. It was indicated that a Chicagoan would be named.

"Chicago rentals have been fair and reasonable," said Burt Kiely, vice president of the board. "The board intends to do all in its power to keep them so when a federal rent administrator is appointed."

LIFE IN SWEDEN ON WAR BASIS, SAYS MINISTER

A Sweden under as many restrictions as the warring nations was described last night by Wollmar F. Bostrom, Swedish minister to the United States, at a dinner of the Svithiod Singing club, 624 Wrightwood avenue.

The minister said that a half million men are available for instant mobilization, the navy has been enlarged, and that Sweden is developing her own aircraft industry. Food, clothing, soap and tobacco are rationed, labor virtually has relinquished the right to strike, and there are no private automobiles driven by gasoline, but many by charcoal gas, he reported.

He said also that American and Swedish ideals are the same: Progress, social improvement, freedom, liberty and self government. Lieut. Gov. Hugh Cross, Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney, and Philip Maxwell, of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, were also guests of the club.

CHURCH ORGANIST DENIES CONFESSION HE KILLED PARENTS

Los Angeles, Cal., June 22 (AP).—Courtney Fred Rogers, 24 year old church organist, calmly told a Superior court jury today that he had confessed killing his father and mother in an effort to escape the death penalty. He denied that he killed either. He is charged with slaying both.

Rogers said police asserted they had sufficient evidence to send him to the gas chamber but if he would confess he could plead insanity and save his life.

Until then, his mother's chloroform death on Feb. 10, 1941, and his father's suffocation by smoke as the family home burned Oct. 25, 1941, had been listed as suicides. Rogers was under investigation for an asserted insurance fraud when he signed the confessions in March. He also confessed that he killed his grandmother.

"I just gave up hope of proving my innocence," Rogers testified. "At about that time an insurance adjuster told me that if I confessed, I was certain to be found insane, but that if I did not, the district attorney would send me to the gas chamber. I felt that my case was hopeless and that I'd better try to save my life."

DEPRESSING WAR REPORTS CAUSE FALL IN STOCKS

Heaviest Decline in Months Suffered by Market.

New York, June 22 (AP).—Depressed mainly by the war news, the stock market today suffered one of its worst setbacks in several months altho selling pressure was light.

Prices slipped at the start as sentiment apparently was affected by the collapse of Tobruk, the critical position of the Russians at Sevastopol, and a slight darkening of the situation in the Pacific.

Steels, motors, mail orders, farm implements, and aircrafts led the retreat with declines of fractions to 3 points. Extreme setbacks were reduced in many cases in the final hour. Rails, oils, coppers, and utilities put up fair resistance.

Stock Average Lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .5 of a point at 35.1. The composite was down about a full point from the June top. Transfers totaled 313,000 shares, compared with 287,510 last Friday.

The lack of real liquidating urgency was encouraging to financial quarters who saw in this further confirmation that securities were being held largely by investors rather than in-and-out traders. Lack of bids on the lightening of commitments was thought to have accounted for the wider losses in numerous instances.

Steels, Autos Lower.

Prominent in decline were United States Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse Electric, Allied Chemical, Eastman Kodak, Philip Morris, and United States Gypsum. American Telephone more than halved an initial loss of more than a point.

Santa Fe and General Electric were among the few leaders with modest gains.

CHICAGO STOCKS DROP.

The Chicago Stock exchange yesterday experienced its most severe price declines in several weeks. Trading continued light at 11,000 shares. Of the 77 issues traded, 10 advanced, 50 declined, and 17 closed unchanged. Commonwealth Edison, volume leader with 1,100 shares, declined ¼ to 20⅛. Among other more active stocks, General Motors declined ⅝, Swift & Co. was unchanged, and Indiana Steel Products declined ⅛.

Commodities

Cotton futures rose to the highest levels in two weeks yesterday, closing 40 to 70 cents a bale above Saturday's prices. The increase came as traders saw in the war news indications that the government would continue for some time to need large quantities of cotton cloth. Trading in wool futures was irregular and narrow. Final prices were 0.3 of a cent higher to 0.1 lower.

WHEAT LOWER; REGAINS PART OF EARLY DROP

Other Grain Prices Mixed; Report Hedging Sales.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

Unfavorable war news dominated grain markets on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. Wheat fell more than a cent a bushel in early trading but wiped out most of the decline later.

Wheat closed ⅛ to ⅜ cent lower with July at $1.18¾ a bushel. Corn futures were unchanged to ¼ cent lower; rye, ⅜ to ½ cent higher, and oats unchanged. July soy bean contracts were ¼ cent lower and deferred deliveries 1⅛ cents higher.

Weather Delays Harvest.

Altho wet weather is reported delaying harvest of the new winter wheat crop in parts of the southwest, farmers have been able to resume work in other sections. Brokers reported scattered selling of futures which indicated hedging. This suggested to them that all new wheat was not going into storage under government loans, despite the fact that producers can get 10 cents or more a bushel more by obtaining a loan.

Reports are current that the government is in the flour market and there was buying of futures regarded as against this business. Trade reports said about 100,000 barrels of flour were sold by a northwestern mill.

Hot Weather Needed.

Grain men said that dry and hot weather are needed to permit completion of soy beans planting in central Illinois. In the Decatur area about 10 to 15 per cent remains to be done. Dealers say there is an ample supply of old crop seed beans in farmers' hands.

Corn, oats, and rye rallied in sympathy with wheat and soy beans, and on the development of a firm undertone to the cotton market. Reports from Washington were pessimistic in regard to the farm bloc being able to put thru legislation for a loan of 100 per cent of parity on this year's crops.

Butter Futures Decline to Tie the Season's Low

Hedge selling lowered butter futures as much as .4 cent on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday as the November delivery dropped to 37.05 cents a pound, even with the seasonal low. Heavy receipts of fresh butter and easier wholesale prices were major weakening factors. Egg futures closed .1 cent lower, with Octobers at 33.7 cents a dozen.

WARD DISPUTES WLB AUTHORITY IN LABOR ISSUE

Asserts No War Job Is Involved.

Sewell Avery, president of Montgomery Ward & Co., announced yesterday that the company has filed with the War Labor board a statement outlining the company's stand in a labor dispute at its Chicago mail order house and main retail store, and protesting against the board taking jurisdiction in the case.

John A. Barr, manager of labor relations for the company, filed the statement reviewing the dispute, which involves the United Mail Order, Warehouse, and Retail Employés' union, local 20, CIO. The National Labor Relations board certified the union last Feb. 28 as exclusive bargaining agent for employés of two separate bargaining units. One unit includes employés of the mail order house, excepting employés in the administration building at 619 West Chicago avenue and certain others. The other unit includes employés of the adjacent retail store.

Challenges Jurisdiction.

Challenging the WLB's assumption of jurisdiction, Ward said that the board "is wholly without authority, because the dispute does not involve work which contributes to effective prosecution of the war."

"Ward also objects," the statement said, "to the board's attempting to determine the chief issue of the dispute, the closed shop, because the closed shop, in any form, is illegal unless voluntarily agreed to by the employer.

"Various questions were raised and discussed at the bargaining meetings between representatives of the union and of Ward. The parties were in agreement on some of these questions, while no agreement was reached as to others. These other matters, however, are not issues before the board, since the processes of bargaining and conciliation have not been exhausted."

Contract Was Offered.

The first bargaining meeting was held March 25, 1942, and the union presented a list of 20 demands, including the closed shop, the dues checkoff, an arbitration clause, strict seniority and a blanket wage increase, the company said. The company, the statement said, presented a proposed contract April 13.

The statement then outlined the company's stand on the major issues as follows:

"The union demands that Ward check off union dues and make membership in the union a condition of employment.

"The closed shop is contrary to the fundamental American principles of liberty and freedom. It is economically unsound because it tends to create a monopoly of labor. Maintenance of membership and the checkoff are illegal under the terms of the national labor relations act.

"The union demands that layoffs be determined on the basis of length of service alone. Ward is opposed to this. Employés' performance, ability, and experience must be considered also in determining both layoffs and promotions.

Calls Seniority Demand Illegal.

"The union demands that the stewards of the union be given top seniority in their departments. Ward should not discriminate against any employé or group of employés because of membership or nonmembership in the union. The national labor relations act makes it illegal for Ward to give top seniority to union stewards.

"The union demands a wage increase of 15 cents an hour to all employés in the mail order house unit, with provision for automatic increases every three months based on increased cost of living.

"Business conditions, governmental regulations, competitive practices, and employé performance must be considered along with cost of living in fixing wage rates. A blanket wage increase would tend to be inflationary. All employés in the Chicago house for one year or more have received an average increase of more than 26 per cent in the last year. Those employed more than six months have received an average increase of more than 21 per cent."

Steel Company Purchases Land Adjacent to Plant

The International Rolling Mills Products company, 3356 West 51st street, yesterday bought 50,000 square feet adjoining its plant on the north, fronting 129 feet on Kedzie avenue. It was purchased thru J. H. Van Vlissingen & Co. from the Phipps Industrial Land trust for $24,000. A one story steel pickling plant [where scale and rust are removed by chemical bath] will be built as soon as priorities can be secured, it was said.

TREASURY BORROWING GOAL FOR 2 MONTHS NEARLY 4½ BILLIONS

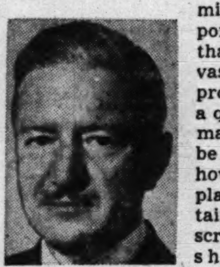
Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—Secretary Henry Morgenthau estimated today that treasury borrowing, thru the sale of regular securities, will total between 3¾ billion and 4½ billion dollars in July and August.

These borrowings are in addition to the sale of war bonds, for which the treasury has set a goal of a billion dollars a month in July and August.

The treasury announced today that subscriptions totaling 3 billion 113 million dollars were received last week for 1½ billion of ⅝ per cent certificates of indebtedness.

Requests for $25,000 or less were filled in full. Other investors were allotted 50 per cent, but not less than $25,000.

Lack of Plates Held Only Bar to Ship Output



Col. W. F. Rockwell.

Col. Willard F. Rockwell, director of production for the Maritime commission, told reporters yesterday that the nation's vast shipbuilding program "is not a question of how many ships can be produced, but how much steel plate can be obtained." He described the plate shortage as a "constant struggle to spread out supplies" among the various shipyards so as to maintain production evenly and said that in some instances plate has been shipped from the west coast to the east coast.

Col. Rockwell is attending the war problems conference of the American Water Works association in the Stevens hotel. He is president of the Pittsburgh Equitable Meter company. He said he plans to inspect Chicago plants manufacturing materials and equipment for the Maritime commission while he is here.

Urges Larger Production.

Col. Rockwell said the solution to the plate problem lies in increased steel mill production and the uncovering of excessive inventories which can be diverted to shipyards. He said that last month more than 30 per cent of all the steel plate produced in the United States went into the commission's program and estimated that the monthly minimum needed is 330,000 tons.

The building program calling for 9 million tons of commercial shipping in 1942 should be completed on schedule, he said. Two million tons have been completed, he disclosed, which will mean a goal of more than a million tons a month, or an average of three ships a day to the end of the year. The 1943 goal is 20 million tons.

Col. Rockwell said the only other major problem facing the commission is obtaining turbines for larger vessels. He said there is no difficulty in securing steam engines for the mass production of Liberty cargo ships.

Shipbuilding Speeded.

Praising the speed with which ships are being turned out, Col. Rockwell said one yard completed a Liberty ship in 48 days, compared with the contract time of 105 days and the 230 days required during the last war.

Col. Rockwell said it would be possible to build Liberty ships in Great Lakes yards, but that it would be difficult to get the ships to the sea either thru the St. Lawrence seaway or the Illinois waterway. He said that at present, at least, it is not feasible to consider plans for further use of Great Lakes shipbuilding facilities by the Maritime commission because of the plate shortage.

Members of the water works association will discuss such problems as the emergency repair of bombed water mains, guarding of plants and reservoirs and the purification of drinking water in military areas. The conference, which is the association's 62d annual meeting, will continue thru Thursday.

REQUESTS TAKEN FOR TENANCY IN 5 HOUSING UNITS

War workers may file rental applications with the Chicago Housing authority for living quarters in its five housing projects under construction, it was announced yesterday. These must be secured at the CHA tenant selection office, 1000 South Lytle street.

Only employés of a company working on a war contract, military or civilian personnel of the armed services, or those "who are essential to the successful prosecution of the war" will be eligible.

Other requirements to tenancy are: The applicant must have at least one child less than 17 years old; must be an American citizen, and must earn less than $1 an hour or $2,100 a year.

The five projects are Frances Cabrini homes, Chicago and Hudson avenues; Robert H. Brooks homes, Roosevelt road and Racine avenue; Maurice J. Dorney homes, Lowe avenue and 43d street; Colin P. Kelly homes, California avenue and 26th street, and an unnamed project at Lituanica avenue and 31st street.

REJECT 2 MOVES FOR FEDERAL TAX ON BANK CHECKS

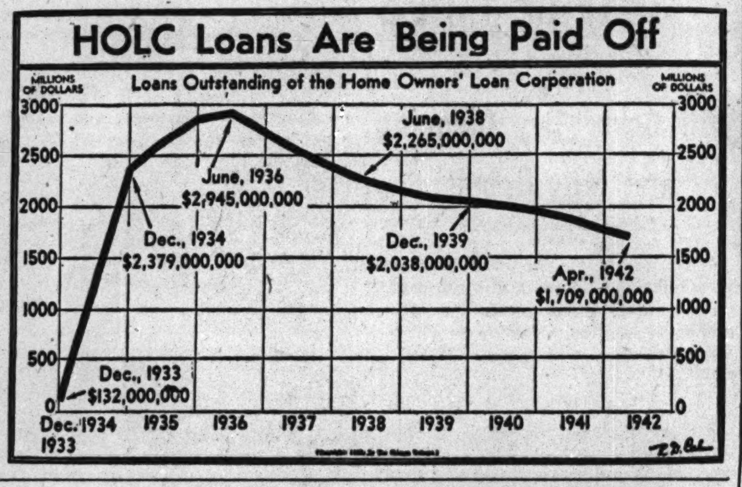
Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—The house ways and means committee rejected today two proposals to tax bank checks. One contemplated a tax of one-hundredth of 1 per cent on money withdrawn from banks; the other a 2 cent tax on each check.

Nearing completion of new tax legislation, the committee approved a series of relief provisions for corporations which might suffer particular hardships under proposed new corporate tax rates.

Altho details were not disclosed, Rep. A. Willis Robertson [D., Va.] said three provisions dealt with cases where there was [1] marked diminution of production in the 1936-1939 base period used in computing excess profits taxes by the average earnings method, [2] reduced income because of temporary economic conditions and [3] reduced income because of generally prevailing conditions in the industry.

Ogden Corp. Plans Private Sale of Subsidiary Bonds

Philadelphia, Pa., June 22 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission announced today an application had been filed by the Ogden corporation for approval of the sale to an insurance company of $2,500,000 of 5 per cent refunding and extension mortgage bonds of its subsidiary, the Laclede Gas Light company of St. Louis, Mo. The sale price was placed at 99 per cent of principal amount plus accrued interest from April 1.



Igoe Predicts Windup of Car Merger Jan. 1

BY LAURENCE BURD.

Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe yesterday confirmed Chicago's 179 million dollar transit merger plan and ordered its submission to the Illinois Commerce commission for approval.

Approval of the program by the state commission is required under state laws before a final transfer of the properties to a single unified company can be ordered by the court.

Judge Igoe predicted that if the commission sanctions the merger plan the unified company, to be made up of the surface and elevated lines, can be formed before Jan. 1. The new company will be in a position at that time, the court said, to start operating the city-owned State street subway, which city officials hope to have built by the year-end.

Names Five Man Committee.

The court yesterday named a five man committee to submit the unification program to the commerce commission. The members, all lawyers, are: William P. Sidley, Henry F. Tenney, and William J. Friedman, representing surface lines' securities interests, and Francis X. Busch and Thomas L. Marshall, representing elevated lines' interests. The committee was directed to report its progress to the court at least every 60 days.

In approving the traction plan, the court overruled all objections submitted yesterday and previously by a minority of securities holders of both the surface and "L" lines. Holders of more than 90 per cent of the transit securities already have accepted the program.

Objections were made chiefly by owners of junior securities, which are wiped out under the program and are not slated to receive any securities in the unified company.

Distribution of Stock.

The plan provides for the distribution of $136,000,000 in new securities to present surface lines' investors and $43,000,000 of securities to present "L" owners.

Members of the five man committee predicted it will take several weeks to prepare the transit plan for submission to the commerce commission. The program was submitted to the commission in February to meet the requirements of federal statutes, but at that time the commissioners refused to approve or disapprove the plan until it had been voted on by securities owners and until the city's traction unification ordinance had been adopted at referendum. At the public referendum June 1 the voters of Chicago approved the merger ordinance by a 10 to 1 margin.

ICKES SUGGESTS BOOST IN JULY OIL PRODUCTION

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—Petroleum Coördinator Harold L. Ickes recommended today a daily production of 3,833,800 barrels of petroleum in the United States during July, an increase of 200,000 barrels daily over the recommended rate for June.

Most of the increase, Ickes said, was made possible by the improvement of pipe line, barge, and rail transportation facilities out of the gulf coast area.

The recommended July production for Texas was increased to 1,214,400 barrels from 1,068,600 for June, but the Illinois figure was reduced to 304,100 barrels from 324,800 for June.

SHERIDAN CRITICIZES WAGES AND HOURS ACT AS APPLIED TO LOFTS

Detroit, Mich., June 22 (AP).—Leo J. Sheridan of Chicago, president of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, assailed the federal wages and hours act in the opening session of the organization's 35th annual convention here today.

Leo J. Sheridan.

"If all commercial buildings are adjudged to be engaged in interstate commerce," he told the delegates, "their owners are now liable for the payment of accrued overtime wages amounting to millions of dollars.

"It is doubtless safe to say that many owners of such properties do not have the money to make such restitution and many of them would be totally unable to do so. Application of the law to commercial buildings in general would mean bankruptcy for thousands."

Sheridan based his address upon a decision of the United States Supreme court which held that owners and employés of loft buildings in which manufacturing for commerce is carried on are engaged in interstate commerce and hence subject to the act.

STOCKS OF TWO FIRMS SEIZED FROM GERMANS

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—The alien property custodian today took over from German nationals controling stocks of the Nirosta corporation, New York City, and the Lingner corporation, Chicago, in addition to five German copyrights and copyright claims which will be made available to the armed services.

The Nirosta corporation licenses patents relating to alloy and stainless steel acquired from Friedrich Krupp of Essen, Germany.

The Lingner corporation controls trademarks, patents, secret formulas and manufacturing processes of the Odol Chemical company. These formerly were owned by Lingnerwerke, A. G., of Berlin.

Among the seized copyrights and copyright claims were several dealing with geography and climatology. Custodian Leo Crowley also seized the copyright to "20th Century Myths" by Alfred Rosenberg, one of the basic texts of Nazi philosophy.

DENIES CONNECTION.

P. J. Seger, secretary of the Odol Chemical corporation, 417 South Dearborn street, said the Lingner corporation of Delaware is an inactive firm and is not connected with the Odol corporation.

Army Awards Contracts for 3 Million Pairs of Shoes

Boston, Mass., June 22 (AP).—The army announced today awards of contracts for the manufacture of 2,900,000 pairs of service shoes. The contracts were distributed among all of the larger manufacturers and many smaller concerns.

Business Failures Rise to 180 for Latest Week

New York, June 22 (AP).—Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today business failures rose to 180 in the week ended June 18, compared with 173 the preceding week.

NEW PRIORITIES PLAN EXPECTED TO SPEED WORK

All Volume Metal Users Affected.

Priorities regulations No. 10 and No. 11, which become effective July 1, were described yesterday by Chicago War Production board officials as the "most sweeping changes" in the priorities system since it was instituted.

Regulation No. 10 establishes the classification allocation system, under which symbols placed on purchase orders and contracts will show at a glance the kind of product for which the material will be used. No. 11 makes the production requirements plan, in effect on a voluntary basis since Jan. 11, mandatory for all companies processing metals and using more than $5,000 of metals in a quarter.

Will Cut Much Red Tape.

Chicago WPB officials said principal results of the new order will be:

1. Much red tape will be eliminated, with resulting savings in clerical work to companies and to the government, and a speeding up of priorities routine.

2. Government officials will have a better knowledge of how materials are being used.

3. The production requirements plan gives the government absolute control over materials, eliminates much of the uncertainty of manufacturers, and enables manufacturers to maintain a 45 day inventory.

Affects All New Orders.

Under the allocation classification system, the symbols must be placed on all purchase orders or contracts entered after June 30 or calling for delivery of materials after July 31. Numbers will designate the kind of product for which the material will be used, and letters will indicate the general type of purchasers to which delivery will be made.

The 23 classes of products range from 1.00 for aircraft to 23.00 for end uses not otherwise classified. The number before the decimal indicates the general classification, and the number after the decimal the subdivision. Number 6.00, for example, is war equipment and supplies, while 6.40 indicates a subdivision, namely medical equipment and supplies.

The five purchasers' symbols are: USA, the army; USN, the navy; LL, lend-lease; FP, other foreign purchasers, and DP, domestic purchasers. Thus a navy order for medical equipment would be designated USN, 6.40.

Retailers Excepted.

This order applies to manufacturers, fabricators, primary producers, and others, except retailers and purchases by distributors for resale.

Under the production requirements plan, those processing more than $5,000 worth of metals a quarter must file an application by June 30. On the basis of their previous quarter's operations; and estimated demands for the new quarter, they will be assigned priorities ratings for the metals they need in the coming three months.

One of the provisions of the plan most important to the manufacturer, Chicago WPB officials said, is that it will permit him to build up a 45 day inventory. At least 17,000 of the nation's manufacturers, and possibly considerably more, must come under the plan July 1. About 7,000 voluntarily operated under it during the first two quarters, WPB officials estimated.

PHILIP MORRIS SALES, EARNINGS BREAK RECORDS

Record sales and earnings for the fiscal year ended March 31 were reported yesterday by Philip Morris & Co., Ltd. Sales amounted to $112,565,201, a 29 per cent gain over the preceding year, and earnings totaled $7,792,565, equal to $8 a share, compared with $7,360,669, or $8.14 a share. An increase in preferred stock accounted for the decline in common stock earnings.

Corporation net incomes reported yesterday follow:

Price Rule Trims Production Costs, OPA Official Asserts

Price ceilings have resulted in cost trimmings by manufacturers rather than the cost padding induced by the "cost plus 10 per cent" production system adopted in the World war, John C. Weigel, Chicago regional administrator of the Office of Price Administration, told members of the National Association of Cost Accountants yesterday. The organization is holding its 23d international cost conference in the Palmer House.

Weigel asserted that under price ceilings manufacturers must reduce costs in order to realize profits. The selling price is fixed, he said, and the margin between costs and sales is smaller than before.

Time to Simplify.

"These are times for further simplification of product, for a thoro analysis to eliminate the unprofitable items, for standardization, for trimming expenditures, for eliminating the frills which in normal times of a free economy may be desirable, but which cut profits in wartime," the OPA official declared.

Weigel described price control and rationing as "two of the greatest powers we have over inflation." He told the cost accountants that accountancy has taken and is continuing to take an important part in developing and maintaining price schedules.

"That these schedules have stood up so well is a tribute to the spread of cost accounting in our economy since the last war and the part the cost accountant has played in that development," Weigel said.

Recalls Earlier Experience.

"We have come far since the 'cost plus 10 per cent' of the last war. At that time it was expected to stimulate production. Today we know that production actually went down despite the increase in the index figure of wholesale raw material prices."

Edward A. Gould, administrator of the WPB allocation clarification system also addressed the association.

The Chicago Better Business bureau notified Weigel yesterday of the start of an educational compaign in which the nation's 82 business bureaus will keep retailers informed of the OPA's maximum price regulations. Kenneth Barnard, general manager of the Chicago bureau and a co-director of the campaign, said radio and other publicity facilities will be used.

British Boost Wartime Food Output to 60%

Use of modern farming machinery and the employment of vast numbers of women has enabled Great Britain to produce 60 per cent of its reduced food requirements under its rationing program, Charles Bosanquet, assistant British minister of agriculture said yesterday. Before the war Great Britain produced only 40 per cent of its food, importing the rest.

Bosanquet, who recently became his country's principal lend-lease and priority officer at Washington, spoke to the Agricultural Club of Chicago at a luncheon at the Morrison hotel.

Unfit Are Removed.

Under Great Britain's agricultural program, every farmer is classified as an A, B or C farmer. A "C" farmer is one who is not good enough and must be made better or taken off the farm and put into another kind of work. Bosanquet said the ministry of agriculture had "turned a goodly number" off their farms.

The ministry of agriculture has a card index of every farm in the British Isles. Each farmer is told what crops to plant, what cattle to raise and when his work should be done. The ministry of agriculture owns and operates most of the farming machinery. It operates a fleet of 7,000 tractors driven by women who travel around the country doing much of the farm work.

Must Sell All Eggs.

No matter how many eggs a farmer's hen may lay, he must sell them all to the government and then buy back at a higher price the two eggs a month he is allotted under rationing, Bosanquet said. The farmer's rations are the same as the city worker's, except he gets slightly more cheese.

Altho food rationing has put many hardships on the people, the agriculture minister said that "national health has not suffered in any way from the rationing program. Many authorities believe it is better now than before the war."

Deaths in Industry Climb 12 Pct. in Wartime Speedup

An increase of 12 per cent in industrial accident deaths in 23 states reporting to the National Safety council for the first five months of 1942 was attributed yesterday to expanding employment and the faster tempo of war industries. The May deaths of 781 represented an increase of 11 per cent over May, 1941. Sixty-two industrial accident deaths were reported in Illinois.

SENATE ADOPTS BILL TO PERMIT MERGER OF TELEGRAPH COMPANIES

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—The senate approved today legislation which would permit a merger of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies.

Sen. Ernest W. McFarland [D., Ariz.] said the measure authorizing the voluntary consolidation and merger of all domestic telegraph operations was "soundly in the public interest." He said the Postal Telegraph company was "going in the hole" at a rate of $300,000 monthly, while Western Union suffered "great losses in recent years."

McFarland, author of the bill which now goes to the house, asserted that the merger would release large amounts of critical materials to the war department.

"Obviously," he declared, "Postal cannot survive without government subsidy. The merger will provide a much more efficient communications system."

TVA REVOLVING FUND RESTORED BY SENATE VOTE

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—The senate formally receded late today from an amendment designed to strip the Tennessee Valley authority of its revolving fund and sent the $2,090,885,128 independent offices appropriations bill containing TVA funds to the White House.

Earlier, the house had receded from an amendment designed to prohibit payment of any of the funds as salary to Goodwin Watson, head of the foreign broadcast section of the Federal Communications commission.

The fight over the senate amendment, proposed by Sen. Kenneth McKellar [D., Tenn.] to alter TVA's financial procedure ended last week when senate conferees agreed to recommend abandonment of it to permit early enactment of the appropriations bill.

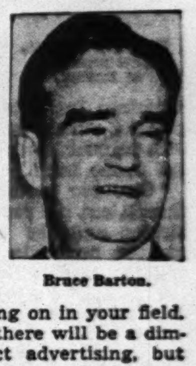
Resume Work on Freight Cars at Pullman Factory

Production of freight cars needed in army transportation was resumed at the Michigan City, Ind., plant of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company yesterday following a week's shutdown over a labor dispute. Members of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America [AFL] voted Friday to end the strike and return to work after the army threatened to turn the car building contract over to other manufacturers.

ADS HAVE VITAL WARTIME ROLE, F. D. R. ASSERTS

Method to Inform Public, He Says.

New York, June 22 (AP).—President Roosevelt said today that "the desire for liberty and freedom can be strengthened by reiteration of their benefits" thru advertising.



Bruce Barton.

In a message to the 38th annual convention of the Advertising Federation of America, the President said:

"It is obvious that there are many changes going on in your field. For the duration there will be a diminution in product advertising, but this does not mean an end of advertising.

"There are many messages which should be given the public thru the use of advertising space. The desire for liberty and freedom can be strengthened by reiteration of their benefits.

Has Patriotic Place.

"If the members of your organization will, wherever possible, assist in the war program and continue the splendid spirit of coöperation which they have shown during the last year, advertising will have a worthwhile and patriotic place in the nation's total war effort."

Bruce Barton, president of Batten, Barten, Durstine, and Osborn, New York, declared in the convention keynote address that the American people were "having a taste of totalitarianism" by relinquishing many things and "are cheerfully determined to continue this self-denial for the duration" of the war.

"But let any man or group of men after the war suggest that this regimentation be permanent, and he or they will find themselves promptly separated from the public pay roll," Barton added.

Know Democracy Is Best.

"In the good days of peace we thought democracy was the best form of government; now, having lost it temporarily, we know it is best, and we want it promptly restored."

Reports that American ports were blocked by accumulated goods were denied by Director Joseph B. Eastman of the Office of Defense Transportation who said the ports "are in liquid condition."

"There are no present accumulations of railroad cars at the ports which are in any way alarming," he told the convention.

"Considerable overseas freight is in storage at the ports and elsewhere, but it is not being stored to any important extent in cars and so it is not interferring with the domestic movement of freight."

WPB ASKS STEEL SCRAP SHIPMENT RISE OF 15 PCT.

Alex Miller, chief of the WPB scrap unit, told 400 iron and steel scrap dealers in the Chicago area yesterday that a 15 per cent increase in shipments of scrap to the steel mills is needed immediately. He said such an increase would prevent any furnaces in the area from being shut down.

Cut Steel Mill Rate.

New York, June 22 (AP).—Lack of scrap forced steel mills this week to schedule operations at 98 per cent of capacity, compared with 98.3 per cent a week ago, the American Iron and Steel Institute reported today.

This advertisement does not constitute an offering. In Illinois, the offering is being made only by such registered dealers in that state as are participating in the issue.

SLASH RED TAPE, SEE OUTPUT RISE, SAYS PROFESSOR

Purdue Dean Terms U. S. War Goods the Best.

Harold S. Osborne, new president of institute.

American production engineers can and will give the nation's fighting forces superior equipment "in time and in plenty," Dr. D. D. Ewing, head of the Purdue university school of electrical engineering, asserted yesterday. But he warned against unnecessary handicaps from "burocratic meddling."

Dr. Ewing spoke before the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, which opened its five day 58th annual summer convention in the Drake hotel.

"Give our production engineers a chance, cut the red tape, pork barrel strings and the other fetters that hamper production, and 'too little and too late' will become a forgotten phrase," he said.

Changeover "Miraculous."

"To me the changeover in America has been little short of miraculous."

Dr. Ewing said persons not connected intimately with production fail to realize that retooling of plants is not a "holiday week job." This resulted, he continued, in too much unwarranted criticism of industry around the time of the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Our greatest assurance of victory, he declared, lies in the achievement, during the last 75 years, in the United States of a "greater abundance of the things that make life worth living" than in any other nation. Dr. Ewing said it has been computed that 75 per cent of the great modern inventions are of American origin.

Other Sessions Closed.

Most of the other sessions during the first day of the convention were closed. Addresses by two War Production board officials, J. E. Moore and E. Falck, were not released for publication.

The election of Harold S. Osborne, New York, plant engineer for the American Telephone and Telegraph company, to the institute presidency was announced. He succeeds David C. Prince, Schenectady, N. Y., vice president of General Electric company. T. G. LeClair, Chicago, was among those elected to the board of directors.

The Lamme medal for outstanding achievement in the field of electrical engineering was presented to Forrest E. Ricketts, vice president of Consolidated Gas Electric Light and Power company, Baltimore, Md.

WALKOUT CLOSES 4 BIG LAUNDRIES IN EAST ST. LOUIS

East St. Louis, Ill., June 22 [Special].—A strike of 220 AFL laundry workers closed this city's four big laundries today. Union employes demand 50 cents an hour, 15 cents above the current rate for a 48 hour week. Owners of the plants maintain that they cannot pay more without incurring losses under OPA price ceilings.

Resume Work on Ships.

Point Pleasant, W. Va., June 22—(AP).—Air hammers stilled last Tuesday by a walkout at the Marietta Manufacturing company plant pounded today against the steel hulls of ships being constructed for the army and navy, signalling an end to a six-day strike.

FEDERAL TAXES TOP 649 MILLION DOLLARS IN MAY

Washington, D. C., June 22 [Special].—Internal revenue collections in May totaled $649,867,376, compared with $541,110,582 last year, the treasury reported today. For the 11 months ended May 31, they totaled $10,603,354,648, an increase of almost 70 per cent over the corresponding period a year earlier.

The largest increases during the 11 months were in individual income taxes, which rose from $1,105,756,444 to $2,535,675,249, and in corporation income taxes, which increased from $1,381,894,361 to $2,259,401,861.

People and Events

William P. Redmond, district passenger agent of the Pennsylvania railroad, will be given the road's 50 year service award today by C. H. Redmond entered the service of the road as a clerk in the baggage department of the Chicago Union station June 21, 1892.

Edmund H. Eitel, manager of the Chicago WPB priorities office, announced three more production requirements plan clinics this week. They will be conducted by John McParland at 2 p. m. today, tomorrow, and Thursday in room 2500 of the Civic Opera building.

Belding D. Thorpe was installed as president of the Chicago Currency Exchange association yesterday at a dinner in the Medinah club.

Dr. Charles F. Phillips of Syracuse, N. Y., former economics professor at Colgate university, was appointed director of the OPA automotive supply rationing division at Washington, D. C., with supervision over tire, passenger car, and bicycle rationing.

NEW OPA CEILING RULES DUE FOR SERVICE LINES

Will Cover Dry Cleaning and Auto Repair.

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—The Office of Price administration will issue shortly a complete new price ceiling regulation, effective July 1, for "retail services," including dry cleaning, shoe repair, laundry, tailoring, auto repair, and garage service.

The universal price order, as originally announced in April, covered both goods and services and was made effective for services on July 1, but price officials have decided, it was learned today, that separate treatment for the service industries was desirable.

March Basis to Be Kept.

OPA officials declined to disclose details of the pending order, but said that, in general, prices would be based on the March, 1942, levels prescribed by the universal price order. The new regulation is expected this week.

Professional services, such as those of doctors, dentists, and lawyers, are exempted from price control by the general price regulation. So also are personal services not connected with commodities, such as barber and beauty shops.

Drug and hardware stores, jewelers, and other retailers who must have statements of maximum prices on file for public inspection by July 1 may use catalogs or similar printed price lists, the OPA said today, as long as they include every item in stock which is covered by the ceiling.

Agree on Carrier Rules.

The Interstate Commerce commission announced it had reached an understanding with Price Administrator Leon Henderson that maximum charges prescribed by him for interstate contract carrier service would not be less than the minimum rate set by the ICC. Acting Chairman Clyde B. Aitchison said the ICC and OPA would coöperate in establishing the machinery necessary for effectuating the arrangement.

Henderson has fixed maximum charges of contract carriers at their highest March level in a general maximum price regulation already effective as to wholesale charges and scheduled to become effective for retail charges July 1.

CHICAGO BANK CLEARINGS

Chicago bank clearings last week were $422,400,000. As a result of a typographical error, the figure was wrongly reported in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE.

BUSINESS MACHINES.

Any information you have on International Business Machines will be appreciated.—G. F.

Answer: International Business Machines corporation is ranked the largest domestic manufacturer of electrically operated bookkeeping and accounting machines and specialized equipment for sorting, tabulating, and computing statistical data. The machines are used in practically all large industries and are installed chiefly on a rental basis, the rentals providing the major source of the company's income. An important source of revenue is the outright sale of other mechanical devices such as time recording mechanisms, industrial scales, electrical typewriters, and radiotype.

Since 1941 the company has undertaken large scale production of war materials for the government. Normal operations have been curtailed by government order. Prior to the war the company derived income and royalties from foreign subsidiaries. Such income has been drastically reduced as a result of enemy action.

The company was incorporated in New York in 1911. Capitalization is 990,116 shares of no par capital stock, and 2¼ per cent debentures outstanding in the sum of 17 million dollars. Two groups of plants are located in New York state.

A record of recent financial operations follows:

	Sales.	Net Income.	Per share.
1941	$62,928,975	$9,844,633	$10.44
1940	46,294,255	9,431,013	10.50
1939	39,474,982	9,092,692	10.63
1938	34,717,604	8,660,034	10.63
1937	31,787,241	8,082,513	10.42

The company paid dividends of $6 in each year from 1937 thru 1941. In addition, a 5 per cent stock dividend was paid in each of these years. From 1937 thru 1941 the stock has ranged from 127½ to 195¾.

Answer: The Wolverine Tube company has been sold to Calumet and Hecla Consolidated Copper for $2,690,361. The name of the acquired company has been changed to Wolverine Tube Division of Calumet and Hecla.

DIVIDEND OMITTED.

Answer: On April 1, 15 cents was disbursed on the common shares.

CATTLE PRICES REMAIN STEADY; HOGS STRONGER

Despite the announcement that the Office of Price administration would institute lower beef ceilings in wholesale channels July 13, there was not much change in the general level of cattle prices at the stockyards yesterday. In the opinion of members of the trade the cut was anticipated.

Most steers and yearlings sold steady to weak compared with last week's close, some indicating further slight reductions. The majority sold at $12.25 to $14.00 a hundred pounds.

A stronger undercurrent existed in most classes of hogs. The $14.50 top was paid for a shipment averaging 189 pounds. Hog prices averaged $14.30, the same as last Saturday.

Lamb prices were steady. The $15.40 top was paid for natives.

BANKERS DEFER POLICY RULE ON WAR INSURANCE

The executive committee of the trust division of the Illinois Bankers association met yesterday in the Palmer House to plan the division's activities for the year and to discuss its attitude toward the insurance program of the War Damage corporation.

Harry Hausman, secretary of the association, said the committee decided not to formulate a policy on the government insurance until further study. Some bankers have expressed the view that the WDC's rates on insurance of property against air raids and other war damage are too high for an inland area like Chicago. The rates are 10 to 75 cents a year for each $100 of insurance.

CHEMICAL FIRM PUTS NEW STOCK ON PUBLIC SALE

A new issue of 240,000 shares of common stock of Charles Pfizer & Co., Inc., chemicals manufacturer, will be offered today at $24.75 a share by a banking group headed by F. Eberstadt & Co. Stock of the company heretofore has been owned by employés.

Net proceeds, to be added to the company's general fund, will be used to pay $1,600,000 of bank loans, redeem all of preferred stock outstanding at $776,000, purchase $1,916,000 of common stock holdings of a deceased stockholder, and add $1,002,000 to working capital.

On completion of the financing there will be 500,000 shares of $1 par common outstanding.

Finish Financing for Big Kansas City Engine Plant

Washington, D. C., June 22 (AP).—Sen. Harry S. Truman [D., Mo.] said today he had been notified by the Reconstruction Finance corporation that financing had been completed for a new factory at [illegible] to make naval aircraft engines. The plant, he said, would be operated by United Engine corporation and would cost approximately 80 million dollars.

PIANO FIRM'S PLANTS TURN TO WAR WORK; SPEED CHANGEOVER

The 1,000 employés of the W. W. Kimball company's three Chicago plants are expected to be back at work on war production by Aug. 1, and the piano company's employment may eventually reach 3,000, W. W. Kimball, vice president, said last night.

About a third of the 1,000 workers normally employed are temporarily idle while facilities of the company, one of the nation's largest piano manufacturers in peace time, are being converted to war work. All production of pianos and organs will end July 31 under a WPB decree.

Kimball said one section of the company's facilities has been working on war items for a number of months, and that the piano division has been in the process of conversion for two months.

The company is negotiating with aircraft manufacturers for contracts covering production of plastic bonded wood parts, Kimball said, but he declined to discuss details.
